How Are the 3 Presenting Charities Chosen? The Core 10 Team (original 10 founding members) for Power of 100 Hastings Women reviews all applications for their completion and validity. An objective, yet confidential, scoring rubric is used in the vetting process. Applications are not discussed in a group setting, rather all applications are vetted by the Core 10 Team members individually. Each is reviewed, then scored, and an aggregate score is tallied from each Core 10 Team member. The math prevails. The top 3 cumulative scores are the charities chosen to present at the event. Please be aware that the application will not be provided to the general membership. The presenting charities are charged with making their message clear in their presentations.
