January 20 2012 - February 26 2012
AL FURUSIYA MARINA, CORNICHE ROAD, JEDDAH, SAUDI ARABIA

EDGE OF ARABIA JEDDAH: We Need to Talk
Following its recent success with the first Pan--Arab exhibition of contemporary art 'The Future of a Promise' at the 54th Venice Biennale, on 19th January 2012 the internationally renowned arts initiative Edge of Arabia, with support from Abdul Latif Jameel Community Initiatives and Abraaj Capital, launched the most significant show of Saudi contemporary art ever held in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Edge of Arabia Jeddah: We Need to Talk, curated by Mohammed Hafiz and co--curated by Edge of Arabia founder Stephen Stapleton, opened in a stunning 1000 square meter space in the Al Furusia Marina, a magnificent new development on the Jeddah Corniche overlooking the Red Sea.

Ranging from video to sculpture to installation, the exhibition features over 40 new works by Saudi's emerging contemporary artists, including: Abdulnasser Gharem, Adwa AlMubarak, Ahaad Alamoudi, Ahmed Angawi, Ahmed Mater, Ayman Yossri Daydban, Effat Fadaag, Eyad Maghazel, Hala Ali, Hamza Serafi, Ibrahim Abumsmar, Jowhara AlSaud, Maha Malluh, Manal Al--Dowayan, Mohammed Al Ghamdi, Nasser Al--Salem, Noha Al--Sharif, Saddek Wasil, Saeed Salem, Sami Al-- Turki, Sara Al--Abdali and Sarah Abu Abdullah.

Curator Mohammed A. Hafiz says: "This exhibition is a true homecoming for Edge of Arabia and is geared towards encouraging constructive discussion and dialogue between Saudi contemporary artists and the local community. All participating artists have reacted to our title 'We Need to Talk' within three categories: the Past, the Present, and the Future. This is a great opportunity for us all to think about how we can positively shape and influence the world around us."

To accompany the exhibition, Edge of Arabia has delivered an ambitious education programme aimed at engaging local school and university students in contemporary art from across the region. The programme includes an art symposium held at the Chamber of Commerce in Jeddah, a dedicated education room within the exhibition, with workshop, presentation and research facilities for visitors; guided tours of the exhibition and practical workshops with participating artists for local school and university groups; and an internship programme for local students.
