New on The Truth About Wagoner County: OKDOT's SH-51/ Muskogee Turnpike Interchange Project

The Truth About Wagoner County has added a new page dedicated to one of the area's most talked-about transportation projects—the proposed SH-51/Muskogee Turnpike interchange.

This new page brings together information about the proposed interchange, including maps, project history, planning documents, and other resources to help residents better understand what has been proposed and how it could impact Wagoner County. The page also examines questions and concerns that have been raised by community members regarding traffic, development, property impacts, infrastructure, and the long-term effects the project could have on the surrounding area.

Whether you support the project, oppose it, or are simply looking for more information, this page is designed to provide a central location where residents can review the available information and make informed decisions for themselves. As additional information becomes available, the page will continue to be updated with new documents, maps, and relevant resources.

Take a few minutes to explore the new SH-51/Muskogee Turnpike Interchange page and learn more about one of the most significant transportation projects being discussed in Wagoner County today.

Go to the Municipalities page and under City of Coweta look for Muskogee/SH51 Interchange Project and click on that title. Or you can go directly to the page by going to the following link:

Did You Know? Wagoner County Has an Online Directory of Nearly 80 Cemeteries

Every cemetery has a story to tell.

Behind every headstone is a life lived—a veteran who served our country, a pioneer who helped settle the land, a child remembered too soon, or a family whose roots stretch back generations in Wagoner County.

What many people don't know is that the Wagoner County Clerk's Office maintains a free online directory of nearly 80 cemeteries located throughout Wagoner County, making it easier than ever to explore our local history. The Clerk's Office deserves recognition for preserving this valuable resource and continuing to keep the information available for the public.

Whether you're researching your family tree, looking for the grave of a loved one, studying local history, or simply curious about the communities that came before us, this resource is an incredible place to start.

The cemetery directory is organized alphabetically and includes detailed PDF records for each cemetery. Depending on the location, you'll find information such as cemetery maps, directions, historical notes, surveys of existing headstones, and burial records that have been compiled over many years. These records are an invaluable resource for genealogists, historians, students, and anyone interested in preserving Wagoner County's heritage.

The continued efforts of the Wagoner County Clerk's Office to maintain and update these records help ensure that future generations will have access to an important part of our county's history. As weather, time, and changing landscapes take their toll on older cemeteries, preserving these records becomes even more important.

You might even discover something unexpected—a family connection, the resting place of a military veteran, or the history behind a cemetery you've driven past for years without ever knowing its story.

History isn't just found in museums or history books. Sometimes it's found along a quiet country road, beneath weathered headstones that continue to tell the story of Wagoner County and the people who built our communities.

A sincere thank you to the Wagoner County Clerk's Office for making this information available and for their ongoing commitment to preserving our county's history through this outstanding public resource.

Take a few minutes to explore the Wagoner County Cemetery Directory—you never know what piece of Wagoner County history you might discover.
