Looking Back.....

A sell out crowd at the April luncheon was introduced to Chef Caleb Warr at the new Athletic Center. Chef Caleb demonstrated how to prepare and present the popular menu item, the grain bowl. There was a mixture of grains, vegetables, and protein—all beautifully presented and delicious. Soup and a delectable flourless chocolate cake completed his menu.

It was the perfect antidote to a cold week by gathering with friends to celebrate Spring.

Looking Ahead.....

Please see the next page for a description of our enlightening May luncheon.

Looking Ahead.....

Please join us for lunch on Tuesday, May 8 with an educational and illuminating presentation to follow.

Climate dynamics, rising oceans, fisheries, marine mammals and their environment, coastal ecology, piping plovers habitat. . . . these are just a small sample of the many marine studies in which Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute (WHOI) is involved.

On our way to a restaurant or a shop in the quaint village of Woods Hole, it's easy to pass the brick buildings of WHOI without thinking about the exciting research and studies that are always going on there. Many of us may not even be aware of the worldwide impact felt from the ongoing work by the scientists, investigators, and students in those buildings and on the exploration vessels. The harbor seals who inhabit the outdoor pool are a great public exhibit that does not give a clue to the serious studies that are going on inside.

Please join us to hear all about this incredible scientific resource right in our backyard!

Please see attached flyer and make your reservation today!

Still Looking Ahead.

Mark your calendars. You don't want to miss our fun June luncheon on Wednesday, June 13. After lunch, an emcee, will host a Trivia Game—Guests will be divided into teams and prizes will be awarded. Bring your smartest friends to this don't-miss event.

Details to follow in next newsletter.
