DID YOU KNOW?

The demand for qualified, talented nurses figures to grow in the years to come. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, more than half a million nurses are expected to retire by 2022. Couple that with an existing nursing shortage, and the BLS projects a need for 1.1 million registered nurses in the near future. A shortage also figures to affect Canada, where the Canadian Nurses Association recently estimated that the country would be forced to confront a nursing shortage of roughly 60,000 nurses by 2022. Various factors are contributing to the nursing shortage in both countries, including an increasingly large aging population that will require more and more nurses to meet its health care needs. In the United States, the Affordable Care Act, which was passed in 2010, increased access to health care for millions of people across the country, thereby creating a greater need for nurses and other health care professionals. In addition, a greater emphasis on preventive care in many countries across the globe figures to compel more people to visit their physicians even when they're otherwise feeling healthy. As more people prioritize preventive care, the need for more nurses will likely increase.

JOKES

An Eskimo brings his friend to his home for a visit. When they arrive, his friend asks, puzzled – "So where's your igloo?"

Why didn't the dinosaur cross the road?
Because there weren't even any roads during the Jurassic Period!

Police officer talks to a driver: Your tail light is broken, your tires must be exchanged and your bumper hangs halfway down. That will be 300 dollars.
Driver: Alright, go ahead. They want twice as much as that at the garage.

Why did the physics teacher break up with the biology teacher?
There was no chemistry.

Q. Why do the French like to eat snails so much?
A. They can't stand fast food.

A doctor asks his patient angrily, "Why did you send my bill back, unopened, Mr. Gunrick?"
Mr Gunrick explains, "But doctor, it was you who told me I must avoid any upsets and stress!"

What did the toilet roll complain about?
"People just keep ripping me off!"

A skeleton walks into a restaurant. After a while the waiter comes and says: "I'm so sorry, sir. You must have been waiting pretty long."

A guest calls the waiter and complains, "How come there are no chairs at our table?!"
The waiter shrugs, "I'm sorry but you only booked one table..."

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

DINNER IS ALL ROLLED UP

When the weather starts to warm, people are inspired to once again venture outdoors and spend more time away from home. People can benefit from having quick and easy dinner recipes at the ready so that hours are not spent in the kitchen after a day of fun in the fresh air.

With mere minutes of preparation and about 15 minutes cooking time, this recipe for “Chicken, ham, and Swiss roulades” from “Real Simple Dinner Tonight: Done” (Time Home Entertainment) from the editors of Real Simple makes a simple weeknight meal that is tasty, too.

Chicken, Ham, and Swiss roulades
Serves 4

- 8 small chicken cutlets (about 1 1/2 pounds total)
- 8 thin slices cooked ham
- 8 thin slices Swiss cheese
- 4 tablespoons olive oil
- 6 cups mixed greens
- 1 cup grape tomatoes, halved
- 1 tablespoon white wine vinegar
- 1/4 cup whole-grain mustard

Heat oven to 400 F. Season the chicken with 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Roll up each cutlet with 1 slice of the ham and 1 slice of the Swiss cheese. Skewer the roulades closed with toothpicks.

Heat 2 tablespoons of the oil in a large ovenproof skillet over medium-high heat. Add the roulades and cook, turning occasionally, until golden brown, 4 to 6 minutes. Transfer the skillet to an oven and roast the roulades until cooked through, 8 to 10 minutes. Meanwhile, in a large bowl, toss the greens and tomatoes with the vinegar, the remaining 2 tablespoons of oil, and 1/4 teaspoon each salt and pepper. Serve with the roulades and mustard.

Sod vs. seed: Which is your best option?

A pristine lawn can be the finishing touch to a landscape and add significant value to a home. According to a joint study by the University of Alabama and the University of Texas at Arlington, homes with high curb appeal sell for an average of 7 percent more than similar houses without inviting exteriors.

When it comes to establishing a lawn, homeowners have two key options: starting from seed or installing sod. Each comes with its share of advantages and disadvantages. Which option makes the most sense for a given lawn will boil down to various factors, including homeowners' budgets.

Seed

Seed is the first thing homeowners may think of when planning a lawn. Seed is an inexpensive, easily installed option. Plus, garden centers sell a variety of seeds specific to particular regions and climates. The home improvement resource Fixr says seed will cost an average of 24 cents per square foot installed compared to $1.29 for sod. That affordability compels many homeowners to turn to seed. However, seed can take up to two years to produce a lush lawn and it requires high maintenance in the initial months to establish the grass.

Seed also requires greater soil preparation, including tilling to loosen soil and keeping the lawn well watered until the grass is hardy. Weeds also may mix in with seed more readily, meaning weed prevention becomes an additional task.

Sod

One of the advantages to sod is that it can produce an instant lawn. When time is of the essence, sod will produce a complete lawn nearly as soon as the sod is laid. Sod can be used to mitigate soil erosion, as it works faster than seed, which needs to establish a root system to keep soil in check. Also, sod does not require as much soil preparation as seed.

The potential disadvantages to sod are its cost and the time it takes to install it, particularly on a large property. In addition, sod will require careful maintenance for at least the first two weeks until the sod takes stronger roots. It can be an expensive mistake if sod doesn't thrive and new pieces need to be installed. The Family Handyman says sod tends to be sun-loving and may not work in shadier areas of a property.

Sod and seed are the two main options for lush lawns. Each has its perks, and homeowners can speak with a local lawn specialist to determine which option is best for their lawn.

How To Garden From A Wheelchair

Gardening is a wonderful activity that people from all walks of life enjoy. A garden full of fresh fruits and vegetables and/or beautiful blooms can instill a sense of pride in gardeners and turn their backyards into colorful, peaceful respites.

Anyone with the will to do so can plant their own garden, and that includes people who are confined to wheelchairs. Gardening from a wheelchair may present some unique challenges, but such obstacles are no reason for wheelchair-bound gardening enthusiasts to steer clear of this rewarding activity. In recognition of the challenges of gardening from a wheelchair, the Christopher & Dana Reeve Foundation offers the following tips to wheelchair-bound gardening enthusiasts.

- Match the garden to your abilities. The Reeve Foundation notes that trying to push beyond your limits can affect how much you enjoy gardening. Address issues that may impair how you can function in the garden, such as accessibility. For example, if the garden is far away from the physical structure of your home, you may feel exhausted by the time you get to the garden, which can affect your productivity and progress. Prior to starting a garden, consider the potential that such issues may arise and then try to build a garden that makes it easy to overcome them.

- Consider raised beds. The Reeve Foundation highly recommends raised beds for anyone gardening from a wheelchair. When designing such beds, make sure they're narrow so they can be conveniently accessed from your wheelchair.

- Consider hanging baskets. Hanging baskets also can be a great option for anyone gardening from a wheelchair. Hanging baskets can provide aesthetic appeal inside and outside of a home, and such baskets can be accessed with a pulley system that makes it easy for gardeners to prune and water plants.

- Use specialized tools. The online medical resource Verywell Health notes that various manufacturers have recognized there's a market for adaptive gardening tools. Such tools make it easier for people in wheelchairs to indulge their passion for planting. Adaptive tools like trowels, cultivators and hoes can make it easier for gardeners to perform all the standard gardening tasks. Ergonomic adaptive gardening tools can help gardeners avoid the joint pain that can arise from using more traditional, non-ergonomic tools.

- Make it a team effort. Gardening with a loved one can make the hobby even more enjoyable for anyone, including people gardening from their wheelchairs. Seniors can garden alongside their grandchildren and/or friends who also have mobility issues, ensuring no one gets too tired or falls behind.

Anyone can enjoy gardening, and that includes people in wheelchairs.

DID YOU KNOW?

According to the Environmental Protection Agency, air currents can carry pesticides that were applied to nearby properties. That means even people who do not apply pesticides in their lawns and gardens can still be at risk of exposure to these potentially harmful chemicals. People concerned by the prospect of being exposed to the pesticides being applied by their neighbors can stay indoors with their children and pets while the substances are being applied. Those who live near fields and parks where pesticides are routinely applied can plant hardy, thick-branched trees to reduce their risk of airborne exposure. The EPA notes that such plants and shrubs can serve as buffers against airborne pesticides, essentially acting as walls around a property that prevent gusty winds from blowing pesticides into yards and gardens.

I asked my daughter if she'd seen my newspaper. She told me that newspapers are old school. She said that people use tablets nowadays and handed me her iPad. The fly didn't stand a chance.

What to do when somebody is trying to start an argument with you? Simply eat a few cookies. They taste very nice and you can't hear anything over the crunching.

I've been really depressed lately. A friend told me I should go to the petting zoo perhaps, to cheer up. I went today, but not one person would stroke me.

3 TECHNIQUES TO KEEP MOSQUITOES OUT OF YOUR BACKYARD OASIS

The value of a retreat-like backyard was never more apparent than in 2020. Over the last year-plus, much of the world has been forced to stay home as a global pandemic has claimed millions of lives while countless others have had to fight to survive in hospitals. It's no surprise people have looked for a respite from the harsh realities of living during a deadly pandemic, and many turned their attention to their own backyards to provide such an escape.

The online home remodeling platform Houzz reported a 58 percent annual increase in project leads for home professionals in June 2020. Contractors who specialize in outdoor spaces saw the biggest increase in demand. A revamped outdoor space can provide the perfect retreat for homeowners who want to get away from it all. But one winged, unwelcome guest can quickly transform an oasis into an uninviting space.

Mosquitoes make their presence felt in many areas each summer. These pesky, often hungry insects can carry disease, and their bites can be painful and itchy. Homeowners can try these three techniques to keep mosquitoes out of their backyards.

1. Remove standing water.

Standing water is a breeding ground for mosquitoes, who don't even need a lot of water to successfully breed. A daily walk around the property may uncover kids' toys, empty flower pots or other small receptacles that can collect water. Even clogged gutters can lead to the accumulation of a small amount of water, and that can be enough for mosquitoes to breed. Remove these potential breeding grounds when you find them, and do so each day, as mosquitoes mature from eggs to nymphs in roughly four days.

2. Mow regularly.

Mowing the lawn so the grass never gets too high is another way to make a backyard less hospitable to mosquitoes. The pest experts at Terminix™ note that mosquitoes seek tall grass to protect them from the elements, including wind and hot summer sun. Mowing enough so grass never gets too high in summer can make backyards less inviting to mosquitoes.

3. Plant with mosquitoes in mind.

The home remodeling experts at HGTV note that plants can be part of homeowners' strategy to repel mosquitoes. Various plants have mosquito-repellant qualities. For example, bee balm releases a fragrance as it grows, and mosquitoes don't like that fragrance. Homeowners can speak with a local lawn and garden professional for recommendations about plants that can thrive in their region and repel mosquitoes at the same time.

Mosquitoes can make it hard to enjoy a backyard oasis. But various strategies can help homeowners keep these unwanted guests out of their backyards.

Coastal Heritage Museum/Crystal River Heritage Council

532 Citrus Avenue
Crystal River FL 34428

Questions: 352-341-6428 (Citrus County Historical Society Office telephone number in Inverness)
Hours: Wednesday through Saturday, 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.
Admission is Free - Donations Welcome

The Coastal Heritage Museum opened in 1986 under the direction of the Citrus County Historical Society, Inc. Owned by the City of Crystal River, the building is leased to the CCHS, Inc. On May 29, 1998, the old City Hall was placed on the National Register of Historic Places. The Museum was closed in 2000 for repairs and reopened in 2001 under the direction of the volunteers of the Crystal River Heritage Council.

The Museum features an array of exhibits, artifacts, furniture and photographs of the early history of the west side of Citrus County, Florida. Unique features include a 1927 diorama of downtown Citrus Avenue, a fish house facade, and one of the original jail cells.

The historic building was built in 1939 by the Work Project Administration (WPA) labor. The exterior is constructed of natural limestone quarried locally, and the interior ceilings are made from magnolia wood. It served as the first permanent home for the Crystal River City Government and was used by the city until 1970. It has housed the City Manager Office, the Police Department, the jail and the fire truck.

COMMUNITY BULLETIN BOARD

NEW YORK CLUB OF CITRUS COUNTY

The New York Club of Citrus County has made a very difficult decision to cancel all events until Sept./Oct. 2021 due to the Coronavirus. We will keep you informed of any changes. If you have any suggestions, please feel free to contact a Board Member. Thank You and stay safe!

CITRUS COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

The Citrus County Genealogical Society will meet virtually April 13 at 10:00 a.m. Karen Fortin, professional genealogist, will present "Local and County Histories." These resources can provide information about your ancestor and where they lived. She will say where they can be found. Guests are welcome. Contact Mary Ann Machonkin at himary@tampabay.rr.com for a link.

CITRUS SPRINGS LIBRARY

Citrus Springs Library hours 10am-1pm Citrus Springs will have a raffle of Easter Baskets. The baskets will be on display in the library with a list of their contents on March 1st.

Tickets are $1.00 for 1 ticket and $5.00 for 6 tickets. The tickets will be available from March 1-26. The drawing will be on Mon. March 29 at 11am. Winners need not be present. They can come into the library with their winning ticket that week by Thursday April 1 during library hours.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The League of Women Voters of Citrus County has invited Dr. Savanna Barry to give a Zoom presentation on the newly designated Nature Coast Aquatic Preserve at 7:00 PM on Tuesday, April 13th. About 800 square miles of coastal water and seagrass meadow will be protected. The area covers coastal waters off Citrus, Hernando, and Pasco County which provides more than $500 million and 10,000 jobs to the local economy. The Florida Nature Coast draws tourism each year for manatees tours, fishing, and scalloping. Dr. Savanna Barry grew up on a farm in central Virginia and attended the University of Virginia for her BS in Biology. Her love for the coastal ocean brought her to the University of Florida for graduate school, where she earned a Masters and Ph.D. in Fisheries and Aquatic Sciences. Savanna's passion for sharing her knowledge for the betterment of our coastal systems drew her to a career in extension. As a Regional Specialized Extension Agent at the UF/IFAS Nature Coast Biological Station, Savanna helps communities apply science-based practices that enhance the sustainability of life on the Nature Coast.

Redemption Christian Church

... a biblically functioning community where you will encounter truth and love in a casual setting

... a friendly, welcoming place. It's a different way to do church. It's not an "us and them" kind of place at all. No matter where you are on your spiritual journey, you are welcome.

... a place where God's Word is preached without excuse nor apology.

Imperfect people worshipping a Perfect Savior!

Guess Who?

I am an actor born in Texas on March 24, 1973. I studied theater at the Universities of Houston and San Diego. I earned an early film credit in a movie in 2004. In my most prominent role, I played a quirky scientist on a popular TV series.

How many gorillas can fit into a car? Eight.
 How many chickens can fit into the car?
 None, the car is already full of gorillas.

She: I have a doctor's appointment today but I really don't want to go...
 He: Just call in sick then.

Everybody knows 40 is the new 30, right?
 But the police officer giving me a speeding ticket couldn't be persuaded.

I looked at my crush while I was filling her glass with water. The water overflowed and spilled all over my trousers. She looked at me and asked, "What are you doing?" I said,
 "For you, I will always give 110 percent..."

How many ant-eaters do you need to change a light bulb?
 None, they don't do that.
