PMC X-TAC 5.56 NATO Ammo 55 Grain FMJ

PMC X-TAC .223/5.56 NATO ammunition is derived from (and more powerful than) the .223 Rem cartridge. This rifle ammunition is one of the most popular ammo types used in AR-15s. The full metal jacket construction of the cartridge is an affordable choice for high volume range training. The boat-tail design of this 5.56 bullet is used by the military due to better aerodynamics and therefore a longer effective range and higher accuracy than the original flat-base design. The reloadable brass makes this 5.56 round an even better deal.

PMC X-TAC 5.56 NATO M855 AmmoGreen Tip FMJ 62 Grain

PMC X-TAC 5.56 NATO round contains the M855 penetrator bullet, which is a steel-tipped lead core design. This 5.56 bullet deforms less on impact than standard full metal jacket rounds, has increased stability and accuracy, and transfers less energy on target. This PMC 5.56 NATO ammo fires from most AR-15 rifles and is a great, relatively affordable choice for range training or hunting.
