

Avoid Mistakes in Buying Long-Term Care Insurance

---

Provided to you by:

John Kotic

---

CFP® CEPA®

Avoid Mistakes in Buying Long-Term Care Insurance

Written by Financial Educators

Provided to you by

John Kostic

CFP® CEPA®

CA #0B52656

Do You Need Long-Term Care Insurance?

Maybe-Maybe not.

Statistics indicate that over half of all people over age 65 will require long-term care. In fact, the most current research statistics are below<sup>1</sup>.

- More than half of people turning 65 who will have a long-term care need during their lifetimes. The average duration of nursing-home stay for men is 11 months. The average duration of nursing-home stay for women is 17 months.
- Females face a 58% probability of having at least one nursing home stay, compared to 47% for males.
- The probability of needing more than one year in a nursing home: men 22%, women 36%.

With such a great risk, doesn't everyone need insurance? After all, the cost of long-term care can run $7,756 or more monthly in

---

<sup>1</sup> Morningstar "75 Must-Know Statistics About Long-Term Care" 8/31/17
<http://news.morningstar.com/articlenet/article.aspx?id=823957>

some locations.<sup>2</sup> The truth is, you may or may not need to buy insurance.

It comes down to the various income and asset resources you have available to you. To illustrate this, let's take a look at the varying needs of three general groups:

- Low Resources
- High Resources
- Medium Resources

These groups are organized according to their income and asset resources. When reviewing this information, please keep in mind that nursing home costs and Medicaid qualification rules can vary widely from location to location.<sup>3</sup> As everyone's situation is different, the need for insurance can also vary among people within the same resource group.

Low Resources: This group has countable assets that are at or below the spend down limits imposed by their state Medicaid rules. Additionally, this group typically has monthly income below the average nursing home costs for the state where they live. In many cases, people that fall within this group will qualify for Medicaid without having to spend down their assets.

Countable assets include such things as cash, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, cash value insurance policies, CDs, boats, jewelry, and real estate investments.<sup>4</sup> In most states, you will only qualify for Medicaid if you have no more than $2,000 in countable assets.<sup>5</sup>

---

<sup>2</sup> Genworth Long Term Care Costs - Cost of Care Survey 2020, national median semi-private room cost of $7756 monthly.
<https://www.genworth.com/aging-and-you/finances/cost-of-care.html>

<sup>3</sup> Medicaid eligibility varies by state Longtermcare.gov
<https://longtermcare.acl.gov/medicare-medicaid-more/medicaid/index.html> 1/3/21

<sup>4</sup> SSI and Spousal Impoverishment Standards for 2021 <https://bit.ly/2LFAemn>

<sup>5</sup> ibid.

Spouses of a nursing home resident who still live in the family home are allowed to retain countable assets up to $130,380 for 2021, depending on the Medicaid rules in their state.<sup>6</sup> The Medicaid rules will allow the live-at-home spouse (also referred to as the "community spouse") to retain the family residence, a vehicle, and a modest amount of other assets for their support. The Medicaid rules also establish a monthly support allowance to help community spouses meet their living needs, and this allowance is up to $3,259.50 per month for 2021 depending on state law.<sup>7</sup>

This means that if the community spouse's income falls below the allowance, the state will then allow the community spouse to keep an amount equal to the difference from the resident spouse's income. On the other hand, a community spouse is usually not allowed to retain any income from the resident spouse if their income exceeds the allowance.

In some cases, even this group might want to consider the insurance if the monthly allowance is below the community spouse's living needs.

AARP offers this advice:

"Long-term care insurance makes sense for those who earn good salaries, have accumulated assets they want to protect and have planned for a comfortable retirement. TheStreet.com Ratings says households with annual income of at least $50,000 to $75,000 and assets of $150,000, not including a car or house, might want to consider a policy. Financial planners typically recommend it for their clients, who tend to earn more."<sup>8</sup>

---

<sup>6</sup> ibid.

<sup>7</sup> ibid.

<sup>8</sup> AARP Bulletin 12/06 "Pursuing Peace of Mind."

High Resources: This group has sufficient monthly income to support the community spouse's living needs and to cover the monthly nursing home costs in their area (which will vary from location to location). Alternatively, this group may have enough countable assets set aside to meet a three to five year nursing home stay ($240,000 to $400,000 per spouse, depending on nursing home costs in their community).<sup>9</sup> Many of these people, still do, however, obtain insurance because it can help them protect their estate from being reduced by a long-term care need. Most importantly, it can give them some added assurance by providing a separate source of funds to be used for long-term care needs.

Medium Resources: This is the group that often needs the insurance. This group of people has countable assets that exceed the Medicaid limits, but they don't make enough money to cover the monthly costs of nursing home care in their area. Another thing that separates this group from those with high resources is that they lack a separate source of assets to cover an extended stay in a nursing home. For this group, having to come up with $7,756 per month over a long-term period could potentially deplete their estate or create an economic hardship for the community spouse. If you are in this group, you should consider long-term care insurance. This insurance could help secure your financial independence. It can also help to preserve cherished assets for spouses and younger family members.

When Should You Get Insurance?

Assuming that long-term care protection is needed, you may want to buy this coverage as soon as possible. The longer you wait, the

---

<sup>9</sup> Genworth Long Term Care Costs - Cost of Care Survey 2020, national median semi-private room cost of $7756 monthly.

<https://www.genworth.com/aging-and-you/finances/cost-of-care.html>

more expensive it gets.<sup>10</sup>

Some people ask me if they would be better off saving money to prepare for a long-term care need rather than investing in insurance. However, you might not be able to save enough to cover your long-term care needs. Let's say that at age 60, instead of paying a premium of $1,628 annually for insurance, you started saving $1,628 per year for your future long-term care needs. Say you started your program in 2014 planning for 2034.

If we assume for illustration purposes that your savings produced a net return of 5% per year, your accumulated savings would be $56,523 at the end of 20 years. However, in the year 2034 the cost of the average stay in a nursing home could be over $300,000.<sup>11</sup> But the same amount paid into a long-term care insurance policy would provide a policy with benefits of $197,767 for long-term care, enough to cover a majority of an average nursing home stay.<sup>12</sup> The assumed rate above does not represent any particular investment. This illustration also assumes that the insured is healthy and qualifies for preferred insurance rates. Your actual results will vary from this example.

It is best to start a policy early because the premiums are typically lower. Most importantly, the reason to start with insurance early is so that you can qualify for coverage. As you age and the risk of adverse

---

<sup>10</sup> As an example, comprehensive plan, 3 year coverage at $100 per day, 3% compounded inflation, 90-day elimination for nursing home. Monthly costs rise as follows: Age 60: $135.69, Age 65: $188.25, Age 70: $251.34, Age 75: $393.16
Source: <https://www.ltcfeds.com/tools/premium-calculator> 1/3/21

<sup>11</sup> Federal long-term care insurance program annual cost in Los Angeles (2016 cost of care survey) of $85,045 and inflate for 3% annually
<https://www.ltcfeds.com/tools/cost-of-care>

<sup>12</sup> Based on the Federal long-term care quote engine 1/3/21 :
<https://www.ltcfeds.com/tools/premium-calculator>, male, age 60, comprehensive coverage, 3 yr term, 90 day elimination, $100 daily benefit, inflation compounded at 3% provides total policy benefits in 20 years of $197,767 based on annual premiums of $1,628. In other words, premiums paid for insurance provide a significantly larger benefit than saving the premium in hopes of self-insuring.

medical conditions becomes greater, you run the risk that you will not qualify for insurance. As you age, you may develop medical conditions and notations in your medical records that can make you uninsurable. Please note that these policy benefits are subject to the claims-paying ability of the issuing company.

Does this mean if you're already age 78, you cannot get insurance? Not at all. Insurance companies do accept many pre-existing medical conditions and there is no cost to apply. So certainly apply if you want this protection, but do it now, rather than later.

Two Important Reasons to Get Long-Term Care Insurance

*Get Long Term Care
Insurance
--for my family*

If you get sick and need help, who do you think will bear the burden? If you're married, you could turn your spouse's life upside down. You could also jeopardize a comfortable retirement.

If you're single, your kids may get the burden. They may feel obligated to help you and try to manage assisting you into their already over-worked schedule.

Or, you could deplete your assets-money that would otherwise have gone to your heirs. Therefore, it's important to realize that a major reason to get long-term care insurance is to protect your family.

The other reason is to preserve your independence. Do you want your children helping you brush your teeth? Do you want family members deciding how to spend your assets for your care? Insurance provides a separate asset that can be used only for your quality care. Whether for care inside or outside your home, insurance could help you to preserve your independence.

What Does It Cost?

The cost can vary widely depending on the company you choose and the coverage you choose. For example, one company may charge more for inflation protection, while another may have a lower charge for inflation, or they may charge more for home care. The author of this booklet has analyzed coverage for hundreds of seniors and there is no single company that has the lowest cost in all cases.

Therefore, the first step is to decide on the coverage you want, then quotes can be obtained from several companies to find the best quotation for the coverage you desire. There are five important items in choosing coverage:

1. Inflation Protection: This protection will increase your insurance benefit over time to hopefully keep pace with the actual cost of long-term care. If you are under age 75, you may want to get inflation coverage because it will hopefully be many years until you need benefits. But in many years, the cost will be a lot higher and you'll be glad you have the inflation-adjusted benefit.

2. Benefit Period: You select the term of coverage. In many cases, it is good to apply for at least four years of coverage. The coverage period determines how many years the insurance company will pay you benefits once you need them. Statistics indicate that a five year policy has historically covered 90% of all long-term care cases.<sup>13</sup> Of course, there is no guarantee that this pattern will continue into the future.

3. Daily Benefit: This is how much the insurance company will pay per day for your care. The amount of needed coverage depends upon your income and ability to cover these costs. For example, if you determine that an additional $4,500 of monthly cash flow is needed to cover the costs of long-term care, then you might consider a policy with a $150 day benefit ($4,500 divided by 30 days). You should consider your various sources of income and cash flow when making this determination (e.g., social security, pensions and retirement distributions, annuities, etc.). The previous discussion regarding inflation should also be considered.

---

<sup>13</sup> Morningstar "75 Must-Know Statistics About Long-Term Care" 8/31/17
<http://news.morningstar.com/articlenet/article.aspx?id=823957>.

4. Coverage for In Home and Outside the Home Care: You can select where you want to be covered. While many people like the idea of remaining in their own home and desire insurance for in-home care, the more important insurance for many is for outside the home (e.g., nursing home or assisted living facility).

There are two reasons for this:

(a) In your own home, the care you need is usually more moderate (homemaker duties such as shopping, cooking, cleaning, bill paying) and the cost may be less for such non-medical help. Often friends and neighbors and family can lend a hand making it much easier, financially, to cover in-home care. If you do need to go outside the home, the cost could be substantial and that's when you really need the insurance.<sup>14</sup>

(b) Your home may be poorly designed for you if you're ill. Stairs, long distances to the car and narrow doorways can all present problems for people with walkers or wheelchairs. Often, it's easier and more sensible to obtain care outside the home in facilities designed appropriately.

---

<sup>14</sup> Genworth Long Term Care Costs - Cost of Care Survey 2020

Of course, many seniors value their independence, and the ability to live at home certainly supports this value. With this in mind, it is also important to consider what coverage is available for home-based nursing care (also referred to as "community care"). If home-based coverage is an important priority, you will want to consider your sources of income to determine your coverage needs.

5. Elimination Period: Just as with your car insurance, the more you are willing to pay for a loss (the deductible) the lower your premium. Similarly, you select an "elimination period"- the number of days you will pay for care before the insurance starts to pay. Most policies allow you to select periods ranging from zero days to 180 days with shorter elimination periods generally corresponding to higher premiums.<sup>15</sup>

Get coverage for in-home and out-of-home care if your budget allows; otherwise, at minimum, get insurance for care outside the home.

Five Ways to Potentially Reduce the Cost of Long-Term Care Insurance

While it would be ideal to have complete coverage (inflation protection, lifetime coverage, at least $200/day benefit), it is better to have at least a basic policy than to have none at all. In other words, a minimum policy is better than being uncovered for the high cost of long-term care.

---

<sup>15</sup> Source: Federal LTC Insurance Program, www.ltcfeds.com, last visited 1/3/21.

In order to help you minimize the cost of insurance, this booklet provides five ways to help you reduce costs and yet provide basic coverage. No one knows when a health catastrophe can strike. An onset of a heart attack, stroke, cancer, Parkinson's and Alzheimer's are debilitating illnesses, which give no advance warning. Protect yourself and your family financially.

Here are five ways to get covered at a lower cost:

- 1. Reduce the coverage period. For example, reduce the term of the policy from five years to four years. Statistics indicate that a five-year policy has historically covered 90% of the long-term care cases. Of course, there is no guarantee that this pattern will continue on in the future.
- 2. Reduce the daily benefit. The actual cost of nursing care averages $250/day.<sup>16</sup> If you cover just $130 or $160 per day with insurance, some people can make up the difference with other income sources, such as Social Security or interest income.<sup>17</sup>
- 3. If you are age 75 or over, consider omitting the inflation protection. Although you will hopefully never need long-term care, if you do, you could need it within 10 years-by age 85. Therefore, you do not need to protect for inflation over as long a period of time as, for example, a 65-year old would need to prepare.

---

<sup>16</sup> Average daily rate for a semi-private room is over $93,000 annually or $7,756 monthly. Genworth Long Term Care Costs - Cost of Care Survey 2020, national median semi-private room.

<https://www.genworth.com/aging-and-you/finances/cost-of-care.html>

<sup>17</sup> If you have sufficient interest income or Social Security income, it may be better for you to insure for a majority of the cost of long-term care and self-insure for the remainder. This has the effect of lowering the current cost of the insurance premiums without subjecting you to being unable to cover the costs of long-term care, if and when they arise.

4. Consider partial home care coverage. Many companies offer, as an example, $100/day benefit for nursing home payments and $50/day for home care payments (home care costs can be less expensive if you have family or friends who can help with care). By reducing the benefits for home care, you can lower your premium.

5. Many people have a spouse or friends or relatives who can assist them in the home. Depending on the hours of needed care, the costs of a home health aide ($150/day) can be less than the costs of round-the-clock nursing home care.<sup>18</sup> With this in mind, the most important coverage area for many is the care provided outside the home.

Other Options and Ideas

Some people resist the idea of insurance. They argue that the money invested is wasted if they never use the insurance. Some companies have decided to address this concern with a type of policy that provides coverage for life insurance and long-term care. It is a single premium fixed universal life policy containing a rider for long-term care benefits. These policies are sometimes referred to as "combo" policies because of the two benefits provided.

There are no annual premiums. The policyholder makes one premium payment. Here is a hypothetical example for a 60-year old male:<sup>19</sup>

---

<sup>18</sup> Genworth Cost of Care Survey 2020

<sup>19</sup> A 60-year old, married, nonsmoker in good health. Single payment $100,000, issued by Nationwide Life, Policy LAM-3008CA <https://bit.ly/39sLhr2> 1/3/21

Single Premium Payment	$100,000
Long-Term Care Insurance Benefit	$442,474
Life Insurance Benefit-Initial	$207,069

The policy provides the following features:

1. He can surrender the policy at any time after year 6 and receive back at least his original premium (less loans, withdrawals, fees, and expenses). While he has the policy, he has both long-term care insurance and a death benefit.
2. The policyholder dies and has not used the long term care benefits. The heirs will receive the $207,069 life insurance benefit (less loans, withdrawals, fees, and expenses).
3. The policyholder enters a nursing home or needs home health care. He can receive from the policy up to $444,474 at the rate of $6,145 per month in LTC benefits for 6 years (payments reduce the death benefit and payments are reduced by prior loans, withdrawals, fees, and expenses).

The policyholder or his heirs collect the original premium or the long-term care insurance benefit or the death benefit, depending on which situation applies, provided there have been no previous loans or withdrawals (surrender charges may apply). Who is suitable for this type of policy? People who want to preserve countable assets such as stocks, bonds, CDs, bank accounts, cash value life insurance policies, or real estate without having to incur a yearly insurance premium.

In this example a minimum required single premium of $10,000 is typically required. This policy is a modified endowment contract, and loans or withdrawals of account value in excess of premiums paid are taxed as ordinary income. The purchase of life insurance and long-term care insurance requires a health review and not everyone is insurable. The purchase of insurance incurs fees, expenses, and commissions and possible surrender charges.

Which Insurance Company is Best?

Many companies have policies with competitive features and rates. If you are age 70, company A may have better rates than company B. But if you are age 50, the opposite may be true. No single company has the best rates for all situations. Other companies offer options you may find important. As recommended earlier, the first step is deciding on the coverage items most important to you. It then becomes easier to find the insurance company that best fits your needs.

The way to find the right coverage is to supply your medical information so that we can submit it for an actual quote. The quote supplied from an insurance company rate book applies for people who meet a specific health standard. To determine the actual cost for you, the insurance company will first review your medical history based on the information you supply, as well as obtain records from your physician. The company will then make you an offer of coverage.

If you are interested in getting this important coverage to protect your family, call to make a free appointment. When you call, we will ask for relevant details in order to have information ready for you when we meet.

By the way-the biggest mistake in getting protected is waiting. If you get insurance, you can always cancel it. But if your health fails or you have a need for long-term care, you can become uninsurable. Waiting could be a mistake you cannot undo.

About John Kostic

John Kostic, CFP® CEPA® began his financial career in November 1989. He had just returned from several years of military service where he served as a commissioned officer and company commander in the US Army. John earned his "Aviator Wings" as a 'UH-1 Huey' and 'AH-1F Cobra" pilot.

John earned his Certified Financial Planner designation in 1996. Over the past many years of hard work and dedication, John has been able to create relationships with various experts in the many financial disciplines required to design, construct and implement a successful financial plan.

No one person or one firm can do it all. We can achieve the most success by working as a TEAM.

About Beacon Wealth Team

Beacon Wealth Team is a collection of high performance, best in class advisors from many disciplines in the practice of wealth management. The best minds in the fields of legal, financial planning, accounting, investing, tax, alternative structures and more are here to coordinate their efforts and expertise for your benefit.

- Financial Analysis and Wealth Planning - We take all the tangled strings of data that is your financial life and sew it together into clear and well coordinated plan.
- Recovering, Refunding and Reducing Your Taxes - In retirement, one of the largest expenses you will ever have is taxes. We have innovative strategies that will help you recover past taxes paid, increase refunds of current taxes and reduce future'
- Investment Analysis, Design and Management - more than selecting an 'asset allocation', we make sure your retirement and personal funds are working as hard a s possible to support you retirement and other goals.
- Insurance Policy Review and Coordination Analysis - when was the last time you had ALL your insurances analyzed to confirm your properly protected and NOT overpaying?
- Advanced Investment Design - creation of custom income generating structures that will help your retirement plans to succeed.
- Estate and Family Business Tax Free Transfers - we implement strategies that legally transfer all your assets (including your business) tax free to younger generations.

Phone today with questions or to see if we can help you.
There is no charge for an initial meeting.

John Kostic

CFP® CEPA®

(949) 279-4223

Beacon Wealth Team

jkostic@beaconwt.com

2900 Bristol Street, Bldg B Suite 300

Costa Mesa, CA 92626

©2015 Financial Educators

First Published 11/13/00

This booklet is protected by copyright laws. It may not be reproduced or distributed without express written permission of the author by anyone other than those with an active subscription to SeniorLeads™ or advisorbooklets.com.

Published by Financial Educators

