8 sights to see at fall harvest festivals

Just as summertime is synonymous with concerts and carnivals, fall is a prime time for its own opportunities for seasonal entertainment, such as harvest festivals. Certain features overlap between summer carnivals and fall festivals, but the latter offers some unique offerings as well. The following are some things to expect when fall festival season hits full swing.

1. Seasonal fare

Many fall harvest festivals are built on the foods harvested in the fall for that region. In Wisconsin, that may be cranberries, while in Massachusetts it could be oysters. Apples also turn up in many areas starting in September. For those who can't wait to bite into food picked at the peak of its season, a fall harvest festival can't be beat.

2. Wagon rides

Farms and the tools of the farming trade are part of harvest festivals. Wagons transporting crops are a classic sight, even if they're no longer heavily relied upon on the farm. Rather than a cargo bed full of corn or apples, harvest festivals tote families around on wagon rides or on hay bale beds towed by tractors.

3. Apples galore

Candied and caramel apples and many other apple products feature prominently at many harvest festivals. Apple fritters, apple turnovers, apple pies, fried apples, and others are bound to be sold by vendors, along with traditional fair foods, like funnel cakes.

4. Cider stations

Lemonade stands that are staples of summer give way to hot or cold cider offerings come the fall. Cold ciders are perfect for an unseasonably warm fall day while warm varieties are tailor-made for days when there's a chill in the air.

5. Pumpkin patches

Fall harvest organizers pick and display pumpkins in fields to make it easier for youngsters to find the perfect pumpkin for Halloween carvings. It's a sea of orange this time of year, and things may get more colorful with non-edible gourds in shades of white or yellow.

6. Leaf-peeping opportunities

Some festivals are geared around chances to view the fall foliage that abounds in primarily rural areas. A mountain or forest backdrop adds vibrant color to any event. Coastal areas may set up fall foliage cruises that let guests see the leaves from a new perspective.

7. Corn mazes

Fall festivals set up adjacent to or on farms may have corn mazes for the kids. These mazes may be kept up throughout October and repurposed into haunted mazes for older kids looking to get a scare for Halloween.

8. Wine tastings

Many grape varieties are harvested in the fall, so fall harvest festivals may capitalize on that and invite local vineyards to set up tables providing tastings of their vintages. Vineyards also may host their own fall festivals, featuring sips and snacks with live music.

Fall offers a host of entertaining festivals geared around the harvest season. These festivals are ideal ways for people to see the sights and nibble on seasonal delights along the way.

Fall flavors shine in a chewy cookie

Fall is a season of cooler temperatures and changing leaves, and it also marks the return of autumn flavor profiles. Root vegetables, roasts and heartier fare are prime cooking ingredients this time of year. In terms of baking, treats spiced with ginger and cinnamon are in demand each fall.

Carrot cake and oatmeal cookies are familiar favorites this time of year. In this recipe for "Carrot Cake Oatmeal Cookies" from "Live Well Bake Cookies" (Quarto Group) by Danielle Rye, delicious spiced carrot cake is transformed into a soft and chewy cookie.

Carrot Cake Oatmeal Cookies- Makes 22 cookies

- 1 cup all-purpose flour, spooned and leveled
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 1/2 cups old-fashioned rolled oats
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) unsalted butter, softened
- 1/2 cup packed light brown sugar
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1 large egg, at room temperature
- 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- 3/4 cup lightly packed freshly grated carrots
- 1/3 cup raisins
- 1/3 cup chopped walnuts

1. Preheat the oven to 350 F. Line two large baking sheets with parchment paper or silicone baking mats and set aside.
2. In a large mixing bowl, whisk together the flour, baking soda, salt, ground cinnamon, ground nutmeg, and ground ginger until well combined. Stir in the old-fashioned rolled oats and set aside.
3. In the bowl of a stand mixer fitted with the paddle attachment or in a large mixing bowl using a handheld mixer, beat the butter, brown sugar and granulated sugar together for 1 to 2 minutes, or until well combined.
4. Mix in the egg and vanilla extract until fully combined, making sure to stop and scrape down the sides of the bowl as needed.
5. Mix in the dry ingredients until just combined, then fold in the grated carrots, raisins and chopped walnuts until fully incorporated.
6. Using a 1 1/2-tablespoon cookie scoop, scoop the cookie dough onto the prepared baking sheets, making sure to leave a little room between each one. Gently press each ball of cookie dough down to slightly flatten it.
7. Bake for 12 to 15 minutes, or until the tops of the cookies are set and the edges are lightly browned. Remove from the oven, and allow the cookies to cool on the baking sheets for 5 to 10 minutes, then carefully transfer the cookies to a wire rack to cool completely.
8. Store the cookies in an airtight container at room temperature for up to 3 days.

The Manager of a large office noticed a new man one day and told him to come into his office.

"What is your name?" was the first thing the manager asked.

"John "the new guy said.

The manager scowled, "Look, I don't know what kind of namby-pamby place you worked at before, but I don't call anyone by their first name. It breeds familiarity and that leads to break-down in authority. I refer to my employees by their last name only- Smith, Jones, Baker- that's all. I am only referred to as Mr. Robertson. Now that we got that straight, what is your last name?"

The new guy sighed, "Darling,"

" My name is John Darling."

"Okay John," the manager says, "the next thing I want to tell you is..."

Happy World Beard Day to our Favorite Paper Peddler Matt!

World Beard Day seeks to raise awareness about beards. This day aims to celebrate and promote those who were gifted with good facial hair genetics. World Beard Day is believed to have been recognized as far back as 800 A.D. It is observed annually on the first Saturday of September.

Did you know?

Historically high fuel prices will undoubtedly prove to be one of the defining stories of 2022. As the average price for a gallon of gas reached heights drivers might never have imagined as recently as February 2022, some might have wondered just how much that same gallon might have cost roughly 100 years ago. According to the Office of Energy Efficiency & Renewable Energy, the average price for a gallon of gas in 1929 was 21 cents. Inflation calculators indicate that 21 cents in 1929 would have about the same purchasing power as $3.59 has in 2022, suggesting that drivers had a far less painful trip to the pump in 1929 than they have had for much of 2022.

How to prepare for a child's first hunting trip

Millions of individuals across the globe are avid hunters. The passion many of those people have for hunting began on their first childhood hunting trip, and countless hunters fondly recall this milestone moment in their lives.

If there's a first time for everything, parents know that kids' initial forays into any activity comes with ups and downs. Hunting is no exception to that trend, but parents can consider these measures as they prepare their youngsters to go hunting for the first time.

~ Emphasize the importance of safety. Safety is of the utmost importance on any hunting trip. Kids should be aware of all safety protocols pertaining to their guns and the hunting grounds. Hunter's education courses can teach kids about hunting safety, but parents can quiz youngsters in the days leading up to the trip to reinforce safety protocols.

~ Explain how hunting trips typically unfold. Giving kids an idea of how a hunting trip may unfold is another good idea. Explain the timing of the trip and why it's beginning when it is. Kids without such knowledge may be less enthusiastic about early morning hunting excursions if they don't understand why they need to get out of bed early on a day off. But they might be more excited if they recognize they're more likely to see wildlife and enjoy a successful trip if they're willing to sacrifice sleeping in.

~ Bring some extra activities for kids to do. Screens are a no-no, as they could deter wildlife. But hunting requires patience, which is not exactly a virtue many youngsters possess. So bring some books along or encourage kids to keep a diary of their first trip, describing it in detail so they have something to look back on as they get older.

~ Purchase comfortable hunting attire. Kids will likely be wearing new attire on their first trip, so parents should have them try the clothing on prior to the trip. When shopping for hunting clothing, make sure it meets all safety standards and is functional for hunters, but don't overlook comfort. Hunting involves a lot of waiting, and the trip will be more enjoyable for everyone if kids are comfortable throughout the slow periods.

~ Recognize the day could be emotional. A child's first hunting trip can be an emotional roller coaster, as kids may feel excited, bored, nervous, sad, and even guilty at any point during the day. Parents must allow kids to express any of these emotions during the day and emphasize that it's alright to express their emotions.

A child's first hunting trip is a milestone moment. Parents can take steps leading up to the trip to ensure their children are ready for what's to come.

The Florida Guardian ad Litem Office and how you can help.

The Florida Guardian ad Litem Office is legal representation for children who have been abused and neglected in Florida. A judge appoints the Guardian ad Litem Office, which then assigns Guardians ad Litem to each child. Each child is represented by a multi-disciplinary team that includes a Guardian ad Litem Attorney, a certified Child Advocate Manager, and hopefully a trained volunteer.

The volunteer works as a part of the child advocacy team. The volunteer builds a relationship with the child and gathers information needed to make sound, common sense recommendations to the judge, who ultimately decides what is in the child's best interests. Of course, the child's safety is always paramount. We also consider the importance of familial connections, friendships, and the child's wishes and desires.

Independent research shows that children with a Guardian ad Litem Volunteer are substantially less likely to spend time in long-term foster care and reenter foster care. Children who have exited the dependency system often say that if it were not for Guardian ad Litem, they do not know how they would have made it through such a traumatic experience.

More than 600 children are part of the dependency system in Citrus, and Hernando Counties, and not every child has a volunteer. Something as a community we need to change.

If you are interested in making this cause your cause, become a Guardian ad Litem volunteer. No experience is necessary, and all training and support are provided. Contact Diana Gisonni at 352-812-6971 or e-mail her at diana.gisonni@gal.fl.gov. To learn more about the Florida Guardian ad Litem Office, visit www.guardianadlitem.org.

Spicy chicken fires up dinner time

Chicken is a versatile protein that can take center stage on any table. There are scores of ways to prepare chicken, and this recipe for "Pollo Harissa" is seasoned with a fiery, spicy mix that is truly aromatic. Enjoy it, courtesy of "Española: Exploring the Flavors of Spain" (Gibbs Smith) by James Campbell Caruso.

Pollo Harissa- (Roasted Harissa Chicken with Couscous)- Serves 4

- 1 whole roasting chicken, rinsed
- 1 lemon, cut into 4 pieces
- 6 cloves garlic
- Harissa (see below)
- Salt
- 2 cups couscous
- 3 cups chicken stock

Heat the oven to 375 F. Fill chicken cavity with lemon pieces and garlic. Rub the chicken generously with harissa. Sprinkle with salt. Put the couscous and chicken stock in an oven-safe baking dish. Place the dressed chicken on top. Bake covered for 45 minutes. Remove the cover and bake for another 15 minutes, until chicken is cooked through. Serve with a tossed mix of cucumber, cilantro, lemon juice, and oil.

Harissa

- 1 tablespoon coriander seed
- 1 tablespoon caraway seed
- 1 teaspoon cumin seed
- 4 large cloves garlic, unpeeled
- 4 large red bell peppers
- 1/2 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 tablespoons crushed New Mexico red chiles
- Salt and pepper to taste

Stir coriander, caraway and cumin in a small skillet over medium-high heat until aromatic, about 30 seconds. Transfer to a food processor. Cook garlic in the same skillet, covered, over medium-low heat until tender, about 10 minutes, turning occasionally. Let garlic cool, then peel it and add to processor. Char bell peppers over a gas flame or in a broiler until blackened on all sides. Enclose in a paper bag; let stand 10 minutes. Peel, seed, and coarsely chop peppers. Add peppers, oil, sugar, and crushed red pepper to processor. Puree. Season with salt and pepper.

Unique ways to give experiential gifts

Giving an experience to a loved one this holiday season is a great and unique way to show that person how much they're loved. The popularity of experiential gifts is undeniable, with one recent report from the market research firm Mintel indicating that roughly 50 percent of individuals surveyed prefer such gifts to tangible items.

One problem holiday gift givers may need to confront when giving experiential gifts concerns their presentation. A tangible item can be boxed and wrapped, but how can gift givers put a bow and ribbon on an experience? The solution to that may require a little creativity on the part of gift givers. The category a gift fits into can provide some inspiration when looking for ways to present experiential gifts.

~ Travel gifts: When gifting the experience of travel this holiday season, gift givers can wrap airline tickets or itineraries in a map of the locale where recipients will be going. When contributing to a general travel fund or gifting airline miles, consider placing a note inside an atlas or attaching it to a desktop globe.

~ Sports gifts: Let the sport dictate how a gift is presented when giving tickets to a game. For example, if a loved one is getting tickets to a baseball game, place the tickets inside a new baseball mitt. The gift of golf lessons can be presented alongside a new putter.

~ Dance lessons: The gift of dance lessons encourages people to have fun and get a little exercise along the way. This gift can be presented to recipients in any number of ways, including inside ballet shoes or even accompanied by food. After all, who wouldn't get a kick out of finding out they've been given salsa lessons after finding a jar of salsa in their stocking?

~ Escape room: Admission to an escape room is a very popular experiential gift. Gift givers can get recipients in the spirit of the gift by creating a scavenger hunt where the prize to find is a printout explaining the gift and all its pertinent details, such as the date and time of the event.

~ Foodie gifts: For foodies who can't wait to visit the newest dining hotspot in town, place a gift certificate inside an oven mitt or wrap it around a bottle of wine. When giving cooking lessons, wrap an explanation of the gift inside a new apron or place it inside a new saucepot the recipient can use when it comes time to put their newfound culinary skills to work.

An Irishman and his son went to the zoo. A sign says, "feed the elephant a bun to get your age." The little boy gives the elephant a bun and it stamps its foot 6 times. "wow" says the boy, "That's right I am 6, you have a go dad" The Irish chap gives the elephant a bun....A moment later the elephant farts and stamps twice...
"Bejaysus that's right" said the father, "I am farty two!"

HEY GUY'S, IT'S GUS HERE! CAN YOU BELIEVE IT IS ALREADY SEPTEMBER? I'M LOOKING FORWARD TO THE COOLER TEMPS! IT MEANS THAT GRACIE AND I WILL GET TO BE OUT AND ABOUT MEETING ALL OF YOU MORE, WHICH IS ALWAYS A GOOD TIME!

SOMETHING ELSE THAT IS GOING TO BE A GOOD TIME IS THE 3RD ANNUAL SALUTE TO FIRST RESPONDERS' EVENT (SEE AD ON FRONT) IN BROOKSVILLE, FL ON OCTOBER 1ST. WE ARE GOING TO BE THERE PASSING OUT SOME OF CENTRAL FLORIDA'S MOST FUN COMMUNITY PAPERS AND SOME COOL PENNY THE PAPER PEDDLER GARB. YOU SHOULD STOP BY AND SAY HI! IT'S A GREAT WAY TO SUPPORT THOSE WHO SACRIFICE DAILY FOR ALL OF US. BELOW IS AN ARTICLE I THOUGHT WAS FITTING. SERVICE DOGS ARE FIRST RESPONDERS TO THEIR OWNERS/HANDLERS IN A SENSE. READ ON TO LEARN ABOUT THE DIFFERENT TYPES OF SERVICE DOGS THERE ARE.

The different types of service dogs

Animals serve many roles in their human companions' lives. In addition to being loyal pets, animals help wrangle livestock, assist police and rescue personnel, sniff out illnesses, and perform other lifesaving or comforting tasks.

Service dogs provide immeasurable value to the individuals who rely on them. The Americans with Disabilities Act says service dogs are those that are specifically trained to perform certain tasks for people with disabilities. The services provided can help individuals with psychiatric, physical, sensory, intellectual, or mental disabilities.

The organization Share America advises that there are at least half a million service dogs in the United States.

Service dogs have the legal right to enter all public spaces, which sets them apart from emotional support animals. The following are some of the different types of service dogs.

- ~ Cardiac service dogs: These dogs can recognize dangerous changes in an individual's heart rate or blood pressure. They can alert people to issues so immediate interventions can be made. Cardiac service dogs also can be trained to notify emergency services of a life-threatening event.
- ~ Guide dogs: These are among the most recognizable service dogs. They assist the visually impaired with navigating obstacles and helping them get around.
- ~ Hearing dogs: Hearing dogs have to be specially trained to give off body language clues to convey messages to their owners, rather than barking. This may include touching with a nose or paw.
- ~ Seizure alert dogs: Seizure alert dogs are trained to recognize subtle changes in human behavior that indicate a seizure is imminent. They can position themselves to protect a person during a seizure.
- ~ Diabetic alert dogs: A dog's sense of smell is thousands of times more acute than a human's. Diabetic alert dogs can smell chemical changes in bodies that are traced to altered blood sugar readings that occur with diabetes.
- ~ Mobility assistance dogs: These dogs offer assistance to those with mobility issues, such as individuals with paralysis, arthritis and spinal cord injuries. The dogs can close doors, pull wheelchairs, fetch objects, and support the weight of a person's body.
- ~ Autism support dogs: Autism support dogs may provide comfort and reduce anxiety among children with autism, and could even prevent such youngsters from running away.

According to the United Disabilities Services Foundation, certain dog breeds are better suited to service dog work. Notably, these include Labradors, Golden Retrievers, German Shepherds, Poodles, Boxers, Border Collies, Great Danes, Bernese Mountain Dogs, and sometimes Cocker Spaniels.

The range of service dogs continues to grow as people recognize just how many tasks these intelligent and skilled animals are capable of handling.

A man walks into his local vet and says "My dog Rover is cross-eyed, is there any way in which you can help him?"

"Hmm, let me take a look at him" says the vet as he picks up Rover. Whilst holding the dog, the vet checks Rovers paws, eyes, teeth and tail until finally the vet says "I think I am going to have to put Rover down".

The man is shocked and says "Really? Just because he is cross-eyed?"

The vet then replies

"No, because he is too heavy to hold any longer".
