

LESSON TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Professor Pedals is proud to be a leader in offering the safest and most advanced education programs possible. We strive to work efficiently, but it is up to our Instructors to determine abilities and readiness of the student to safely proceed through the lesson material.

There is no guarantee of success and outcomes may vary.

All students must have their own safety helmet and related equipment that fits properly and is in good working order. It is the responsibility of the student to maintain and have their equipment ready for their lesson(s).

All students must be in good health for their lessons. This includes being fever and symptom free of known contagious illnesses of any kind. I will perform a temperature check and general health check prior to my lesson. If symptoms of fever or illness exist I take responsibility and will reschedule my lesson(s).

All students must comply with CDC guidelines including the providing and wearing of facial masks during the entire lesson duration.

I accept that riding a bicycle, a scooter or engaging in related training activities involved in the lesson process with Professor Pedals, and activities associated with Professor Play sessions, poses a risk of injury/ death. I hold harmless HomeStep LLC, Professor Pedals, ProfessorPedals.com, their instructors, managers, owners, successors, assignees in connection with any contraction of illness, injury, accident or death. For students under the age of 18, we require a parent, guardian or caregiver to remain present and visible at the lesson site for the duration of the lesson.

We appreciate your cooperation with these important rules and guidelines. We will not reschedule or refund lessons that are suspended due to the lack of cooperation in this matter.

In lieu of a signature, your booking of a lesson either using our online booking system or offline reservation serves as acceptance of the above terms and conditions.
