EMAP STAKEHOLDER ONE-PAGER

EMAP for Jails & Clerks

From booking to install to release.

THE CHALLENGE

Electronic-monitoring release depends on a series of handoffs: the correct provider must be identified, required information must be complete, the device must be ready and installed, and release status must be confirmed. When those steps are tracked in separate calls, emails, and notes, staff can be left unsure who owns the next action.

WHAT EMAP CAN HELP YOU DO

- Identify the assigned monitoring provider and provider contact information
- See booking-linked release and monitoring-readiness status
- See device-ready, assignment, and installation status
- Identify missing information, hold status, or items needing clarification
- Document installation completion and release confirmation
- Maintain a time-stamped, auditable record of release coordination and handoffs

WHY IT MATTERS

EMAP gives authorized jail and clerk users a shared view of where the release process stands, what has already been completed, and who is responsible for the next step. The result is a traceable path from booking through installation and release instead of a chain of disconnected communications.
