

NEGOTIATING HOME AND BELONGING

UBUNTU AND CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY

FRIDAY, MARCH 13
7:00–9:00PM

Eckhardt-Gramatté Hall,
3rd floor Centennial Hall
The University of Winnipeg,
515 Portage Avenue

Admission is free and open to the public.

Ubuntu is a Southern African philosophy, of interconnectedness, “I am because you are,” but how can this be lived out in daily life? How is civic duty inspired by the concept of Ubuntu?

Dr. Eliakim Sibanda will discuss the importance and challenges of engaged citizenship in his upcoming lecture, Split the baby? Land of our Roots, Diaspora and the New Land, a Solomonian Challenge?

Dr. Sibanda is a globally acclaimed advocate for human rights, peace, and justice. He is a history professor, and co-chair of The University of Winnipeg/University of Manitoba Joint Master's Degree program in peace and conflict studies.

The Igbo Educational Lecture Series is co-presented by UWinnipeg's Global College and the Umunna (Igbo) Cultural Association of Manitoba Inc.
