SUMMARY

Summaries are made up of disclosure requirements known as “Elements”. These elements are numbered in Sections A - E (A.1 - E.7).

This summary contains all the Elements required to be included in a summary for this type of securities and issuer. Because some Elements are not required to be addressed, there may be gaps in the numbering sequence of the Elements.

Even though an Element may be required to be inserted in the summary because of the type of securities and issuer, it is possible that no relevant information can be given regarding the Element. In this case a short description of the Element is included in the summary with the mention of “not applicable”.

SECTION A—INTRODUCTION AND WARNINGS
A.1.	Warning to investors	This summary should be read as an introduction to this Document. Any decision to invest in the Ordinary Shares should be based on consideration of this Document as a whole by the Investor. Where a claim relating to the information contained in this Document is brought before a court, the plaintiff Investor might under the national legislation of the EEA States, have to bear the costs of translating this Document before legal proceedings are initiated. Civil liability attaches only to those persons who have tabled this summary including any translation thereof but only if this summary is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of this Document or it does not provide, when read together with the other parts of this Document, key information in order to aid Investors when considering whether to invest in such securities.
A.2.	Consent for intermediaries	Not applicable; this is not a public offer of securities and consent will not be given by the Company for the use of this Document for subsequent resale or final placement of securities by financial intermediaries.
SECTION B—ISSUER
B.1.	Legal and commercial name	The legal and commercial name of the issuer is Honye Financial Services Ltd.
B.2.	Domicile / Legal form / Legislation / Country of incorporation	The Company was incorporated and registered in the Cayman Islands with registered number 336262 on 25 April 2018 as an exempted company with limited liability under the Cayman Islands Companies Law with an indefinite life.
B.3.	Current operations / Principal	The Company has been formed to undertake one or more Acquisitions. The Company does not have any specific

	activities and markets	acquisition under consideration and does not expect to engage in substantive negotiations with any target company or business until after Admission. The expected target value for an Acquisition will be relative to the size of the market capitalisation of the Company given that the consideration is anticipated to be a combination of Ordinary Shares and cash. The Company expects that any funds not used in connection with an Acquisition will be used for future acquisitions, internal or external growth and expansion, and working capital in relation to the acquired company or business. There will be no limit on the number of Acquisitions the Company may make and the Company may invest in a number of Acquisitions or just one. In terms of geography, it is anticipated that the Company intends on focusing its acquisition strategy principally in Europe and Asia. The Company will not exclude other geographic regions where the Company can operate competitively and have appropriate access to the relevant client base. Following completion of an Acquisition, the objective of the Company will be to operate the acquired business and implement an operating strategy to generate value for its Shareholders through operational improvements and potentially through additional complementary acquisitions following an Acquisition. Unless required by applicable law or other regulatory process, no Shareholder approval will be sought by the Company in relation to an Acquisition. An Acquisition will be treated as a reverse takeover under Chapter 5 of the Listing Rules and the Company intends to seek re-admission of the enlarged group to listing on the Official List and trading on the London Stock Exchange, or to the AIM Market operated by London Stock Exchange, or to another stock exchange. In assessing potential targets, the Board will consider whether and how they can generate shareholder value post-Acquisition through raising new capital through the enlarged listed entity, operational improvement, economics of scale and through “bolt on” acquisitions. The Company has not engaged or retained any agent or other representative to identify or locate any suitable Acquisition candidate, to conduct any research or take any measures, directly or indirectly, to locate or contact a target company or business. To date, the Company’s efforts have been limited to organisational activities as well as activities related to the Admission. The Company may subsequently seek to raise further capital to fund the working capital requirements of the Company following an Acquisition. The Company will primarily focus on targets within the financial services and ‘fintech’ sectors. In particular, the initial focus will be on acquiring companies which operate asset management, online financing, payment facility or robo-advisory businesses.

		The Board will undertake in depth market analysis in a number of related areas initially within the financial services and ‘fintech’ sectors using the Directors’ experience and knowledge in the sector. Once a suitable target has been identified and a structure and valuation negotiated and agreed, financial and legal due diligence will be undertaken using professional advisers. Consideration is likely to be a combination of shares and cash. The expected target value for an Acquisition will be relative to the market capitalisation of the Company given that the consideration is anticipated to be a combination of Ordinary Shares and cash. At this time in the Company’s life cycle, it is not anticipated that the Company will be using any form of debt financing to finance an Acquisition. In the unlikely event that the Company requires debt financing, the Directors do not anticipate exceeding an amount equal to a multiple of x2 of the combined earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization of the Company and the relevant Acquisition target. Any funds not used for an Acquisition will be used for future acquisitions, internal or external growth and expansion and working capital in relation to the acquired company or business.
	Failure to make an Acquisition	If an Acquisition has not been announced within 24 months of Admission, the Board will recommend to Shareholders that the Company continue to pursue an Acquisition for a further 24 months from the second anniversary of Admission or that the Company be wound up (in order to return capital to Shareholders to the extent assets are available). The Board’s recommendation will then be put to a Shareholder vote (from which the Directors will abstain).
	Business strategy and execution	The Directors intend to make investments that generate value for shareholders across a number of different sectors, but given the Directors’ experience is within the financial services and ‘fintech’ sectors, the Company’s initial focus is likely to be on companies or businesses operating in this area.
B.4.	Significant trends	The Company has not yet commenced business. There are therefore no known trends affecting the Company. In terms of industry trends, the Directors believe that in today’s fast-paced financial services sector, technology-based solutions offer financial institutions the opportunity to telescope their appetite for innovation and create innovative business models that enhance bottom line performance for customers and shareholders. According to EY’s Fintech Adoption Index, nearly a third of worldwide consumers use two or more financial technology services. As more consumers adopt non-traditional financial services providers, this requires financial institutions to adapt their mindsets to be open to

		fintech innovations in order to embrace these developments and keep their customers. The financial technology industry is growing significantly and received $17.4 billion in investment in 2017. The total value of the worldwide investment into the fintech industry has grown at about a 48.8% CAGR since 2008, or from approximately $1 billion to about $24 billion. The most significant opportunity is fintech's ability to disrupt the often inefficient financial services industry worth approximately $25 trillion annually. The Directors are aware of the significant potential and fast changing nature of the fintech industry and plan to identify a suitable fintech business for acquisition and develop the business globally.
B.5.	Group structure	Not applicable; the Company is not part of a group.
B.6.	Major shareholders	On Admission, the following Shareholders will have a notifiable interest in the issued shares of the Company (being Shareholders with over 3% of the issued shares of the Company).

SECTION C—SECURITIES
C.1.	Description of the type and the class of the securities being offered	It is not envisaged that there will be any offering of Ordinary Shares other than the Admission Subscription. The Ordinary Shares will be registered with ISIN number KYG4598W1024 and SEDOL number BGR5JO2.
C.2.	Currency of the securities issue	The currency of the Ordinary Shares is pounds sterling and the Subscription Price shall be paid in pounds sterling.
C.3.	Issued share capital	The Initial Shareholders were issued the Initial Shareholders' Shares on 25 April 2018. Pursuant to the shareholder resolutions passed on 29 November 2018, (i) the Company's share capital was redenominated into pounds sterling; (ii) the Company's authorised share capital was increased to £10,000,000 divided into 1,000,000,000 Ordinary Shares of £0.01; and (iii) a further 50,000 Ordinary Shares were issued for $50,000, the proceeds of which were used to buy back the 50,000 shares of US$1 each in connection with redenomination of share capital. As at the date of this Document, there are therefore 50,000 Ordinary Shares in issue and fully paid. At the date of this Document the Company has also received commitments from Investors to subscribe for 24,591,350 New Ordinary Shares in connection with and conditional on Admission pursuant to the Admission Subscription.
C.4.	Rights attached to the securities	The Company may issue shares with such rights or restrictions as may be determined by ordinary resolution or as the Board shall determine, including shares which are to be redeemed, or are liable to be redeemed at the option of the Company or the holder of such shares. Shareholders will have the right to receive notice of and to attend and vote at any meetings of members. Each Shareholder entitled to attend and being present in person or by proxy at a meeting will, upon a show of hands, have one vote and upon a poll each such Shareholder present in person or by proxy will have one vote for each Ordinary Share held by him. The Company shall hold an annual general meeting each year in addition to any general meeting held in the year. The Directors can call a general meeting at any time in accordance with the Articles. All members who are entitled to receive notice under the Articles must be given

		notice. The Directors are generally empowered to allot shares. Unless otherwise approved by a Special Resolution, any such issue must be for cash and offered pro-rata to existing shareholders. The Company may, subject to the provisions of the Cayman Islands Companies Law and the Articles, by ordinary resolution from time to time declare dividends to be paid to members not exceeding the amount recommended by the Directors. If the Company is wound up, the Shareholders may, subject to the Articles and any other sanctions required by the Cayman Islands Companies Law, pass a special resolution allowing the liquidator to do either or both of the following: (i) divide in specie among the Shareholders the whole or any part of the assets of the Company and, for that purpose, value any assets and determine how the division should be carried out as between the Shareholders or different classes of Shareholder; and/or (ii) vest the whole or any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of the members and those liable to contribute to the winding up. No member shall be compelled to accept any assets upon which there is a liability.
C.5.	Restrictions on transferability	Not applicable; all Ordinary Shares are freely transferable.
C.6.	Application for admission to trading on a regulated market	Application has been made for the Ordinary Shares to be admitted to the Official List of the UK Listing Authority (by way of a standard listing under Chapter 14 of the listing rules published by the UK Listing Authority under section 73 of FSMA as amended from time to time) and to the London Stock Exchange for such Ordinary Shares to be admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange's main market for listed securities. It is expected that Admission will become effective and that unconditional dealings will commence at 8.00 a.m. on 7 December 2018.
C.7.	Dividend policy	The Company intends to pay dividends on the Ordinary Shares following an Acquisition at such times (if any) and in such amounts (if any) as the Board determines appropriate. Prior to an Acquisition it is unlikely that the Company will have any earnings but to the extent the Company has any earnings it is the Company's current intention to retain any such earnings for use in its business operations, and the Company does not anticipate declaring any dividends in the foreseeable future. The Company will only pay dividends to the extent that to do so is in accordance with the Cayman Islands Companies Law and all other applicable laws.

SECTION D—RISKS

D.1	Key information on the key risks that are specific to the issuer or its industry	The Company is a newly formed entity with no operating history and has not yet identified an Acquisition. As such, the Company has no representative track record or operating history upon which investors can base their investment decisions. An investment in the Company is therefore subject to all of the risks and uncertainties associated with any new business enterprise including the risk that the Company will not achieve its investment objectives and that the value of an investment in the Company could decline and may result in the total loss of all capital invested. In addition, the Company may consider an Acquisition target which is not yet, or which may not become, profitable following any Acquisition. Unless required by applicable law or other regulatory process, no Shareholder approval will be sought by the Company in relation to an Acquisition. Investors will therefore be relying on the Company's and the Founders' ability to identify potential targets, evaluate their merits, conduct or monitor due diligence and conduct negotiations. There is no assurance that the Company will identify suitable Acquisition opportunities in a timely manner or at all which could result in a loss in your investment. The Company may need to contract with consultants who have more industry knowledge and experience in order to assist with identifying Acquisition targets or to assist with operational matters following an Acquisition. This will result in higher operating costs which will have an impact on the amount of funds available to the Company for Acquisitions. The Company intends to issue Ordinary Shares to partly satisfy the consideration for an Acquisition which will result in the existing Shareholders' holdings being subject to dilution as a result of the issue of more Ordinary Shares. The Company may acquire either less than whole voting control of, or less than a controlling equity interest in, a target, which may limit its operational strategies. The Company may be unable to fund the operations of the target business if it does not obtain additional funding following completion of an Acquisition. The Company is dependent upon the Directors, and in particular, Wanbao Xu, who serves as the Executive Director, to identify potential Acquisition opportunities and to execute any Acquisition. The unexpected loss of the services of Wanbao Xu or other Directors could have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to identify potential Acquisition opportunities and to execute an Acquisition.

		Whilst the Directors are not limited in any way (other than by their normal duties as company directors) by way of their involvement with the Company from acting in the management or conduct of the affairs of any other company, Mr Carew-Wootton and Mr Edwards intend to commit an amount of time to the Company that would be standard for a non-executive director working in the sector. If Mr Carew-Wootton's and Mr Edwards's other business opportunities require them to devote more amounts of time to such affairs, it could limit the time that they are able to spend on the Company's business, which could have a negative impact on the Company's ability to complete an Acquisition. Should any conflicts of interest be identified they will be dealt with and resolved appropriately by such members of the Board that are not subject to the relevant conflict. Any due diligence by the Company in connection with an Acquisition may not reveal all relevant considerations or liabilities of the target business, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition or results of operation. The Company may invest in or acquire unquoted companies, joint ventures or projects which, amongst other things, may be leveraged, have limited operating histories, have limited financial resources or may require additional capital. The Company has no previous operating history and is reliant on the experience of the Directors to implement the Company's strategy. The loss of the services of any of its Directors, for any reason, or failure to attract and retain necessary personnel in the future, could adversely impact the business development, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of the Company. In addition, any failure to recruit and retain effective personnel may have an impact on the Company. The Company will be required to incur certain costs in researching and implementing an Acquisition. There is no guarantee that any Acquisition will be successful, but the initial costs will be incurred regardless of whether any potential Acquisition reaches completion or not. Future growth of the Company will be dependent on the Directors' ability to manage the Company and maintain effective cost controls. Failure in this area may result in a material adverse effect on the Company. Two-thirds of the board of Directors is non-executive and therefore will not be allocating all of their time to the Company's affairs, which could have a negative impact on the Company's ability to complete the Acquisition. Wanbao Xu holds a significant stake in the Company and will be able to influence all matters requiring Shareholders' approval. Mr Xu's interests may not be aligned with the interests of the other Shareholders and, notwithstanding entry into the Relationship Agreement

		with the Company, the Company cannot be certain that this will address all eventualities. The acquisition of financial services businesses must often be made conditional on the approval of the relevant governing regulatory body as to the identity and suitability of the buyer. D.2	Key information on the key risks that are specific to the securities	The Ordinary Shares The proposed Standard Listing of the Ordinary Shares will not afford Shareholders the opportunity to vote to approve an Acquisition unless the relevant Acquisition requires Shareholder approval under applicable law or other regulatory process. A suspension of the Company's Ordinary Shares, as a result of the FCA determining that there is insufficient information in the market about an Acquisition or the target, would materially reduce liquidity in such shares, which may affect an Investor's ability to realise some or all of its investment and/or the price at which such Investor can effect such realisation. In the event of such suspension, the value of the Investors' shareholdings may be materially reduced. It may be necessary for the Company to apply for readmission of the Company's Ordinary Shares to the extent that an Acquisition is treated as a reverse takeover for the purposes of Chapter 5 of the Listing Rules. A cancellation of the listing of the Company's Ordinary Shares by the FCA would prevent the Company from raising equity finance on the public market, or to carry out a further acquisition using share consideration, restricting its business activities and resulting in incurring unnecessary costs. The Company is applying for a Standard Listing on the Official List in accordance with Chapter 14 of the Listing Rules. As a result, the Shareholders will be afforded a lower level of regulatory protection than that afforded to investors of a company with a Premium Listing. For example, the Company will not be appointing a sponsor to guide the Company in understanding and meeting its responsibilities under the Listing Rules in connection with certain matters. The application of the Listing Rules regarding significant transactions and related party transactions (which requires shareholder approval if a company has a Premium Listing) will not apply to the Company. In addition, the UK Listing Authority will not have the authority to (and will not) monitor the Company's compliance with any of the Listing Rules which the Company has indicated that it intends to comply with on a voluntary basis, nor to impose sanctions in respect of any failure by the Company so to comply. There is no existing market for the Company's Ordinary

		Shares and an active trading market for the Ordinary Shares may not develop, or if developed, may not be maintained. In addition, even if a market develops, the price of the Ordinary Shares may be subject to volatility due to a number of factors which may be unrelated to the Company's operating performance and might be outside the Company's control. As a result of such volatility, Shareholders may experience a negative or no return on monies invested in the Company. Following Admission, the Company may need to raise additional funds in order to finance the business or to make an Acquisition. If additional funds are required, the existing Shareholders' holdings may be subject to dilution and/or issued shares may have preferred rights, options or pre-emption rights senior to those of the Ordinary Shares.
SECTION E—ADMISSION SUBSCRIPTION
E.1	Total net proceeds / expenses	The Net Proceeds will be approximately £2,027,735. The total expenses incurred (or to be incurred) by the Company in connection with Admission, the Admission Subscription and the incorporation (and initial capitalisation) of the Company are approximately £431,400.
E.2a	Reasons for the offer and use of proceeds	The Company has been formed to undertake an Acquisition. The expected target value for an Acquisition will be relative to the market capitalisation of the Company given that the consideration is anticipated to be a combination of Ordinary Shares and cash. The Company expects that any funds not used in connection with an Acquisition will be used for future acquisitions, internal or external growth and expansion, and working capital in relation to the acquired company or business. The Company intends to use a combination of shares and cash as consideration for an Acquisition. The Company will not exclude other geographic regions where the Company can operate competitively and have appropriate access to the relevant client base. Following completion of an Acquisition, the objective of the Company is expected to be to operate the acquired business and implement an operating strategy with a view to generating value for its shareholders. Prior to completing an Acquisition, the Net Proceeds will be held in the bank account of the Company held with DBS Bank Ltd, Singapore or such money market fund instruments as approved by the Directors and will be used for general corporate purposes, including paying the expenses of the Admission Subscription, and the Company's ongoing costs and expenses, including directors' fees, due diligence costs and other costs of

E.3	Terms and conditions of the offer	Investors entering into Subscription Agreements or Placing Letter have agreed, conditional on Admission having become effective on or before 8.00 a.m. on 7 December 2018 (or such later time as the Company may agree) to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares at the Subscription Price of GBP 0.10. The Company, Wanbao Xu, Shao Zhiying and Fush Financial Investment Co., Ltd have entered into the Relationship Agreement with the Company to take effect on or around the date of Admission pursuant to which all transactions and arrangements between the Company, Wanbao Xu, Shao Zhiying and Fush Financial Investment Co., Ltd will be at arms' length and on normal commercial terms.

E.6	Dilution	Pursuant to the Admission Subscription, 24,591,350 New Ordinary Shares have been subscribed for by Investors at the Subscription Price conditional on Admission, representing 99.80 per cent. of the Enlarged Share Capital. The Admission Subscription will result in the Initial Shareholders' Shares being diluted so as to constitute 0.20% in aggregate of the Enlarged Share Capital.
E.7	Expenses charged to investors	No costs or expenses of the Admission Subscription will be charged to the Investors.

RISK FACTORS

Investment in the Company and the Ordinary Shares carries a significant degree of risk, including risks in relation to the Company's business strategy, potential conflicts of interest, risks relating to taxation and risks relating to the Ordinary Shares.

Prospective investors should note that the risks relating to the Company, its proposed sector of activity and the Ordinary Shares summarised in the section of this document headed "Summary" are the risks that the Directors believe to be the most essential to an assessment by a prospective investor of whether to consider an investment in the Ordinary Shares. However, as the risks which the Company faces relate to events and depend on circumstances that may or may not occur in the future, prospective investors should consider not only the information on the key risks summarised in the section of this document headed "Summary" but also, among other things, the risks and uncertainties described below.

The risks referred to below are those risks the Company and the Directors consider to be the material risks relating to the Company. However, there may be additional risks that the Company and the Directors do not currently consider to be material or of which the Company and the Directors are not currently aware that may adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects. Investors should review this Document carefully and in its entirety and consult with their professional advisers before acquiring any Ordinary Shares. If any of the risks referred to in this Document were to occur, the results of operations, financial condition and prospects of the Company could be materially adversely affected. If that were to be the case, the trading price of the Ordinary Shares and/or the level of dividends or distributions (if any) received from the Ordinary Shares could decline significantly. Further, Investors could lose all or part of their investment.

RISKS RELATING TO THE COMPANY'S BUSINESS STRATEGY

The Company is a newly formed entity with no operating history and has not yet identified any potential target company or business for an Acquisition

The Company is a newly formed entity with no operating results and it will not commence operations prior to obtaining the Net Proceeds. The Company lacks an operating history and therefore Investors have no basis on which to evaluate the Company's ability to achieve its objective of identifying, acquiring and operating a company or business. Currently, there are no plans, arrangements or understandings with any prospective target company or business regarding an Acquisition and the Company may acquire a target company or business that does not meet the Company's stated acquisition criteria. The Company will not generate any revenues from operations unless it completes an Acquisition.

Unless required by applicable law or other regulatory process, no Shareholder approval will be sought by the Company in relation to an Acquisition. Investors will therefore be relying on the Company's and the Founders' ability to identify potential targets, evaluate their merits, conduct or monitor due diligence and conduct negotiations.

Although the Company will seek to evaluate the risks inherent in a particular target business (including the industries and geographic regions in which it operates), it cannot offer any assurance that it will make a proper discovery or assessment of all of the significant risks. Furthermore, no assurance may be made that an investment in Ordinary Shares will ultimately prove to be more favourable to Investors than a direct investment, if such opportunity were available, in any target company or business. In addition, the Company may consider an Acquisition target which is not yet, or which may not become, profitable following any Acquisition.

There is no assurance that the Company will identify suitable Acquisition opportunities in a timely manner or at all which could result in a loss of your investment

The success of the Company's business strategy is dependent on its ability to identify sufficient suitable Acquisition opportunities. The Company cannot estimate how long it will take to identify suitable Acquisition opportunities or whether it will be able to identify any suitable Acquisition opportunities at all within one year after the date of Admission. If the Company fails to complete a proposed Acquisition (for example, because it has been outbid by a competitor) it may be left with substantial unrecovered transaction costs, potentially including fees, legal costs, accounting costs, due diligence or other expenses to allow it to pursue further opportunities. Furthermore, even if an agreement is reached relating to a proposed Acquisition, the Company may fail to complete such Acquisition for reasons beyond its control. Any such event will result in a loss to the Company of the related costs incurred, which could materially adversely affect subsequent attempts to identify and acquire another target business.

In the event that an Acquisition has not been announced within 24 months of Admission the Board will ask Shareholders to approve either to continue pursuing an Acquisition for a further 24 months or the liquidation and dissolution of the Company and distribution of the remaining assets of the Company (if any) to Shareholders in accordance with the Articles. A liquidation might result in Investors receiving less than the initial subscription price of GBP0.10 per Ordinary Share and investors who acquired Ordinary Shares after Admission potentially receiving less than they invested.

Wanbao Xu and Shao Zhiying indirectly control approximately 68.53 per cent. of the voting rights in the Company as at Admission and it may conflict with the interests of Investors

Following Admission, Wanbao Xu and Shao Zhiying will control approximately 68.53 per cent of the votes cast at the general meeting of the company through Fush Financial Investment Co., Ltd (being held a company beneficially owned by Wanbao Xu and Shao Zhiying). This level of voting power means that Wanbao Xu and Shao Zhiying exercise substantial control over the Company and have the power to influence resolutions passed by the Company.

In addition, Wanbao Xu is an executive director of the Company and Shao Zhiying is a member of the senior management team of the Company. Wanbao Xu, Shao Zhiying and Fush Financial Investment Co., Ltd have entered into the Relationship Agreement with the Company to take effect on or around the date of Admission pursuant to which all transactions and arrangements between the Company, Wanbao Xu, Shao Zhiying and Fush Financial Investment Co., Ltd will be at arms' length and on normal commercial terms.

Although the Relationship Agreement is entered into to prevent Wanbao Xu and Shao Zhiying from abusing their indirect control of the Company, the interests of Wanbao Xu and Shao Zhiying may not be the same as the interests of minority shareholders or investors in the Company and they may make decisions which may have an adverse effect on investments in Ordinary Shares and or the business operations of the Company. Minority shareholders have a limited ability to block or challenge such decisions through the constitutional documents of the Company and the Relationship Agreement.

The Board may need to appoint consultants with specialist industry knowledge

Whilst the Board comprises a knowledgeable and experienced group of professionals with extensive experience of financial services and fintech, the Company may need to contract with consultants who have more industry knowledge and experience in order to assist with identifying or selecting a target in respect of an Acquisition or to assist with certain operational matters following an Acquisition. Contracting additional personnel will mean the Company will have higher operating costs which will have a negative impact on the funds available to the Company for Acquisitions.

The Company intends to issue Ordinary Shares as consideration for an Acquisition

The Company intends to issue Ordinary Shares as consideration for an Acquisition. There is no guarantee that Ordinary Shares will be an attractive offer for the shareholders of any company or business which the Company identifies as a suitable Acquisition opportunity. If the Company fails to identify a target company which is willing to accept share consideration, it may have to raise additional cash funds (or, if the circumstances require, use debt financing) and may be left with substantial unrecovered transaction costs, potentially including fees, legal costs, accounting costs, due diligence or other expenses which will affect the Company's ability to carry out future Acquisitions. In addition, the existing Shareholders' holdings will be subject to dilution as a result of the issue of Ordinary Shares to partly satisfy the consideration due in respect of an Acquisition.

Even if the Company completes an Acquisition, there is no assurance that any operating improvements will be successful or, that they will be effective in increasing the valuation of any business acquired

Following an Acquisition the Company will endeavour to generate Shareholder value through capital adequacy, operational improvements, economies of scale and through an acquisition programme. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to propose and implement effective operational improvements for any company or business which the Company acquires. In addition, even if the Company completes an Acquisition, general economic and market conditions or other factors outside the Company's control could make the Company's operating strategies difficult or impossible to implement. Any failure to implement these operational improvements successfully and/or the failure of these operational improvements to deliver the anticipated benefits could have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations and financial condition.

The Company may face significant competition for Acquisition opportunities

There may be significant competition for some or all of the Acquisition opportunities that the Company may explore. Such competition may for example come from strategic buyers, sovereign wealth funds, other special purpose acquisition companies and public and private investment funds many of which are well established and have extensive experience in identifying and completing acquisitions. A number of these competitors may possess greater technical, financial, human and other resources than the Company. The Company cannot assure Investors that it will be successful against such competition. Such competition may cause the Company to be unsuccessful in executing an Acquisition or may result in a successful Acquisition being made at a significantly higher price than would otherwise have been the case.

Any due diligence by the Company in connection with an Acquisition may not reveal all relevant considerations or liabilities of the target business, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition or results of operations

The Company intends to conduct such due diligence as it deems reasonably practicable and appropriate based on the facts and circumstances applicable to any potential Acquisition. The objective of the due diligence process will be to identify material issues which might affect the decision to proceed with any one particular acquisition target or the consideration payable for an Acquisition. The Company also intends to use information revealed during the due diligence process to formulate its business and operational planning for, and its valuation of, any target company or business. Whilst conducting due diligence and assessing a potential Acquisition, the Company will rely on publicly available information, if any, information provided by the relevant target company to the extent such company is willing or able to provide such information and, in some circumstances, third party investigations.

There can be no assurance that the due diligence undertaken with respect to a potential Acquisition will reveal all relevant facts that may be necessary to evaluate such Acquisition including the determination of the price the Company may pay for an acquisition target, or to formulate a business strategy. Furthermore, the information provided during due diligence may be incomplete, inadequate or inaccurate. As part of the due diligence process, the Company will also make subjective judgments regarding the results of operations, financial condition and prospects of a potential opportunity. If the due diligence investigation fails to correctly identify material issues and liabilities that may be present in a target company or business, or if the Company considers such material risks to be commercially acceptable relative to the opportunity, and the Company proceeds with an Acquisition, the Company may subsequently incur substantial impairment charges or other losses. In addition, following an Acquisition, the Company may be subject to significant, previously undisclosed liabilities of the acquired business that were not identified during due diligence and which could contribute to poor operational performance, undermine any attempt to restructure the acquired company or business in line with the Company's business plan and have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition and results of operations.

If the Company acquires less than either the whole voting control of, or less than the entire equity interest in, a target company or business, its decision-making authority to implement its plans may be limited and third party minority shareholders may dispute the Company's strategy

The Company intends to acquire a controlling interest in a single target company or business. Although the Company (or its successor) may acquire the whole voting control of a target company or business, it may consider acquiring a controlling interest constituting less than the whole voting control or less than the entire equity interest of that target company or business if such opportunity is attractive or where the Company (or its successor) would acquire sufficient influence to implement its strategy. If the Company acquires either less than the whole voting control of, or less than the entire equity interest in, a target company or business, the remaining ownership interest will be held by third parties. Accordingly, the Company's decision-making authority may be limited. Such Acquisition may also involve the risk that such third parties may become insolvent or unable or unwilling to fund additional investments in the target. Such third parties may also have interests which are inconsistent or conflict with the Company's interests, or they may obstruct the Company's strategy for the target or propose an alternative strategy. Any third party's interests may be contrary to the Company's interests. In addition, disputes among the Company and any such third parties could result in litigation or arbitration. Any of these events could impair the Company's objectives and strategy, which could have a material adverse effect on the continued development or growth of the acquired company or business.

The Company may be unable to complete an Acquisition or to fund the operations of the target business if it does not obtain additional funding

Although the Company has not identified a prospective target company or business and cannot currently predict the amount of additional capital that may be required, once an Acquisition has been made, if the target is not sufficiently cost generative, further funds may need to be raised.

If, following an Acquisition, the Company's cash reserves are insufficient, the Company will likely be required to seek additional equity or debt financing. The Company may not receive sufficient support from its existing Shareholders to raise additional equity, and new equity investors may be unwilling to invest on terms that are favourable to the Company, or at all. Lenders may be unwilling to extend debt financing to the Company on attractive terms, or at all. To the extent that additional equity or debt financing is necessary to complete an Acquisition and remains unavailable or only available on terms that are unacceptable to the Company, the Company may be compelled either to restructure or abandon the Acquisition, or proceed with the Acquisition on less favourable terms, which may reduce the Company's return on the investment.

Even if additional financing is unnecessary to complete an Acquisition, the Company may subsequently require equity or debt financing to implement operational improvements in the acquired business. The failure to secure additional financing or to secure such additional financing on terms acceptable to the Company could have a material adverse effect on the continued development or growth of the acquired business.

The Company may issue shares or convertible debt securities or incur indebtedness to complete an Acquisition, which may dilute the interests of Shareholders or present other risks, including a decline in post-acquisition operating results due to increased interest expense or an adverse effect on liquidity as a result of acceleration of its indebtedness

Any issuance of Ordinary Shares, preferred shares or convertible debt securities may:

- significantly dilute the value of the Ordinary Shares held by existing Shareholders;
- cause a Change of Control if a substantial number of Ordinary Shares are issued, which may, among other things, result in the resignation or removal of one or more of the Directors;
- in certain circumstances, have the effect of delaying or preventing a Change of Control;
- subordinate the rights of holders of Ordinary Shares if preferred shares are issued with rights senior to those of Ordinary Shares; or
- adversely affect the market prices of the Ordinary Shares.

Where Ordinary Shares, preferred shares or convertible debt securities are issued as consideration for an Acquisition, existing Shareholders will have no pre-emptive rights with regard to the securities that are issued. The issuance of such Ordinary Shares, preferred shares or convertible debt securities is likely to materially dilute the value of the Ordinary Shares held by existing Shareholders. Where a target company has an existing large shareholder, an issue of Ordinary Shares, preferred shares or convertible debt securities as consideration may result in such shareholder subsequently holding a significant or majority stake in the Company, which may, in turn, enable it to exert significant influence over the Company (to a greater or lesser extent depending on the size of its holding). The Company has entered into the Relationship Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 6 of the Listing Rules which apply to Premium Listed companies but this does not guarantee that the Company will be able to ensure that it will at all times be capable of carrying on business independently of the Significant Shareholder and that all transactions and arrangements between the Company and the Significant Shareholder are carried out at arm's length and on normal commercial terms.

Although the Company intends to use cash and share consideration in relation to an Acquisition, the Company may choose to finance a portion of an Acquisition with debt financing subject to it being able to service the interest and manage the repayment of the debt following an Acquisition by virtue of a reliable sales outlook. The maximum aggregate amount of debt would be unlikely to exceed an amount greater than a multiple of x2 the combined earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization of the Company and the relevant Acquisition target. Whilst the Company does not envisage incurring any indebtedness in relation to an Acquisition, if this were to be the case, indebtedness could result in:

- default and foreclosure on the Company's assets, if its cash flow from operations were insufficient to pay its debt obligations as they become due;
- acceleration of its obligation to repay indebtedness, even if it has made all payments when due, if it breaches, without a waiver, covenants that require the maintenance of financial ratios or reserves or impose operating restrictions;
- a demand for immediate payment of all principal and accrued interest, if any, if the indebtedness is payable on demand; or
- an inability to obtain additional financing, if any indebtedness incurred contains covenants restricting its ability to incur additional indebtedness.

The occurrence of any or a combination of these factors could decrease a Shareholder's ownership interests in the Company or have a material adverse effect on its financial condition and results of operations.

An Acquisition may result in adverse tax, regulatory or other consequences for Shareholders which may differ for individual Shareholders depending on their status and residence

As no Acquisition target has yet been identified, it is possible that any acquisition structure determined necessary by the Company to consummate an Acquisition may have adverse tax, regulatory or other consequences for Shareholders which may differ for individual Shareholders depending on their individual status and residence.

The Company may be unable to hire or retain personnel required to support the Company after an Acquisition

Following completion of an Acquisition, the Company will evaluate the personnel of the acquired business and may determine that it requires increased support to operate and manage the acquired business in accordance with the Company's overall business strategy. There can be no assurance that existing personnel of the acquired business will be adequate or qualified to carry out the Company's strategy, or that the Company will be able to hire or retain experienced, qualified employees to carry out the Company's strategy.

The Company will be subject to restrictions in offering its Ordinary Shares as consideration for an Acquisition in certain jurisdictions and may have to provide alternative consideration, which may have an adverse effect on its operations

The Company may offer its Ordinary Shares or other securities as part of the consideration to fund, or in connection with, an Acquisition. However, certain jurisdictions may restrict the Company's use of its Ordinary Shares or other securities for this purpose, which could result in the Company needing to use alternative sources of consideration. Such restrictions may limit the Company's available Acquisition opportunities or make a certain Acquisition more costly.

If an Acquisition is completed, the Company will be a holding company whose principal source of operating cash will be income received from the business it has acquired

If an Acquisition is identified and subsequently completed, the Company will be dependent on the income generated by the acquired business to meet the Company's expenses and operating cash requirements. The amount of distributions and dividends, if any, which may be paid from any operating subsidiary to the Company will depend on many factors, including such subsidiary's results of operations and financial condition, limits on dividends under applicable law, its constitutional documents, documents governing any indebtedness of the Company, and other factors which may be outside the control of the Company. If the acquired business is unable to generate sufficient cash flow, the Company may be unable to pay its expenses or make distributions and dividends on the Ordinary Shares.

The Company expects to acquire a controlling interest in a single company or business which will increase the risk of loss associated with underperforming assets

The Company expects that if an Acquisition is completed, its business risk will be concentrated in a single company or business unless or until any additional Acquisitions are made. A consequence of this is that returns for Shareholders may be adversely affected if growth in the value of the acquired business is not achieved or if value of the acquired business or any of its material assets subsequently are written down. Accordingly, Shareholders should be aware that the risk of investing in the Company could be greater than investing in an entity which owns or operates a range of businesses and businesses in a range of sectors. The Company's future performance and ability to achieve positive returns for Shareholders will therefore be solely dependent on the subsequent performance of the acquired business. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to propose effective operational and restructuring strategies for any company or business which the Company acquires and, to the extent that such strategies are proposed, there can be no assurance they will be implemented effectively.

The Company may be subject to foreign investment and exchange risks

The Company's functional and presentational currency is pounds sterling. As a result, the Company's consolidated financial statements will carry the Company's assets in pounds sterling. Any business the Company acquires may denominate its financial information in a currency other than pounds sterling, conduct operations or make sales in currencies other than pounds sterling. When consolidating a business that has functional currencies other than pounds sterling, the Company will be required to translate, inter alia, the balance sheet and operational results of such business into pounds sterling. Due to the foregoing, changes in exchange rates between pounds sterling and other currencies could lead to significant changes in the Company's reported financial results from period to period. Among the factors that may affect currency values are trade balances, levels of short-term interest rates, differences in relative values of similar assets in different currencies, long-term opportunities for investment and capital appreciation and political or regulatory developments. Although the Company may seek to manage its foreign exchange exposure, including by active use of hedging and derivative instruments, there is no assurance that such arrangements will be entered into or available at all times when the Company wishes to use them or that they will be sufficient to cover the risk.

The Company may be subject to risks particular to one or more countries in which it ultimately operates, which could negatively impact its operations

Whilst the Company anticipates that any proposed Acquisition target will be located in Europe and Asia, the Company may acquire a target company or business in another jurisdiction, or with substantial operations in, a number of jurisdictions, any of which may expose it to considerations or risks associated with companies operating in such jurisdictions, including but not limited to: regulatory and political uncertainty; tariffs, trade barriers and regulations related to customs and import/export matters; international tax issues, such as tax law changes and variations in tax laws; cultural and language differences; rules and regulations on currency conversion or corporate withholding taxes on individuals; currency fluctuations and exchange controls; employment regulations; crime, strikes, riots, civil disturbances, terrorist attacks and wars; and deterioration of relevant political relations. Any exposure to such risks due to the countries in which the Company operates following an Acquisition could negatively impact the Company's operations.

The Company may be subject to regulatory compliance risk

Any future regulatory changes may potentially restrict the operations of the Company following an Acquisition in such industry, impose increased compliance and regulatory capital costs, reduce investment returns or increase associated fees, increase corporate governance/supervision costs, reduce the competitiveness of any business of the Company, reduce the ability of the Company to hire and retain key personnel or impose restrictions on whether individuals may be appointed or retained as directors of the Company and impose other restrictions and obligations which could adversely affect the Company's profitability.

Areas where changes could have an impact, other than those highlighted above, include:

- the monetary, interest rate and other policies of central banks and regulatory authorities;
- changes in government or regulatory policies that may significantly influence investor decisions in particular markets in which the Company may have operations;
- changes in the regulatory requirements, for example, rules designed to promote financial stability and increase depositor protection;
- changes in competition and pricing environments;
- developments in the financial reporting environment;
- new financial transaction related or other taxes;
- financial stability measures, fiscal budget controls, exchange controls and controls on the international movement of capital; and
- expropriation, nationalisation, confiscation of assets and changes in legislation relating to foreign ownership.

Regulations to which the Company may be subject may also be interpreted or applied differently than in the past, which could have an adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and/or prospects.

The Company may invest in or acquire unquoted companies, joint ventures or projects which, amongst other things, may be leveraged, have limited operating histories, have limited financial resources or may require additional capital

All or any of these factors may have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of the Company. For investments in companies which are at a relatively early stage of development, there can be no assurance that successful operations will develop and such operations may require the injection of further capital that the Company is unable or unwilling to meet, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company. Investments in unquoted companies and companies quoted on exchanges other than the Official List may involve a higher degree of risk and Shareholders may have fewer regulatory protections than investments on the Official List. The shares of such companies may also be less liquid which could affect the Company's ability to realise its investment. The companies in which the Company may invest will be subject to market factors and as such may experience decreased revenues, financial losses and requirements for additional funding. Whilst the Company is intending to invest for the longer term and thus many of these risks may be mitigated over time, there remains a risk that the requirements of the Company's investments may have a negative impact on the operating performance of the Company. Further, whilst the Company would only likely acquire a target with debt at or below an amount equal to a multiple of x2 of the combined earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization of the Company and the relevant Acquisition target, such debt could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of the Company going forward.

Competition

The Company's intended activities are within a competitive market. Many of the Company's competitors will have greater financial and other resources than the Company and, as a result, may be in a better position to compete for potential investment opportunities. As has been well publicized, large banks have made strategic acquisitions in the fintech M&A space, including Goldman Sachs, Bank of America, Wells Fargo, Citi and Morgan Stanley. European banks such as BBVA and new financial companies such as Klarna have also been active in acquiring early stage fintech businesses. Private equity is also a feature in the market, with Permira, Advent and Bain all acquiring payment processing businesses in the last 18 months. There are also other listed special purpose acquisition companies and funds which are seeking investments in the fintech sector, for example Golden Rock Global plc and Augmentum Fintech plc. This competition could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition, results or operations as well as the Company's ability to attract and retain highly skilled individuals. There can be no assurance that the Company can, or will be able to, compete effectively.

RISKS RELATING TO AN ACQUISITION TARGET'S PROPOSED AREA OF OPERATION

The Company may be subject to regulatory and compliance risk following the Acquisition

The fintech sector is developing rapidly and the regulatory environment is consequently subject to near constant change and updating to keep pace with innovation and disruption in financial services, markets and products. There are a large number of rules, regulations and laws applicable to the fintech sector and the marketing, use and development of innovative financial services products. The Company will be required to comply with these and interact with the relevant regulator to ensure that it is complying with law applicable to it. Failure to comply with such rules, regulations and laws could lead to fines, public reprimands, damage to reputation, increased prudential requirements, enforced suspension of operations or, in extreme cases, a decline in business or withdrawal of authorisations to operate.

Factors arising out of changes to the regulatory climate which may negatively impact the financial services and fintech sector include:

- the monetary, interest rate and other policies of central banks and regulatory authorities;
- changes in government or regulatory policies of central banks and regulatory authorities, particularly following the UK's departure from the European Union in the year 2019;
- changes in the regulatory requirements, for example, rules designed to promote financial stability and increase;
- depositor protection;
- changes in competition and pricing environments;
- developments in the financial reporting environment;
- new financial transactions related to other taxes;
- restrictions on shadow banking and on core banking activities;
- increased burdens regarding a Company's duty to protect and manage personal data, (particularly in respect of block chain operations);
- restrictions on outsourcing by fintech firms of any given part of their businesses (e.g. their technological function) potentially increasing the regulatory compliance burden of such companies;
- technological advances meaning an increased risk in cyber threats or security which in turn could lead governments and regulators to impose new regulation on businesses operating in the fintech space;
- more onerous obligations on the Company arising out of the government and regulators requiring the Company to share information with them on cyber/security threats;
- financial stability measures (based on the supply, demand and performance of the relevant financial product or service on both domestic and international markets) on the international movement of capital;
- financial stability measures (dictated by the political or economic climate of the relevant business territory or territories in question), fiscal budget controls, exchange controls and controls on the international movement of capital; and
- expropriation, nationalisation, confiscation of assets and changes in legislation relating to foreign ownership.

Changes in interpretation or application of regulation may be further factors which could have an adverse effect on the operation, financial condition and general business of the Company.

The fintech sector is highly competitive

In the event that the Company acquires a company or business in the fintech sector, it is likely that the market in which it operates would be highly competitive. In particular, it is possible that its competitors would include companies and businesses with significantly greater financial and technological resources which enable them to meet evolving industry standards, changes in consumer needs, heavy competition and frequent new products and services introductions. If the Company fails to identify investment opportunities in response to these changes it could have an adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and/or prospects.

The fintech sector is largely a global market and high competition can also be expected from businesses with geographical bases external to the UK. Many of these foreign competitors are increasingly progressive, not only in terms of their innovative approach to industry standards, but also in their use and application of UK government and regulatory policy which supports fintech set-up and industry from overseas. Strong competition in the fintech sector is caused by factors such as (1) the pool of technical, financial services and entrepreneurial talent available to competitors in the same market who may be able to engage such talent on more favourable commercial terms than those engaged by the Company with its respective employees, (2) the amount of capital at the disposal of competing fintech businesses and how potentially more of that capital might be injected in to their re-investment or expansion plans in comparison to how much the Company can generate and re-invest, (3) the attitude and enforcement efforts of competing businesses' governments being more relaxed than those of the Company's immediate government as regards policy, regulation and taxation, (4) the end-client demand across consumers, corporates and financial institutions being greater in the immediate markets where competing businesses operate as opposed to demand in the operational markets of the Company.

Technological advances

The technologies surrounding products and services provided by companies in the fintech sector may be rendered obsolete by new inventions and technologies, which would adversely impact the Company in the event that it acquires a company or business in the fintech sector. In particular, the market for internet-related products is characterised by continued evolution in technology, evolving industry standards, changes in consumer needs, heavy competition and frequent new products and services introductions. If the Company fails to identify investment opportunities in response to these changes it could have an adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and/or prospects. Obligations to comply with UK regulatory requirements concerning investor/consumer protection, market integrity and money laundering may impede the speed and degree to which innovative technology can be implemented and incorporated in to the Company's operations. This in turn may therefore affect the competitive edge or USP of the Company's product or service creating a negative impact on sales, good will and market positioning of the Company.

Unauthorised disclosure of data, whether through cyber security breaches, computer viruses or otherwise could expose the Company (and any target business) to liability, protracted and costly litigation and damage its reputation

In the event that the Company acquires a company or business in the fintech sector, it is likely that the Company would process sensitive personal data (including, in certain instances consumer names and addresses and/or bank details) and therefore would have a responsibility to safeguard that data to certain third parties, including customers. With the introduction of the Data Protection Act 2018 (following the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)), the Company would be under significant scrutiny as regards its management of personal data following its potential Acquisition. In particular, the Company may be liable to fines of up to 20 million Euros or 4 per cent of its annual worldwide turnover if found to have seriously violated its duties under GDPR. Unauthorised data disclosure could occur through cyber security breaches as a result of malware infection and malicious or accidental user activity, internal security breaches or human error, or as a result of physical breaches where unauthorised personnel gain physical access to such data. Any loss, destruction or unauthorised modification of customer data could result in significant reputational damage, additional costs relating to customer compensation or other charges, fines, sanctions and proceedings against the Company or the company or business it acquires. This could in turn have an adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and/or prospects.

RISKS RELATING TO THE ORDINARY SHARES

The proposed Standard Listing of the Ordinary Shares will afford Investors a lower level of regulatory protection than a Premium Listing

Application will be made for the Ordinary Shares to be admitted to a Standard Listing on the Official List. A Standard Listing will afford Investors in the Company a lower level of regulatory protection than that afforded to investors in a company with a Premium Listing, which is subject to additional obligations under the Listing Rules.

Whilst the Company has a Standard Listing, it is not required to comply with the provisions of, among other things:

- Chapter 8 of the Listing Rules regarding the appointment of a sponsor to guide the Company in understanding and meeting its responsibilities under the Listing Rules in connection with certain matters. The Company has not and does not intend to appoint such a sponsor in connection with Admission;
- Chapter 9 of the Listing Rules regarding continuous obligations for a company with a Premium Listing;
- Chapter 10 of the Listing Rules relating to significant transactions. It should be noted therefore that any Acquisition will not require Shareholder consent, even if Ordinary Shares are being issued as consideration for an Acquisition;
- Chapter 11 of the Listing Rules regarding related party transactions. Nevertheless, the Company will not enter into any transaction which would constitute a "related party transaction" as defined in Chapter 11 of the Listing Rules without the specific prior approval of those Directors who do not constitute a related party;

- Chapter 12 of the Listing Rules regarding purchases by the Company of its Ordinary Shares. In particular, the Company has not adopted a policy consistent with the provisions of Listing Rules 12.4.1 and 12.4.2; and
- Chapter 13 of the Listing Rules regarding the form and content of circulars to be sent to Shareholders.

The Company may be unable to transfer to a Premium Listing or other appropriate stock market following an Acquisition

The Company is not currently eligible for a Premium Listing under Chapter 6 of the Listing Rules. Upon completion of an Acquisition, the Directors may seek to transfer from a Standard Listing to either a Premium Listing or other appropriate stock market, based on the track record of the company or business it acquires, subject to fulfilling the relevant eligibility criteria at the time. There can be no guarantee that the Company will meet such eligibility criteria or that a transfer to a Premium Listing or other appropriate stock market will be achieved. For example, such eligibility criteria may not be met, due to the circumstances and internal control systems of the acquired business or if the Company acquires less than a controlling interest in the target. In addition there may be a delay, which could be significant, between the completion of an Acquisition and the date upon which the Company is able to seek or achieve a Premium Listing or a listing on another stock exchange.

If the Company does not achieve a Premium Listing or the Directors decide to maintain the Standard Listing, the Company will not be obliged to comply with the higher standards of corporate governance or other requirements which it would be subject to upon achieving a Premium Listing and, for as long as the Company continues to have a Standard Listing, it will be required to continue to comply with the lesser standards applicable to a company with a Standard Listing. This would mean that the Company could be operating a substantial business but would not need to comply with such higher standards as a Premium Listing provides.

If the Company proposes making an Acquisition and the FCA determines that there is insufficient information in the market about an Acquisition or the target, the Ordinary Shares may be suspended from listing, which will reduce liquidity in the Ordinary Shares, potentially for a significant period of time, and may adversely affect the price at which a Shareholder can sell them.

If an Acquisition occurs, it will be treated as a reverse takeover (within the meaning given to that term in Chapter 5 of the Listing Rules).

Generally, when a reverse takeover is announced or leaked, there will be insufficient publicly available information in the market about the proposed transaction and the listed company will be unable to assess accurately its financial position and inform the market appropriately. In this case, the FCA will often consider that suspension of the listing of the listed company's securities will be appropriate. The London Stock Exchange will suspend the trading in the listed company's securities if the listing of such securities has been suspended. However, if the FCA is satisfied that there is sufficient publicly available information about the proposed transaction it may agree with the listed company that a suspension is not required. The FCA will generally be satisfied that a suspension is not required in the following circumstances: (i) the target company is admitted to listing on a regulated market or another exchange where the disclosure requirements in relation to financial information and inside information are not materially different than the disclosure requirements under the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules; or (ii) the issuer is able to fill any information gap at the time of announcing the terms of the transaction, including the disclosure of relevant financial information in relation to the target and a description of the target.

If information regarding a significant proposed transaction were to leak to the market, or the Board considered that there were good reasons for announcing the transaction at a time when it was unable to provide the market with sufficient information regarding the impact of an Acquisition on its financial position, the Ordinary Shares may be suspended. Any such suspension would be likely to continue until sufficient financial information on the transaction was made public. Depending on the nature of the transaction (or proposed transaction) and the stage at which it is leaked or announced, it may take a substantial period of time to compile the relevant information, particularly where the target does not have financial or other information readily available which is comparable with the information a listed company would be expected to provide under the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules and the Listing Rules (for example, where the target business is not itself already subject to a public disclosure regime), and the period during which the Ordinary Shares would be suspended may therefore be significant.

A suspension of the listing of the Ordinary Shares would materially reduce liquidity in such shares which may affect an Investor's ability to realise some or all of its investment and/or the price at which such Investor can effect such realisation.

On completion of a reverse takeover, the FCA may seek to cancel the listing of the Company's Ordinary Shares and they may not be readmitted to trading thereafter

Chapter 5 of the Listing Rules provide that the FCA will generally seek to cancel the listing of a listed company's securities when it completes a reverse takeover. In such circumstances, the Company may seek the re-admission to listing either simultaneously with completion of an Acquisition or as soon thereafter as is possible but there is no guarantee that such re-admission would be granted by the FCA. Unless required by applicable law or other regulatory process, no Shareholder approval will be sought by the Company.

A cancellation of the listing of the Ordinary Shares would materially reduce liquidity in such shares which may affect an Investor's ability to realise some or all of its investment and/or the price at which such Investor can effect such realisation. There is unlikely to be a market for shares where their listing has been cancelled and if a reverse takeover were to occur but the Company's Ordinary Shares were not readmitted, the Company would not be able raise any equity or debt financing on the public market, or carry out a further acquisition using listed share consideration, which would restrict its business activities and particularly result in incurring unnecessary costs.

There is currently no market for the Ordinary Shares, notwithstanding the Company's intention to be admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange. A market for the Ordinary Shares may not develop, which would adversely affect the liquidity and price of the Ordinary Shares

There is currently no market for the Ordinary Shares. Therefore, Investors cannot benefit from information about prior market history when making their decision to invest. The price of the Ordinary Shares after Admission also can vary due to a number of factors, including but not limited to, general economic conditions and forecasts, the Company's general business condition and the release of its financial reports. Although the Company's current intention is that its securities should continue to trade on the London Stock Exchange, it cannot assure you that it will always do so. In addition, an active trading market for the Ordinary Shares may not develop or, if developed, may not be maintained. Investors may be unable to sell their Ordinary Shares unless a market can be established and maintained, and if the Company subsequently obtains a listing on an exchange in addition to, or in lieu of, the London Stock Exchange, the level of liquidity of the Ordinary Shares may decline.

Investors may not be able to realise returns on their investment in Ordinary Shares within a period that they would consider to be reasonable Investments in Ordinary Shares may be relatively illiquid. There may be a limited number of Shareholders and this factor may contribute both to infrequent trading in the Ordinary Shares on the London Stock Exchange and to volatile Ordinary Share price movements. Investors should not expect that they will necessarily be able to realise their investment in Ordinary Shares within a period that they would regard as reasonable. Accordingly, the Ordinary Shares may not be suitable for short-term investment. Admission should not be taken as implying that there will be an active trading market for the Ordinary Shares. Even if an active trading market develops, the market price for the Ordinary Shares may fall below the price per Ordinary Share on Admission.

Dividend payments on the Ordinary Shares are not guaranteed and the Company does not intend to pay dividends prior to an Acquisition

To the extent the Company intends to pay dividends on the Ordinary Shares, it will pay such dividends following (but not before) an Acquisition, at such times (if any) and in such amounts (if any) as the Board determines appropriate and in accordance with applicable law, but expects to be principally reliant upon dividends received on shares held by it in any operating subsidiaries in order to do so. Payments of such dividends will be dependent on the availability of any dividends or other distributions from such subsidiaries. The Company can therefore give no assurance that it will be able to pay dividends going forward or as to the amount of such dividends, if any.

Cayman Islands company law

The Company is an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands. As a result, the rights of the Shareholders will be governed by the laws of the Cayman Islands and the Memorandum and Articles. The laws of the Cayman Islands relating to the protection of the interests of minority shareholders differ in some respects from those established under statutes or judicial precedent in existence in England. Such differences may mean that the Company's minority shareholders may have less protection than they would have under English law.

Set out below is a description of the principal relevant differences between companies incorporated in England and the Cayman Islands:

(i) Pre-emptive rights: Shareholders do not have statutory pre-emption rights under the Cayman Islands Companies Law over further issues of shares of the Company. Certain restrictions on the ability of the Directors to allot Ordinary Shares are contained in the Articles, which may be amended by a special resolution of shareholders.

(ii) Takeovers: the Cayman Islands Companies Law does not contain provisions similar to those in the City Code which, inter alia, oblige a person or persons acquiring at least 30 per cent of voting rights in a company to which the City Code applies to make an offer to acquire the remainder of the shares in such company. The Articles incorporate provisions similar to those contained in Rule 9 of the City Code, but may be amended by a special resolution of the Shareholders.

(iii) Disclosure of interests in shares: under the Cayman Islands Companies Law, Shareholders are not obliged to disclose their interests in the Company in the same way as shareholders of certain public companies incorporated in the United Kingdom are required to do. In particular, the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules do not apply. The Articles incorporate provisions similar to those contained in Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules 5, but may be amended by a special resolution of the Shareholders.

Rights of shareholders are more limited under Cayman Islands law than under United Kingdom law

The Company's corporate affairs are governed by the Memorandum and Articles of Association, the Companies Law and the common law of the Cayman Islands. The rights of Shareholders to take action against the Directors, the rights of Shareholders to institute actions and the fiduciary responsibilities of Directors under Cayman Islands law are to a large extent governed by the common law of the Cayman Islands. The common law of the Cayman Islands is derived in part from comparatively limited judicial precedent in the Cayman Islands as well as from English common law, which has persuasive, but not binding, authority on a court in the Cayman Islands. The rights of Shareholders and the fiduciary responsibilities of Directors under Cayman Islands law are not as clearly established as they would be under statutes or judicial precedent in some jurisdictions. In particular, the Cayman Islands have a less developed body of securities laws than the United Kingdom.

The Company is organised under the laws of the Cayman Islands. As a result, a Shareholder may not be able to enforce a judgment against the Company or some or all of the Directors and executive officers outside the Cayman Islands. It may not be possible for a Shareholder to effect service of process upon the Directors and executive officers within the Shareholder's country of residence or to enforce against the Directors and executive officers judgments of courts of the Shareholder's country of residence based on civil liabilities under that country's securities laws. There can be no assurance that a Shareholder will be able to enforce any judgments in civil and commercial matters against the Directors or executive officers who are residents of countries other than those in which judgment is made.

RISKS RELATING TO THE COMPANY'S RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DIRECTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

The Company is dependent upon the Board to identify potential acquisition opportunities and to execute an Acquisition and the loss of the services of any of the Directors could materially adversely affect it

The Company is dependent upon the Directors, and in particular Mr Xu, who serves as Executive Director, to identify potential acquisition opportunities and to execute an Acquisition. The Company does not have key-man insurance on the lives of the Directors. The unexpected loss of the services of any of the Directors could have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to identify potential acquisition opportunities and to execute an Acquisition.

The Directors may undertake activities for other companies which may impact the time that they are able to spend on the Company's business

Whilst the Directors are not limited in any way (other than by their normal duties as company directors) by way of their involvement with the Company from acting in the management or conduct of the affairs of any other company, Mr Carew-Wootton and Mr Edwards intend to commit an amount of time to the Company that would be standard for a non-executive director working in the sector. Mr Carew-Wootton and Mr Edwards will dedicate sufficient time to the Company as necessary to meet its objectives and each will manage their time such that they are fully able to fulfil their duties as Directors to the Company and their board duties in respect of their other business interests. If Mr Carew-Wootton's and Mr Carew-Wootton's other business opportunities require them to devote more amounts of time to such affairs, it could limit the time that they are able to spend on the Company's business, which could have a negative impact on the Company's ability to complete an Acquisition. Should any conflicts of interest be identified they will be dealt with and resolved appropriately by such members of the Board that are not subject to the relevant conflict.

RISKS RELATING TO TAXATION

Changes in tax law and practice may reduce any net returns for Investors

The tax treatment of shareholders of the Company, any special purpose vehicle that the Company may establish and any company which the Company may acquire are all subject to changes in tax laws or practices in the Cayman Islands or any other relevant jurisdiction. Any change may reduce any net return derived by Investors from a shareholding in the Company.

There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to make returns for Shareholders in a tax-efficient manner

It is intended that the Company will structure the Company, including any company or business acquired in an Acquisition, to maximise returns for Shareholders in as fiscally efficient a manner as is practicable. The Company has made certain assumptions regarding taxation. However, if these assumptions are not correct, taxes may be imposed with respect to the Company's assets, or the Company may be subject to tax on its income, profits, gains or distributions (either on a liquidation and dissolution or otherwise) in a particular jurisdiction or jurisdictions in excess of taxes that were anticipated. This could alter the post-tax returns for Shareholders (or Shareholders in certain jurisdictions). The level of return for Shareholders may also be adversely affected. Any change in laws or tax authority practices could also adversely affect any post-tax returns of capital to Shareholders or payments of dividends (if any, which the Company does not envisage the payment of, at least in the short to medium term). In addition, the Company may incur costs in taking steps to mitigate any such adverse effect on the post-tax returns for Shareholders.

CONSEQUENCES OF A STANDARD LISTING

Application will be made for the Ordinary Shares to be admitted to listing on the Official List pursuant to Chapter 14 of the Listing Rules, which sets out the requirements for Standard Listings. Listing Principles 1 and 2 which are contained in Chapter 7 of the Listing Rules will apply to the Company with effect from Admission. As the Company will have a Standard Listing and not a Premium Listing, the Premium Listing Principles will not apply to it. The Company will, however, voluntarily comply with Premium Listing Principles 1, 5 and 6 from Admission.

However, while the Company has a Standard Listing, it is not required to comply with the provisions of, among other things:

- Chapter 8 of the Listing Rules regarding the appointment of a sponsor to guide the Company in understanding and meeting its responsibilities under the Listing Rules in connection with certain matters. The Company has not and does not intend to appoint such a sponsor in connection with the Admission;
- Chapter 9 of the Listing Rules regarding continuous obligations for a company with a Premium Listing;
- Chapter 10 of the Listing Rules relating to significant transactions. It should be noted therefore that an Acquisition will not require Shareholder consent, even if Ordinary Shares are being issued as consideration for such Acquisition;
- Chapter 11 of the Listing Rules regarding related party transactions. Nevertheless, the Company will not enter into any transaction which would constitute a “related party transaction” as defined in Chapter 11 of the Listing Rules without the specific prior approval of a majority of the Non-Founder Directors;
- Chapter 12 of the Listing Rules regarding purchases by the Company of its Ordinary Shares. In particular, the Company has not adopted a policy consistent with the provisions of Listing Rules 12.4.1 and 12.4.2; and
- Chapter 13 of the Listing Rules regarding the form and content of circulars to be sent to Shareholders.

The Company is not currently eligible for a Premium Listing under Chapter 6 of the Listing Rules. Following an Acquisition, the Directors intend to seek to transfer from a Standard Listing to either a Premium Listing or other appropriate stock market, based on the track record of the Company or business it acquires (although there can be no guarantee that the Company will fulfil the relevant eligibility criteria at the time and that a transfer to a Premium Listing or other appropriate stock market, will be achieved). Alternatively, it may determine to seek re-admission to a Standard Listing, subject to eligibility criteria. If a transfer to a Premium Listing is possible (and there can be no guarantee that it will be) and the Company decides to transfer to a Premium Listing, the various Listing Rules highlighted above as rules with which the Company is not required to comply will become mandatory and the Company will comply with the continuing obligations contained within the Listing Rules (and the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules) in the same manner as any other company with a Premium Listing.

It should be noted that the UK Listing Authority will not have the authority to (and will not) monitor the Company’s compliance with any of the Listing Rules which the Company has indicated herein that it intends to comply with on a voluntary basis, nor to impose sanctions in respect of any failure by the Company so to comply. However, the FCA should be able to impose sanctions for non-compliance where the statements regarding compliance in this document are themselves misleading, false or deceptive.

Forward-looking statements

This Document includes statements that are, or may be deemed to be, “forward-looking statements”. In some cases, these forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology, including the terms “targets”, “believes”, “estimates”, “anticipates”, “expects”, “intends”, “may”, “will”, “should” or, in each case, their negative or other variations or comparable terminology. They appear in a number of places throughout the Document and include statements regarding the intentions, beliefs or current expectations of the Company and the Board of Directors concerning, among other things: (i) the Company’s objective, acquisition and financing strategies, results of operations, financial condition, capital resources, prospects, capital appreciation of the Ordinary Shares and dividends; and (ii) future deal flow and implementation of active management strategies, including with regard to an Acquisition.

By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that may or may not occur in the future. Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance. The Company's actual performance, results of operations, financial condition, distributions to shareholders and the development of its financing strategies may differ materially from the forward-looking statements contained in this Document. In addition, even if the Company's actual performance, results of operations, financial condition, distributions to shareholders and the development of its financing strategies are consistent with the forward-looking statements contained in this Document, those results or developments may not be indicative of results or developments in subsequent periods. Important factors that may cause these differences include, but are not limited to:

- the Company's ability to identify suitable Acquisition opportunities or the Company's success in completing an Acquisition;
- the Company's ability to ascertain the merits or risks of the operations of a target company or business;
- the Company's ability to deploy the Net Proceeds on a timely basis;
- the availability and cost of equity or debt capital for future transactions;
- currency exchange rate fluctuations, as well as the success of the Company's hedging strategies in relation to such fluctuations (if such strategies are in fact used); and
- legislative and/or regulatory changes, including changes in taxation regimes.

Prospective Investors should carefully review the "Risk Factors" section of this Document for a discussion of additional factors that could cause the Company's actual results to differ materially, before making an investment decision. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this paragraph constitutes a qualification of the working capital statement contained in paragraph 10 of Part IX of this Document.

Forward-looking statements contained in this Document apply only as at the date of this Document. Subject to any obligations under the Listing Rules, the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules and the Prospectus Rules, the Company undertakes no obligation publicly to update or review any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise.

SUMMARY OF CAYMAN ISLANDS COMPANY LAW

The Company was incorporated in the Cayman Islands as an exempted company on 25 April 2018 subject to the Cayman Companies Law. Certain provisions of Cayman Islands company law are set out below but this section does not purport to contain all applicable qualifications and exceptions or to be a complete review of all matters of the Cayman Companies Law and taxation, which may differ from equivalent provisions in jurisdictions with which interested parties may be more familiar.

A summary of the memorandum and articles of association of the Company is out in paragraph 4 of Part IX of this Document.

(a) Company operations

An exempted company such as the Company must conduct its operations mainly outside the Cayman Islands. An exempted company is also required to file an annual return each year with the Registrar of Companies of the Cayman Islands and pay a fee which is based on the amount of its authorised share capital.

(b) Share Capital

Under Cayman Companies Law, a Cayman Islands company may issue ordinary, preference or redeemable shares or any combination thereof. Where a company issues shares at a premium, whether for cash or otherwise, a sum equal to the aggregate amount or value of the premiums on those shares shall be transferred to an account, to be called the "share premium account". At the option of a company, these provisions may not apply to premiums on shares of that company allotted pursuant to any arrangements in consideration of the acquisition or cancellation of shares in any other company and issued at a premium. The share premium account may be applied by the company subject to the provisions, if any, of its memorandum and articles of association, in such manner as the company may from time to time determine including, but without limitation, the following:

- (i) paying distributions or dividends to members;
- (ii) paying up unissued shares of the company to be issued to members as fully paid bonus shares;
- (iii) any manner provided in section 37 of the Cayman Companies Law;
- (iv) writing-off the preliminary expenses of the company; and
- (v) writing-off the expenses of, or the commission paid or discount allowed on, any issue of shares or debentures of the company.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no distribution or dividend may be paid to members out of the share premium account unless, immediately following the date on which the distribution or dividend is proposed to be paid, the company will be able to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business.

Subject to confirmation by the court, a company limited by shares or a company limited by guarantee and having a share capital may, if authorised to do so by its articles of association, by special resolution reduce its share capital in any way.

Shareholders do not have statutory pre-emption rights under the Cayman Islands Companies Law over further issues of shares of the Company. Certain restrictions on the ability of the Directors to allot Ordinary Shares are contained in the Articles, which may be amended by a special resolution of shareholders.

Under the Cayman Islands Companies Law, Shareholders are not obliged to disclose their interests in the Company in the same way as shareholders of certain public companies incorporated in the United Kingdom are required to do. In particular, the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules do not apply. The Articles incorporate provisions similar to those contained in Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules 5, but may be amended by a special resolution of the Shareholders.

(c) Financial assistance to purchase shares of a company or its holding company

There are no statutory prohibitions in the Cayman Islands on the granting of financial assistance by a company to another person for the purchase of, or subscription for, its own, its holding company's or a subsidiary's shares. Therefore, a company may provide financial assistance provided the directors of the company, when proposing to grant such financial assistance, discharge their duties of care and act in good faith, for a proper purpose and in the interests of the company. Such assistance should be on an arm's-length basis.

(d) Purchase of shares and warrants by a company and its subsidiaries

A company limited by shares or a company limited by guarantee and having a share capital may, if so authorised by its articles of association, issue shares which are to be redeemed or are liable to be redeemed at the option of the company or a member and, for the avoidance of doubt, it shall be lawful for the rights attaching to any shares to be varied, subject to the provisions of the company's articles of association, so as to provide that such shares are to be or are liable to be so redeemed. In addition, such a company may, if authorised to do so by its articles of association, purchase its own shares, including any redeemable shares; an ordinary resolution of the company approving the manner and terms of the purchase will be required if the articles of association do not authorise the manner and terms of such purchase. A company may not redeem or purchase its shares unless they are fully paid. Furthermore, a company may not redeem or purchase any of its shares if, as a result of the redemption or purchase, there would no longer be any issued shares of the company other than shares held as treasury shares. In addition, a payment out of capital by a company for the redemption or purchase of its own shares is not lawful unless, immediately following the date on which the payment is proposed to be made, the company shall be able to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business.

Shares that have been purchased or redeemed by a company or surrendered to the company shall not be treated as cancelled but shall be classified as treasury shares if held in compliance with the requirements of Section 37A(1) of the Cayman Companies Law. Any such shares shall continue to be classified as treasury shares until such shares are either cancelled or transferred pursuant to the Cayman Companies Law.

A Cayman Islands company may be able to purchase its own warrants subject to and in accordance with the terms and conditions of the relevant warrant instrument or certificate. Thus there is no requirement under Cayman Islands law that a company's memorandum or articles of association contain a specific provision enabling such purchases. The directors of a company may under the general power contained in its memorandum of association be able to buy, sell and deal in personal property of all kinds.

A subsidiary may hold shares in its holding company and, in certain circumstances, may acquire such shares.

(e) Dividends and distributions

Subject to a solvency test, as prescribed in the Cayman Companies Law, and the provisions, if any, of the company's memorandum and articles of association, a company may pay dividends and distributions out of its share premium account. In addition, based upon English case law which is likely to be persuasive in the Cayman Islands, dividends may be paid out of profits.

For so long as a company holds treasury shares, no dividend may be declared or paid, and no other distribution (whether in cash or otherwise) of the company's assets (including any distribution of assets to members on a winding up) may be made, in respect of a treasury share.

(f) Protection of minorities and shareholders' suits

It can be expected that the Cayman Islands courts will ordinarily follow English case law precedents (particularly the rule in the case of Foss v. Harbottle and the exceptions to that rule) which permit a minority member to commence a representative action against or derivative actions in the name of the company to challenge acts which are ultra vires, illegal, fraudulent (and performed by those in control of the Company) against the minority, or represent an irregularity in the passing of a resolution which requires a qualified (or special) majority which has not been obtained.

Where a company (not being a bank) is one which has a share capital divided into shares, the court may, on the application of members holding not less than one-fifth of the shares of the company in issue, appoint an inspector to examine the affairs of the company and, at the direction of the court, to report on such affairs. In addition, any member of a company may petition the court, which may make a winding up order if the court is of the opinion that it is just and equitable that the company should be wound up.

In general, claims against a company by its members must be based on the general laws of contract or tort applicable in the Cayman Islands or be based on potential violation of their individual rights as members as established by a company's memorandum and articles of association.

(g) Disposal of assets

There are no specific restrictions on the power of directors to dispose of assets of a company, however, the directors are expected to exercise certain duties of care, diligence and skill to the standard that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances, in addition to fiduciary duties to act in good faith, for proper purpose and in the best interests of the company under English common law (which the Cayman Islands courts will ordinarily follow).

(h) Accounting and auditing requirements

A company must cause proper records of accounts to be kept with respect to: (i) all sums of money received and expended by it; (ii) all sales and purchases of goods by it and (iii) its assets and liabilities.

Proper books of account shall not be deemed to be kept if there are not kept such books as are necessary to give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs and to explain its transactions.

If a company keeps its books of account at any place other than at its registered office or any other place within the Cayman Islands, it shall, upon service of an order or notice by the Tax Information Authority pursuant to the Tax Information Authority Law (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, make available, in electronic form or any other medium, at its registered office copies of its books of account, or any part or parts thereof, as are specified in such order or notice.

(i) Exchange control

There are no exchange control regulations or currency restrictions in effect in the Cayman Islands.

(j) Taxation

Pursuant to section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, the Company has obtained an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet that:

- (i) no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits or income or gains or appreciation shall apply to the Company or its operations; and
- (ii) no tax be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable by the Company:
 - (AA) on or in respect of the shares, debentures or other obligations of the Company; or
 - (BB) by way of withholding in whole or in part of any relevant payment as defined in section 6(3) of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision).

The undertaking for the Company is for a period of 20 years from 15 May 2018.

The Cayman Islands currently levy no taxes on individuals or corporations based upon profits, income, gains or appreciations and there is no taxation in the nature of inheritance tax or estate duty. There are no other taxes likely to be material to the Company levied by the Government of the Cayman Islands save for certain stamp duties which may be applicable, from time to time, on certain instruments.

(k) Stamp duty on transfers

No stamp duty is payable in the Cayman Islands on transfers of shares of Cayman Islands companies save for those which hold interests in land in the Cayman Islands.

(l) Loans to directors

There is no express provision prohibiting the making of loans by a company to any of its directors. However, the company's articles of association may provide for the prohibition of such loans under specific circumstances.

(m) Inspection of corporate records

The members of a company have no general right to inspect or obtain copies of the register of members or corporate records of the company. They will, however, have such rights as may be set out in the company's articles of association.

(n) Register of members

A Cayman Islands exempted company may maintain its principal register of members and any branch registers in any country or territory, whether within or outside the Cayman Islands, as the company may determine from time to time. There is no requirement for an exempted company to make any returns of members to the Registrar of Companies in the Cayman Islands. The names and addresses of the members are, accordingly, not a matter of public record and are not available for public inspection. However, an exempted company shall make available at its registered office, in electronic form or any other medium, such register of members, including any branch register of member, as may be required of it upon service of an order or notice by the Tax Information Authority pursuant to the Tax Information Authority Law (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands.

(o) Register of Directors and officers

Pursuant to the Cayman Companies Law, the Company is required to maintain at its registered office a register of directors, alternate directors and officers which is not available for inspection by the public. A copy of such register must be filed with the Registrar of Companies in the Cayman Islands and any change must be notified to the Registrar within 30 days of any change in such directors or officers, including a change of the name of such directors or officers.

(p) Winding up

A Cayman Islands company may be wound up by: (i) an order of the court; (ii) voluntarily by its members; or (iii) under the supervision of the court.

The court has authority to order winding up in a number of specified circumstances including where, in the opinion of the court, it is just and equitable that such company be so wound up.

A voluntary winding up of a company (other than a limited duration company, for which specific rules apply) occurs where the company resolves by special resolution that it be wound up voluntarily or where the company in general meeting resolves that it be wound up voluntarily because it is unable to pay its debt as they fall due. In the case of a voluntary winding up, the company is obliged to cease to carry on its business from the commencement of its winding up except so far as it may be beneficial for its winding up. Upon appointment of a voluntary liquidator, all the powers of the directors cease, except so far as the company in general meeting or the liquidator sanctions their continuance.

In the case of a members' voluntary winding up of a company, one or more liquidators are appointed for the purpose of winding up the affairs of the company and distributing its assets.

As soon as the affairs of a company are fully wound up, the liquidator must make a report and an account of the winding up, showing how the winding up has been conducted and the property of the company disposed of, and call a general meeting of the company for the purposes of laying before it the account and giving an explanation of that account.

When a resolution has been passed by a company to wind up voluntarily, the liquidator or any contributory or creditor may apply to the court for an order for the continuation of the winding up under the supervision of the court, on the grounds that: (i) the company is or is likely to become insolvent; or (ii) the supervision of the court will facilitate a more effective, economic or expeditious liquidation of the company in the interests of the contributories and creditors. A supervision order takes effect for all purposes as if it was an order that the company be wound up by the court except that a commenced voluntary winding up and the prior actions of the voluntary liquidator shall be valid and binding upon the company and its official liquidator.

For the purpose of conducting the proceedings in winding up a company and assisting the court, one or more persons may be appointed to be called an official liquidator(s). The court may appoint to such office such person or persons, either provisionally or otherwise, as it thinks fit, and if more than one person is appointed to such office, the court shall declare whether any act required or authorised to be done by the official liquidator is to be done by all or any one or more of such persons. The court may also determine whether any and what security is to be given by an official liquidator on his appointment; if no official liquidator is appointed, or during any vacancy in such office, all the property of the company shall be in the custody of the court.

(q) Reconstructions

Reconstructions and amalgamations may be approved by a majority in number representing 75% in value of the members or creditors, depending on the circumstances, as are present at a meeting called for such purpose and thereafter sanctioned by the courts. Whilst a dissenting member has the right to express to the court his view that the transaction for which approval is being sought would not provide the members with a fair value for their shares, the courts are unlikely to disapprove the transaction on that ground alone in the absence of evidence of fraud or bad faith on behalf of management, and if the transaction were approved and consummated the dissenting member would have no rights comparable to the appraisal rights (i.e. the right to receive payment in cash for the judicially determined value of their shares) ordinarily available, for example, to dissenting members of a United States corporation.

(r) Take-overs

The Cayman Islands Companies Law does not contain provisions similar to those in the City Code which, inter alia, oblige a person or persons acquiring at least 30 per cent of voting rights in a company to which the City Code applies to make an offer to acquire the remainder of the shares in such company. The Articles incorporate provisions similar to those contained in Rule 9 of the City Code, but may be amended by a special resolution of the Shareholders.

Where an offer is made by a company for the shares of another company and, within four months of the offer, the holders of not less than 90% of the shares which are the subject of the offer accept, the offeror may, at any time within two months after the expiration of that four-month period, by notice require the dissenting members to transfer their shares on the terms of the offer. A dissenting member may apply to the Cayman Islands courts within one month of the notice objecting to the transfer. The burden is on the dissenting member to show that the court should exercise its discretion, which it will be unlikely to do unless there is evidence of fraud or bad faith or collusion as between the offeror and the holders of the shares who have accepted the offer as a means of unfairly forcing out minority members.

(s) Indemnification

Cayman Islands law does not limit the extent to which a company's articles of association may provide for indemnification of officers and directors, save to the extent any such provision may be held by the court to be contrary to public policy, for example, where a provision purports to provide indemnification against the consequences of committing a crime.

PART I

THE COMPANY, INVESTMENT AND STRATEGY

Introduction

The Company was incorporated on 25 April 2018 in the Cayman Islands as an exempted company. Its share capital will, on Admission, consist of Ordinary Shares. It is intended that the Ordinary Shares will be admitted by the FCA to a Standard Listing on the Official List in accordance with Chapter 14 of the Listing Rules and to trading on the London Stock Exchange's main market for listed securities.

The Board consider that a listing on the main market may attract greater opportunities, both from the perspective of Investors who may not be willing or able to invest in a company whose shares are listed on a different securities exchange, and from the perspective of an Acquisition target company, which may only consider accepting share consideration as part of an Acquisition from a company admitted to the Official List.

Company objective

The Company will primarily focus on targets within the financial services and 'fintech' sectors. In particular, the initial focus will be to acquire companies which have the potential of growing in the Asian market, as the Directors believe that a number of dynamics have combined in the last decade or so to create significant change and opportunity within these sectors.

The Directors are particularly seeking opportunities that include but are not limited to targets operating asset management, online financing, payment facility, or robo-advisory businesses. The Directors have established a network or contacts internationally within the sector.

Business strategy and execution

The Company does not have a specific Acquisition under consideration and does not expect to engage in substantive negotiations with any target company or business until after Admission. To date, the Company's efforts have been limited to organisational activities as well as activities related to the Admission. However, the Board have extensive experience in sourcing and executing transactions.

The expected target value for an Acquisition will be relative to the market capitalisation of the Company given that the consideration is anticipated to be a combination of Ordinary Shares and cash. At this time in the Company's life cycle, it is not anticipated that the Company will be using any form of debt financing to finance an Acquisition. In the unlikely event that the Company requires debt financing the Directors do not anticipate exceeding an amount equal to a multiple of x2 of the combined earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization of the Company and the relevant Acquisition target. Any funds not used for an Acquisition will be used for future acquisitions, internal or external growth and expansion, and working capital in relation to the acquired company or business. The Board may also consider an Acquisition target which is not yet, or which may not become, profitable following any such Acquisition.

Following completion of an Acquisition, the objective of the Company will be to operate the acquired business and implement an operating strategy to generate value for its Shareholders through operational improvements and potentially through additional complementary acquisitions following an Acquisition.

In assessing potential targets, the Board will consider whether and how they can generate shareholder value post-Acquisition through raising new capital through the enlarged listed entity, operational improvement, economics of scale and through "bolt on" acquisitions. In terms of geography, it is anticipated that the Company intends on focusing its acquisition strategy principally in Europe and Asia. The Company will not exclude other geographic regions where the Company can operate competitively and have appropriate access to the relevant client base.

Unless required by applicable law or other regulatory process, no Shareholder approval will be sought by the Company in relation to an Acquisition. However, an Acquisition will be treated as a reverse takeover for the purposes of Chapter 5 of the Listing Rules and the Company will need to seek re-admission of the enlarged group to listing on the Official List and trading on the London Stock Exchange, or to the AIM Market operated by London Stock Exchange, or to another stock exchange. Subsequent Acquisitions may also be treated as reverse takeovers depending on their size and nature.

The Board will undertake in depth market analysis in a number of related areas initially within the financial services and 'fintech' sectors using the Directors' experience and knowledge. The Board may also engage with consultants with experience in the sector as and when deemed necessary to assist with identifying suitable Acquisition targets. Once a suitable Acquisition target has been identified and a structure and valuation negotiated and agreed, financial and legal due diligence will be undertaken using professional advisers. Consideration is likely to be a combination of Ordinary Shares and cash.

Significant trends

The Company has not yet commenced business. There are therefore no known trends affecting the Company. In terms of industry trends, the Directors believe that in today's fast-paced financial services sector, technology-based solutions offer financial institutions the opportunity to telescope their appetite for innovation and create innovative business models that enhance bottom line performance for customers and shareholders. According to EY's Fintech Adoption Index, nearly a third of worldwide consumers use two or more financial technology services. As more consumers adopt non-traditional financial services providers, this requires financial institutions to adapt their mindsets to be open to fintech innovations in order to embrace these developments and keep their customers.

The financial technology industry is growing significantly and received $17.4 billion in investment in 2017. The total value of the worldwide investment into the fintech industry has grown at about a 48.8% CAGR since 2008, or from approximately $1billion to about $24billion.

The most significant opportunity is fintech's ability to disrupt the often inefficient financial services industry worth approximately $25 trillion annually.

The Directors are aware of the significant potential and fast changing nature of the fintech industry and plan to identify a suitable fintech business for acquisition and develop the business globally.

Capital and returns management

The Company will raise gross proceeds of GBP2,459,135 from the Admission Subscription. No expenses of the Admission Subscription will be charged to the Investors. The Directors believe that, following an Acquisition, further equity capital raisings may be required by the Company for working capital purposes as the Company pursues its objectives going forward. Given that the anticipated operating costs of the Company will be minimal, the Company does not envisage that further funding will be required in the first 12 months or prior to an Acquisition. It is intended that the purchase price for any potential Acquisition will be satisfied by way of share and cash consideration which will leave cash available for working capital purposes. However, whether a further equity raising will be required and the amount of such raising will depend on the nature of the Acquisition opportunities which arise and the form of consideration the Company uses to make an Acquisition which cannot be determined at this time.

The Directors have been given authority to issue Ordinary Shares free of pre-emption rights: (i) for the purposes of or in connection with the Admission Subscription; (ii) for the purposes of or in connection with an Acquisition (including in respect of consideration payable for the Acquisition) or in relation to, in connection with or resulting from the restructuring or refinancing of debt or other financial obligation relating to the Acquisition; and (iii) generally for such purposes as the Directors may think fit, an aggregate amount not exceeding 50 per cent. of the aggregate nominal value of Ordinary Shares in issue (as at the close of the first Business Day following Admission).

The Company expects that any returns for Shareholders would derive primarily from capital appreciation of the Ordinary Shares and any dividends paid pursuant to the Company's dividend policy set out below in this Part I of this Document.

If an Acquisition has not been announced within 24 months of Admission, the Board will recommend to Shareholders either that the Company continue to pursue an Acquisition for a further 24 months, or that the Company be wound up (in order to return capital to Shareholders). The Board's recommendation will then be put to a Shareholder vote (from which the Directors will abstain). In the event that the Company is wound up, any capital available for distribution will be returned to Shareholders in accordance with the Articles.

Working capital and reasons for Admission

The Company is of the opinion that, taking into account the Net Proceeds, the working capital available to the Company is sufficient for its present requirements, that is for at least 12 months from the date of this Document.

The Company is seeking Admission in order to take advantage of:

- a listed company's public profile thereby promoting the Company and its strategy;
- the possibility to create a broad investor base;
- the potential liquidity offered by a Standard Listing;
- access to institutional and other investors not only on Admission but in the secondary market; and
- the ability to issue listed equity as consideration for Acquisitions.

Dividend policy

The Company intends to pay dividends on the Ordinary Shares following an Acquisition at such times (if any) and in such amounts (if any) as the Board determines appropriate in its absolute discretion. Prior to an Acquisition it is unlikely that the Company will have any earnings but to the extent the Company has any earnings it is the Company's current intention to retain any such earnings for use in its business operations, and the Company does not anticipate declaring any dividends in the foreseeable future. The Company will only pay dividends to the extent that to do so is in accordance with all applicable laws.

Lock-in and orderly market arrangements

Fush Financial Investment Co., Ltd and Junxia Zhang have undertaken to the Company that they will not, and will use all reasonable endeavours to procure that any persons connected with them will not dispose of any interest in any Locked In Shares which they have at the date of Admission or any Ordinary Shares which they may subsequently acquire within one year of Admission or any options or warrants to subscribe for Ordinary Shares for a minimum period of twelve months following Admission except in very limited circumstances. Each of Fush Financial Investment Co., Ltd and Junxia Zhang has further undertaken to the Company that during the period of one year following the first anniversary of Admission, not to dispose of any interests in Locked In Shares other than through the Company's appointed broker and in accordance with the reasonable requirements of such broker in a manner consistent with maintaining an orderly market in the Ordinary Shares.

Further details of the lock-in arrangements are set out in paragraph 14.3 of Part IX of this Document.

To the extent that there is demand for Ordinary Shares and a lack of liquidity to meet such demand post-Admission, certain arrangements have been put in place for a period of 90 days after Admission ("Post Admission Period") to address this potential issue:

- Optiva has been granted the right (conditional on the Ordinary Shares having traded at a mid-market closing price as derived from the Daily Official List of not less than £0.30 per Ordinary Share for at least 24 trading hours (the "Pricing Condition") to sell up to 300,000 Ordinary Shares held by L&S Global Limited on its behalf ("L&S Global Shares").
- The Company has granted Optiva 700,000 warrants which are exercisable into Ordinary Shares on a one for one basis at any time during the Post Admission Period at an exercise price which is at a 20% discount to the price offered by a buyer for Ordinary Shares and which has been received by Optiva (the "Warrant Shares"), subject to: (a) the Pricing Condition being satisfied; (b) the sale of all of at least 250,000 of the L&S Global Shares having been completed.

Further details of the Optiva B Warrant Agreement are set out in paragraph 14.6 of Part IX of this Document.

CREST

The Articles permit the Company to issue shares in uncertificated form in accordance with the CREST Regulations. The Directors have applied for the Ordinary Shares to be admitted to CREST with effect from Admission. Depositary Interests will be admitted to and settled through CREST, where investors choose to settle interests in the Ordinary Shares through the CREST system as set out in Part VIII of this Document. Accordingly, settlement of transactions in the Ordinary Shares following Admission may take place in the CREST system if the relevant Shareholder wishes.

CREST is a voluntary system and holders of Ordinary Shares who wish to receive and retain share certificates will be able to do so.

Admission to trading, settlement and dealing arrangements

Application has been made for the Ordinary Shares to be admitted to the Official List, by way of a Standard Listing, and to trading on the Main Market. Dealings in the Ordinary Shares are expected to commence at 8.00 a.m. on 7 December 2018. No application has or will be made for the Ordinary Shares to be admitted to trading or to be listed on any other stock exchange.

No temporary documents of title will be issued. Pending the dispatch of definitive share certificates, instruments of transfer will be certified against the register of members of the Company.

The Company was incorporated on 25 April 2018 in the Cayman Islands as an exempted company. Its share capital will, on Admission, consist of Ordinary Shares. It is intended that the Ordinary Shares will be admitted by the FCA to a Standard Listing on the Official List in accordance with Chapter 14 of the Listing Rules and to trading on the London Stock Exchange's main market for listed securities.

The Directors

The Directors are listed below.

Wanbao Xu, Executive Director

Mr Shaun Carew-Wootton, Non-Executive Director

Mr Gareth Edwards, Non-Executive Chairman

Senior Management

Li JingQi

Shao Zhiying

The Board considers Mr Carew-Wootton and Mr Edwards to be independent in character and judgment.

Directors' fees

Details of the Directors' Service Agreement and Letters of Appointment and the fees payable by the Company thereunder are set out in paragraphs 15.1 and 15.2 respectively of Part IX.

Strategic decisions

Members and responsibility

The Directors are responsible for carrying out the Company's objectives, implementing its business strategy and conducting its overall supervision. Acquisition, divestment and other strategic decisions will all be considered and determined by the Board.

The Board will provide leadership within a framework of prudent and effective controls. The Board will establish the corporate governance values of the Company and will have overall responsibility for setting the Company's strategic aims, defining the business plan and strategy and managing the financial and operational resources of the Company. Prior to an Acquisition, other than the Executive Director, the Company will not have any full-time employees.

Acquisition structure

An Acquisition may be made by the Company or a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, established as a special purpose vehicle to make the Acquisition. The details of the structure of an Acquisition will be determined once a target for the Acquisition has been identified.

Corporate governance

As a company with a Standard Listing the Company is not required to comply with the provisions of the UK Corporate Governance Code. Nevertheless, the Directors are committed to maintaining high standards of corporate governance and propose, so far as is practicable given the Company's size and nature, to voluntarily adopt and comply with the QCA Code. However at present, due to the size of the Company, the Directors acknowledge that adherence to certain other provisions of the QCA Code may be delayed until such time as the Directors are able to fully adopt them. In particular, action will be required in the following areas:

- in keeping with the QCA Code provisions on board composition, the Company has separated the roles of chairman and executive director. As the Company grows, the Board will seek to appoint additional independent directors, one of whom will be appointed as senior independent director;
- the Company is currently too small to have an audit committee, a remuneration committee or a nominations committee established and the appointments to such committees will be revisited upon the completion of an Acquisition along with incorporating terms of reference for them;

- the QCA Code recommends that companies publish key performance indicators which align with strategy and feedback through regular meetings with shareholders and directors. The Company will not comply with this provision until after such time as it has made an Acquisition;
- given the Company's size, it has not yet developed a corporate and social responsibility policy. One will be put in place at the appropriate time; and
- as a newly formed Company, the Company has not published an annual report and therefore there has been no opportunity to comply with those elements of the QCA Code which relate to disclosure in the annual report. The Board does, however, intend to comply with this element of the QCA Code when it publishes its annual report.

To demonstrate the Company's adherence to the QCA Code, the Company will hold timely board meetings as issues arise which require the attention of the Board. The Board is responsible for the management of the business of the Company, setting the strategic direction of the Company and establishing the policies of the Company. It is the Directors' responsibility to oversee the financial position of the Company and monitor the business and affairs of the Company, on behalf of the Shareholders, to whom they are accountable. The primary duty of the Directors is to act in the best interests of the Company at all times. The Board also addresses issues relating to internal control and the Company's approach to risk management.

The Board as a whole will be responsible for sourcing Acquisitions and ensuring that opportunities are in conformity with the Company's strategy. The Board will meet periodically to: (i) discuss possible Acquisition opportunities for the Company; (ii) monitor the deal flow and Acquisitions in progress; and (iii) review the Company's strategy and ensure that it is up-to-date and appropriate for the Company and its aims.

Share Dealings

The Company has voluntarily adopted a dealing code and procedures manual ("Dealing Code") which complies with the Market Abuse Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 ("MAR") and will take all reasonable steps to ensure compliance by the Directors and any relevant individuals.

Future Listings

Following an Acquisition, the Directors intend to seek to transfer from a Standard Listing to either a Premium Listing or other appropriate stock market, based on the track record of the Company or business it acquires (although there can be no guarantee that the Company will fulfil the relevant eligibility criteria at the time and that a transfer to a Premium Listing or other appropriate stock market, will be achieved). However, in addition to or in lieu of a Premium Listing, the Company may determine to seek a listing on another stock exchange. Following such a Premium Listing, the Company would comply with the continuing obligations contained within the Listing Rules and the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules in the same manner as any other company with a Premium Listing.

Conflict Management by the Board

Mr Xu does not hold an executive function with any other company other than with Shenzhen Qianhai Shengshi Jinhong Fund Management Co. Ltd. Mr Carew-Wootton and Mr Edwards hold a number of other directorships. All the Directors are committed to dedicating sufficient time to the Company as necessary to meet its objectives and each will manage their time such that they are fully able to fulfil their duties as Directors to the Company and their board duties in respect of their other business interests.

The Articles provide for how the Board are to manage and deal with conflicts of interest. The Directors may approve or otherwise deal with a conflict of a director subject to certain parameters. For example:

- any requirement as to quorum at the meeting of the Directors at which the matter is considered is met without counting the Director in question and any other interested Director; and
- the matter has been agreed to without the Director in question and any other interested Director voting or would have been agreed to if their votes had not been counted.

The Board may authorise a matter on such terms and for such duration, or impose such limits or conditions on it, as it may decide and vary the terms or duration of such an authorisation (including any limits or conditions imposed on it) or revoke it. A Director is required to comply with any obligations imposed on him by the Directors pursuant to any such authorisation.

Further, each of the Directors have agreed that, in the unlikely event that such person or entity becomes involved following this date of this Document and prior to the completion of an Acquisition with entities with similar acquisition criteria to the Company's, any potential opportunities that fit such criteria would first be presented to the Company.

Relationship Agreement

The Company, Wanbao Xu, Shao Zhiying (“Beneficial Owners”) and Fush Financial Investment Co., Ltd (the “Significant Shareholder”) have entered into the Relationship Agreement to regulate the ongoing relationship between the Company and its major shareholders and to ensure appropriate governance and independence of the management team of the Company. The Directors believe that the Relationship Agreement will enable the Company to carry on its business in a manner which is independent of the interests of the Significant Shareholder and to ensure that all arrangements between the Company and the Significant Shareholder are on normal commercial terms and on an arms’ length basis.

Material Contracts

The Company has entered into a number of other contracts since incorporation, including but not limited to the Registrar Agreement, which are summarised in paragraph 14.1 of Part IX of this Document.

PART IV

ADMISSION SUBSCRIPTION

Description of the Admission Subscription

Under the Admission Subscription:

- (a) 24,141,350 New Ordinary Shares have been conditionally subscribed for by Investors pursuant to the Subscription Agreements; and
- (b) 500,000 New Ordinary Shares have been conditionally placed with Optiva pursuant to the Placing Letter.

in each case at the Subscription Price of GBP0.10 per New Ordinary Share.

The Admission Subscription is conditionally expected to raise gross proceeds of GBP2,459,135. The Investors are institutions, high net worth individuals and private companies.

The Net Proceeds to the Company amount to approximately GBP2,027,735 after deduction of fees and expenses payable by the Company which are related to the Admission.

The Subscription Agreements and Placing Letter are conditional on Admission. If the Net Proceeds are not raised, the Admission will not take place and Investors' monies will be returned to them unless the Company produces a supplementary prospectus with a revised working capital statement based on a lower fundraising. If Admission does not proceed, the Admission Subscription will not proceed and all monies conditionally paid will be refunded to the Investors.

In accordance with Listing Rule 14.3, at Admission at least 25 per cent. of the Ordinary Shares will be in public hands (as defined in the Listing Rules).

Completion of the Admission Subscription will be announced via a regulatory service on Admission, which is expected to take place at 8.00a.m. on 7 December 2018.

Admission and Dealings

Admission is expected to take place and unconditional dealings in the Ordinary Shares are expected to commence on the London Stock Exchange at 8:00 a.m. on 7 December 2018. Dealings on the London Stock Exchange before Admission will only be settled if Admission takes place. All dealings in Ordinary Shares prior to the commencement of unconditional dealings will be on a "when issued basis", will be of no effect if Admission does not take place, and will be at the sole risk of the parties concerned. No application has been or is currently intended to be made for the Ordinary Shares to be admitted to listing or dealt with on any other stock exchange. When admitted to trading, the Ordinary Shares will be registered with ISIN number KYG4598W1024 and SEDOL number BGR5JO2.

It is intended that settlement of Ordinary Shares allocated to Investors who wish to hold shares in uncertificated form will take place through CREST on Admission. It is intended that, where applicable, definitive share certificates in respect of the Admission Subscription will be distributed from 10 December 2018 or as soon as practicable thereafter. Temporary documents of title will not be issued. Dealings in advance of crediting of the relevant CREST stock account shall be at the risk of the person concerned.

CREST

CREST is the system for paperless settlement of trades in listed securities operated by Euroclear. CREST allows securities to be transferred from one person's CREST account to another's without the need to use share certificates or written instruments of transfer.

The Articles permit the holding of Ordinary Shares in uncertificated form under the CREST system.

Application has been made for the Ordinary Shares to be admitted to CREST with effect from Admission. Accordingly, settlement of transactions in the Ordinary Shares following Admission may take place within the CREST System if any Shareholder so wishes. CREST is a voluntary system and holders of Ordinary Shares who wish to receive and retain share certificates will be able to do so. An Investor applying for Ordinary Shares in the Admission Subscription may elect to receive Ordinary Shares in uncertificated form in the form if the Investor is a system member (as defined in the CREST Regulations) in relation to CREST.

Rights attaching to the Ordinary Shares

The rights attaching to the Ordinary Shares the subject of the Admission Subscription will be uniform in all respects and all of the Ordinary Shares will form a single class for all purposes.

Pricing

All New Ordinary Shares issued pursuant to the Admission Subscription will be issued at the Subscription Price, which has been determined by the Directors. At the Subscription Price, the Enlarged Share Capital will have a total value of GBP2,464,135.

Payment

Each Investor must pay the Subscription Price for the New Ordinary Shares issued to such Investor in the manner directed by the Company.

If any Investor fails to pay as so directed by the Company, the relevant Investor's application for New Ordinary Shares may be rejected.

If Admission does not occur, subscription monies will be returned without interest at the risk of the applicant.

Use of Proceeds

The Company intends to apply the Net Proceeds to fund on-going costs and expenses (primarily LSE listing fee of approximately £1,500, Registrar's base fees of £5,500 per year and LSE fees of approximately £5,400 per year) and the costs and expenses to be incurred in connection with seeking to identify and effect an Acquisition. The costs and expenses of any Acquisition will likely comprise legal, financial and tax due diligence in relation to the target company, however, the Company would only reach this stage after the Directors have carried out an initial commercial review of the target and the Company has entered into a non-disclosure agreement and/or heads of terms.

Selling Restrictions

The Ordinary Shares have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act or the securities laws of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States and may not be, offered, sold, resold, transferred, delivered or distributed, directly or indirectly, within, into or in the United States except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction that is not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and in compliance with the securities laws of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States.

The Admission Subscription is being made by means of an offering of the New Ordinary Shares to certain institutional, individual and private company investors in China, Europe and the BVI.

Certain restrictions that apply to the distribution of this Document and the New Ordinary Shares being issued under the Admission Subscription in certain jurisdictions are described in the section headed Part X of this Document. Certain selling and transfer restrictions are also contained in Part X of this Document.

Transferability

Subject to the Lock-in Agreements, the Company's Ordinary Shares, consisting of both the Initial Shareholders' Shares and the New Ordinary Shares, are freely transferrable and tradeable and there are no other restrictions.

Miscellaneous

The rights and remedies of each of the Registrar and the Company under these terms and conditions are in addition to any rights and remedies which would otherwise be available to each of them and the exercise or partial exercise of one will not prevent the exercise of others.

On application, if an Investor is a discretionary fund manager, that Investor may be asked to disclose in writing or orally the jurisdictions in which its funds are managed or owned.

All documents will be sent at the Investor's risk. They may be sent by post to such Investor at an address notified to the Company.

Each Investor agrees to be bound by the Articles (as amended from time to time) once the New Ordinary Shares, which the Investor has agreed to acquire pursuant to the Admission Subscription, have been issued to the Investor.

In the case of a joint agreement to purchase New Ordinary Shares under the Admission Subscription, references to an "Investor" in these terms and conditions are to each of the Investors who are a party to that joint agreement and their liability is joint and several.

PART V

SHARE CAPITAL, LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES AND ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Share capital

The Company was incorporated on 25 April 2018 under the Cayman Islands Companies Law.

Details of the current issued share capital of the Company are set out in paragraph 2.5 of Part IX of this Document. As at Admission, GBP246,413.50 of Ordinary Shares in nominal value will be in issue (divided into 24,641,350 issued Ordinary Shares of £0.01 each).

All of the issued Ordinary Shares will be in registered form, and capable of being held in certificated or uncertificated form. The Registrar will be responsible for maintaining the Company's share register. Temporary documents of title will not be issued. The ISIN number of the Ordinary Shares is KYG4598W1024. The SEDOL number of the Ordinary Shares is BGR5JO2.

Financial position

The Company has not yet commenced operations. The financial information in respect of the Company upon which Moore Stephens has provided the accountant's report as at 30 April 2018 is set out in Part VI of this Document.

If the Admission had taken place on 30 April 2018 (being the date as at which the financial information contained in Part VI of this Document is presented):

- the net assets of the Company would have been increased by GBP2,027,735 (due to the receipt of the Net Proceeds and the funds raised through the subscription for the Ordinary Shares); and
- the Company's earnings would have decreased as a result of fees and expenses incurred in connection with the Admission.

Liquidity and capital resources

Sources of cash and liquidity

The Company's initial source of cash will be the Net Proceeds of the Admission Subscription, which are, in aggregate, expected to be GBP2,027,735. It will use such cash to fund on-going costs and expenses (primarily LSE listing fee of approximately £1,500, the Depositary's annual fee of £8,000, the Registrar's base fees of £5,500 per year and LSE fees of approximately £5,400 per year) and the costs and expenses to be incurred in connection with seeking to identify and effect an Acquisition. The costs and expenses of any Acquisition will likely comprise legal, financial and tax due diligence in relation to the target company, however, the Company would only reach this stage after the Directors have carried out an initial commercial review of the target and the Company has entered into a non-disclosure agreement and/or heads of terms. The Company intends to use a combination of cash and shares as consideration in relation to an Acquisition. The Company may raise additional capital from time to time. Such capital may be raised through share issues (such as rights issues, open offers or private placings) or borrowings.

The Company may also make an Acquisition or fund part of an Acquisition through share-for-share exchanges. Any such exchanges will be subject to the restrictions on the issue of shares set out in paragraph 3.4(d) of Part IX of this Document.

Whilst the Company envisages that any capital raised will be from new equity, the Company may also choose to finance all or a portion of an Acquisition with debt financing. Any debt financing used by the Company is expected to take the form of bank financing, although no financing arrangements will be in place at Admission. The Company envisages that debt financing may be necessary if, for example, a target company has been identified but would require a certain amount of cash consideration in addition to, or instead of, share consideration.

Any associated debt financing (if any) for an Acquisition will be assessed with reference to the projected cash flow of the target company or business and may be incurred at the Company level or by any subsidiary of the Company. Any costs associated with the debt financing will be paid with the proceeds of such financing.

If debt financing is utilised, there will be additional servicing costs. Furthermore, while the terms of any such financing cannot be predicted, such terms may subject the Company to financial and operating covenants or other restrictions, including restrictions that might limit the Company's ability to make distributions to Shareholders.

The Directors anticipate, however, that in the unlikely event debt financing is required, such financing will not exceed an amount equal to a multiple of x2 of the combined earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization of the Company and the relevant Acquisition target.

As substantially all of the cash raised (including cash from any subsequent share offers) is expected to be used for working capital. Following an Acquisition (which will be funded through share consideration) the Company's future liquidity will depend in the medium to longer term primarily on: (i) the profitability of the target company or business it acquires; (ii) the Company's management of available cash; (iii) cash distributions on sale of existing assets; (iv) the use of borrowings, if any, to fund short-term liquidity needs; and (v) dividends or distributions from subsidiary companies.

Cash uses

The Company's principal use of cash (including the Net Proceeds) will be as working capital. The Company's current intention is to retain earnings (if any) for use in its business operations and it does not anticipate declaring any dividends in the foreseeable future. Following an Acquisition and in accordance with the Company's business strategy and applicable laws, it expects to make distributions to Shareholders in accordance with the Company's dividend policy. The Company intends to use share consideration in relation to an Acquisition. However, the Company will incur day-to-day expenses that will need to be funded. Initially, the Company expects these expenses will be funded through the Net Proceeds (and income earned on such funds). Such expenses include:

- all costs relating to the Admission, including fees and expenses incurred in connection with the Admission such as those incurred in the establishment of the Company, Admission fees, legal, accounting, registration, printing, advertising and distribution costs and any other applicable expenses; and
- transaction costs and expenses—the Company will bear all due diligence costs and legal and accounting costs.

The Board intends to be prudent so as to preserve Company funds as far as possible.

Deposit of Net Proceeds Pending Acquisition

Prior to the completion of an Acquisition, the Net Proceeds will be held in the bank account of the Company held with DBS Bank, Singapore. The Net Proceeds will not be placed in any trust or escrow account. The Company will principally seek to preserve capital and therefore the yield on such deposits or instruments is likely to be low.

Indebtedness

As at the date of this Document, the Company has no guaranteed, secured, unguaranteed or unsecured debt and no indirect or contingent indebtedness.

Interest rate risks

The Company may incur indebtedness to finance and leverage an Acquisition and to fund its liquidity needs. Such indebtedness may expose the Company to risks associated with movements in prevailing interest rates. Changes in the level of interest rates can affect, among other things: (i) the cost and availability of debt financing and hence the Company's ability to achieve attractive rates of return on its assets; (ii) the Company's ability to make an Acquisition when competing with other potential buyers who may be able to bid for an asset at a higher price due to a lower overall cost of capital; (iii) the debt financing capability of the companies and businesses in which the Company is invested; and (iv) the rate of return on the Company's uninvested cash balances. This exposure may be reduced by introducing a combination of a fixed and floating interest rates or through the use of hedging transactions (such as derivative transactions, including swaps or caps). Interest rate hedging transactions will only be undertaken for the purpose of efficient portfolio management, and will not be carried out for speculative purposes. See "Hedging arrangements and risk management" below.

Hedging arrangements and risk management

The Company may use forward contracts, options, swaps, caps, collars and floors or other strategies or forms of derivative instruments to limit its exposure to changes in the relative values of investments that may result from market developments, including changes in prevailing interest rates and currency exchange rates, as previously described. It is expected that the extent of risk management activities by the Company will vary based on the level of exposure and consideration of risk across the business.

The success of any hedging or other derivative transaction generally will depend on the Company's ability to correctly predict market changes. As a result, while the Company may enter into such a transaction to reduce exposure to market risks, unanticipated market changes may result in poorer overall investment performance than if the transaction had not been executed. In addition, the degree of correlation between price movements of the instruments used in connection with hedging activities and price movements in a position being hedged may vary. Moreover, for a variety of reasons, the Company may not seek, or be successful in establishing, an exact correlation between the instruments used in a hedging or other derivative transactions and the position being hedged and could create new risks of loss. In addition, it may not be possible to fully or perfectly limit the Company's exposure against all changes in the values of its assets, because the values of its assets are likely to fluctuate as a result of a number of factors, some of which will be beyond the Company's control.

Accounting policies and financial reporting

The Company's financial year end will be 31 July, and the first set of audited annual financial statements will be for the period from incorporation to 31 July 2019. The Company will produce and publish half-yearly financial statements as required by the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules. The Company will present its financial statements in accordance with IFRS as adopted by the European Union.

Honye Financial Services Ltd
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL INFORMATION

For the period from incorporation on 25 April 2018 to 30 April 2018

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

The Company was incorporated and registered in the Cayman Islands as a private company limited by shares on 25 April 2018 under the Companies Law (as revised) of The Cayman Islands, with the name Honye Financial Services Ltd, and registered number 336262.

The Company's registered office is located at Ogier Global (Cayman) Limited, 89 Nexus Way, Camana Bay, Grand Cayman, KY1-9009, Cayman Islands.

The principal activity of the Company is to seek acquisition opportunities.

2. ADOPTION OF NEW AND REVISED INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS

a) IFRS 9, 'Financial Instruments', has an effective date for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. IFRS 9 replaces IAS 39 and deals with the recognition, measurement and derecognition of financial assets and financial liabilities, the impairment of financial assets and hedge accounting.

Financial assets are to be measured at amortised cost, fair value through profit and loss or fair value through other comprehensive income. A financial asset can only be measured at amortised cost when the Company has a business model to hold the asset to collect contractual cash flows and the cash flows arise on specific dates and are solely for payment of principal and interest on the principal outstanding. When the requirements for measuring the financial asset at amortised cost are met but the business model also includes the selling of those instruments then these financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income. All other financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The impairment model in IFRS 9 moves to one that is based on expected credit losses rather than the IAS 39 incurred loss model. The impairment requirements apply to financial assets measured at amortised cost and fair value through other comprehensive income with expected credit losses recognised on initial recognition based on 12 months expected credit losses, or if there has been a significant increase in the credit risk of the financial asset then the impairment is based on lifetime expected losses. The Company's financial assets mainly consist of other receivables which is measured at fair value through profit and loss.

b) IFRS 16 'Leases' is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019 with earlier application permitted, as long as IFRS 15 is also applied.

The changes for lessors, and for lessees under current finance leases, will be limited, but the standard will significantly affect the treatment by lessees of what are currently treated as operating leases. With some exceptions, lessees under current operating leases will be required to record a liability for the payments under the lease, which remains discounted at the rate implicit in the lease (or if not known, the lessee's incremental borrowing rate), and record a corresponding right of use asset (amounting to the liability plus the present value of any restoration costs and any incremental costs in entering the lease, as well as any lease payments made prior to commencement of lease, minus any lease incentives already received).

The Company has no leases as at period end but will assess any impact on the financial statements should there be a lease in the future.

3. BASIS OF PREPARATION

The Company has not yet commenced business, no audited financial statements have been prepared and no dividends have been declared or paid since the date of incorporation.

The historical financial information has been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as adopted by the European Union.

The historical financial information is presented in Pounds Sterling (£), which is the Company's presentational currency and has been prepared under the historical cost convention. Under IFRS, functional currency is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the company operates in. As at 30 April the economic environment that Honye operated in was Cayman Island and the currency is USD. All transactions have been recorded in USD and translated to the GBP using the respective FX rates for P&L and balance sheet for reporting purpose. No comparative figures have been presented as the financial information covers the period from incorporation of the Company on 25 April 2018 to 30 April 2018.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

4.1 Foreign currency translation

Transactions in currencies other than the company's functional currency (foreign currencies) are recognised at the rates of exchange prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At each reporting date, monetary assets and liabilities that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

4.2 Financial instruments

A financial asset or a financial liability is recognised only when the company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at the transaction price, unless the arrangement constitutes financial transaction, where it is recognised at present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Financial assets

All financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date where the purchase or sale of a financial asset is under a contract whose terms require delivery of the financial asset within the timeframe established by the market concerned, and are initially measured at fair value.

Financial assets are subsequently classified into the following specified categories: Financial assets measured at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), Financial assets measured at amortised costs and Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI).

The Company has other receivables which is measured at FVTPL as disclosed in note 7.

Financial assets at FVTPL are stated at fair value, with any gains or losses arising on remeasurement recognised in profit and loss. The carrying value of receivables is its fair value given the short-term nature of the instrument.

4.3 Share Capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of ordinary shares or options in relation to ordinary shares are shown in equity as a deduction, net of taxation, from the proceeds. Mandatorily redeemable preference shares are classified as liabilities.

4.4 Critical accounting judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

The directors do not consider there to be any critical accounting judgements or key sources of estimation uncertainty.

5. SHARE CAPITAL

On incorporation, the Company had an authorised share capital of US$50,000 divided into 50,000 ordinary shares of a par value of US$1 each. This has been converted to Pounds Sterling (£) using the closing exchange rate £/ US$ 1.39 on the date of incorporation on 25 April 2018.

The movements in the issued share capital of the Company are as follows:

On incorporation on 25 April 2018:
Issue of 50,000 ordinary shares for US$1.00 each

35,970

Share capital is unpaid as at the period end, issued at par value with equal voting rights.

6. LOSS PER SHARE

The Company presents basic and diluted earnings per share information for its ordinary shares. Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the profit attributable to ordinary shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue during the reporting period. Diluted earnings per share are determined by adjusting the profit attributable to ordinary shareholders and the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding for the effects of all dilutive potential ordinary shares.

There is no difference between the basic and diluted earnings per share, as the Company has no potential ordinary shares.

	Period ended 30 April 2018
Loss attributable to ordinary shareholders (£)	(9,733)
Weighted average number of shares	50,000

PART VII

TAXATION

General

The following statements do not constitute tax advice and are intended only as a general guide to current English law as applied in England and Wales and HM Revenue & Customs (“HMRC”) published practice, which may not be binding on HMRC, as at the date of this Document (which are both subject to change at any time, possibly with retrospective effect). They relate only to certain limited aspects of the UK taxation treatment of Shareholders in connection with the Admission and are intended to apply only, except to the extent stated below, to persons who are resident and, if individuals, domiciled in the UK for UK tax purposes, who are absolute beneficial owners of Ordinary Shares (otherwise than through an Individual Savings Account or a Self Invested Personal Pension) and who hold the Ordinary Shares as investments (and not as securities to be realised in the course of a trade).

They may not apply to certain Shareholders, such as dealers in securities, insurance companies and collective investment schemes, Shareholders who are exempt from taxation and Shareholders who have (or are deemed to have) acquired their Ordinary Shares by virtue of an office or employment. Such persons may be subject to special rules.

Any person who is in any doubt as to their tax position, or who is subject to taxation in any jurisdiction other than the UK, should consult their own professional adviser without delay.

United Kingdom taxation

Taxation of dividends

(A) General

There is no UK withholding tax on dividends, including cases where dividends are paid to a Shareholder who is not resident (for tax purposes) in the UK.

(B) Individual Shareholders

When the Company pays a dividend to a Shareholder who is an individual resident (for tax purposes) in the UK, the Shareholder will pay income tax on the amount received.

Dividend income is regarded as the top slice of the individual’s income. Each individual will have an annual dividend allowance of £2,000 which means that they will not pay tax on the first £2,000 of all dividend income that they receive (the “Dividend Allowance”).

Dividends in excess of the Dividend Allowance will be taxed at the individual’s marginal rate of tax. Where the dividend income falls within the basic rate income tax band that dividend income is taxable at 7.5% (the “dividend ordinary rate”). Where the dividend income falls within the higher rate income tax band, that dividend income is taxable at 32.5% (the “dividend upper rate”) and where it falls within the additional rate income tax band, it is taxable at 38.1% (the “dividend additional rate”).

The annual Dividend Allowance available to individuals will not be available to UK resident trustees of a discretionary trust. Instead UK resident trustees of a discretionary trust in receipt of dividend income are liable to income tax at a rate of 38.1%, which mirrors the dividend additional rate.

(C) Corporate Shareholders

Shareholders within the charge to UK corporation tax which are “small companies” (for the purposes of UK taxation of dividends) will not generally expect to be subject to tax on dividends from the Company. Other Shareholders within the charge to UK corporation tax will not be subject to tax on dividends from the Company so long as the dividends fall within an exempt class and certain conditions are met. In general, (i) dividends paid on shares that are not redeemable and do not carry any present or future preferential rights to dividends or to a company’s assets on its winding up and (ii) dividends paid to a person holding less than, among other things, 10 per cent. of the issued share capital of the payer (or any class of that share capital) are examples of dividends that fall within an exempt class.

Taxation of chargeable gains

(A) Individual Shareholders

A disposal of Ordinary Shares may give rise to a chargeable gain (or allowable loss) for the purposes of UK capital gains tax, depending on the circumstances and subject to any available exemption or relief. For Shareholders who are UK tax resident or only temporarily non-UK tax resident, capital gains tax at the rate of tax of 10 per cent. (for basic rate taxpayers) or 20 per cent. (for higher or additional rate taxpayers) may be payable on any gain (after any available exemptions, reliefs or losses).

(B) Corporate Shareholders

Where a Shareholder is within the charge to corporation tax, including cases where it is not resident (for tax purposes) in the UK, a disposal of Ordinary Shares may give rise to a chargeable gain (or allowable loss) for the purposes of UK corporation tax, depending on the circumstances and subject to any available exemption or relief.

(C) Non-resident Holders

A Shareholder that is not resident in the UK (and is not temporarily non-resident) for UK tax purposes and whose Ordinary Shares are not held in connection with carrying on a trade, profession or vocation in the UK generally will not be subject to UK tax on chargeable gains on the disposal of Ordinary Shares.

Stamp Duty and Stamp Duty Reserve Tax (“SDRT”)

The statements below (which apply whether or not a Shareholder is resident or domiciled in the UK) summarise the current position and are intended as a general guide only to stamp duty and SDRT. Certain categories of person are not liable to stamp duty or SDRT, and special rules apply to agreements made by broker dealers and market makers in the ordinary course of their business and to certain categories of person (such as depositaries and clearance services) who may be liable to stamp duty or SDRT at a higher rate or who may, although not primarily liable for tax, be required to notify and account for SDRT under the Stamp Duty Reserve Tax Regulations 1986.

No UK stamp duty or SDRT will be payable on the issue of New Ordinary Shares pursuant to the Admission.

Dealings in Ordinary Shares following their issue will generally be subject to stamp duty or SDRT in the normal way. An instrument effecting the transfer on sale of Ordinary Shares will generally be liable to stamp duty at the rate of 0.5 per cent. (rounded up, if necessary, to the nearest multiple of £5) of the amount or value of the consideration payable. However, where the amount or value of the consideration is £1,000 or less, and provided that the transfer does not form part of a larger transaction or series of transactions where the combined consideration exceeds £1,000, such instrument should be exempt from charge upon certification of such facts.

An unconditional agreement to transfer Ordinary Shares will generally be liable to SDRT at the rate of 0.5 per cent. of the amount or value of the consideration payable, but such liability will be cancelled, or a right to a repayment (generally, with interest) in respect of the payment of such SDRT liability will arise, if the agreement is completed by a duly stamped or exempt transfer within six years of the agreement having become unconditional. Stamp duty and SDRT are normally the liability of the purchaser.

Subject to certain exemptions, a charge to stamp duty or SDRT will arise on the transfer of Ordinary Shares to a person providing a clearance service, its nominee or agent, or to an issuer of depositary receipts, its nominee or agent, where that transfer is not an integral part of an issue of share capital. The rate of stamp duty or SDRT, as the case may be, in such circumstances will generally be 1.5 per cent. of the amount or value of the consideration for the transfer or, in some circumstances, the value of the Ordinary Shares concerned, in the case of stamp duty rounded up, if necessary, to the nearest multiple of £5.

No stamp duty or SDRT will arise on a transfer of Ordinary Shares into the CREST system provided that the transfer is not for money or money’s worth. Paperless transfers of Ordinary Shares within CREST are liable to SDRT (at a rate of 0.5 per cent. of the amount or value of the consideration payable) rather than stamp duty, and SDRT arising on the agreement to transfer Ordinary Shares under relevant transactions settled within the system or reported through it for regulatory purposes will generally be collected by CREST.

Cayman Islands taxation

Pursuant to section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, on 15 May 2018, the Company was granted from the Governor in Cabinet:

- (a) that no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands after the date of grant of the undertaking imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Company or its operations; and

- (b) in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable:
 - (i) on or in respect of the shares, debentures or other obligations of the Company; or
 - (ii) by way of withholding in whole or in part of any relevant payment as defined in Section 6(3) of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision).

The undertaking has been granted for a period of twenty years from the date of grant.

The Cayman Islands currently levy no taxes on individuals or corporations based upon profits, income, gains or appreciations and there is no taxation in the nature of inheritance tax or estate duty. There are no other taxes likely to be material to the Company levied by the Government of the Cayman Islands save certain stamp duties which may be applicable, from time to time, on certain instruments executed in or brought within the jurisdiction of the Cayman Islands.

The Cayman Islands has entered into a limited double taxation arrangement for the avoidance of double taxation and the prevention of fiscal evasion with the United Kingdom on 15 June 2009 which came into force on 20 December 2010 and is effective (in both the United Kingdom and in the Cayman Islands) from 1 April 2011 for corporation tax, from 6 April 2011 for income tax and capital gains tax and from 15 December 2010 for other taxes.

PART VIII

CREST AND DEPOSITARY INTERESTS

1. CREST and depositary arrangements

The Company has established arrangements to enable investors to settle interests in the Ordinary Shares through the CREST system. CREST is a paperless settlement system allowing securities to be transferred from one person's CREST account to another without the need to use share certificates or written instruments of transfer. Securities issued by non-UK companies, such as the Company, cannot be held or transferred electronically in the CREST system. However, depositary interests allow such securities to be dematerialised and settled electronically through CREST. Where investors choose to settle interests in the Ordinary Shares through the CREST system, and pursuant to depositary arrangements established by the Company, the Depositary will hold the Ordinary Shares and issue dematerialised depositary interests representing the underlying Ordinary Shares which will be held on trust for the holders of the Depositary Interests. The Depositary Interests will be independent securities constituted under English law which may be held and transferred through the CREST system. Investors should note that it is the Depositary Interests which will be admitted to and settled through CREST and not the Ordinary Shares.

The Depositary Interests will be created pursuant to and issued on the terms of the Deed Poll dated 27 November 2018 and executed by the Depositary in favour of the holders of the Depositary Interests from time to time. Prospective holders of Depositary Interests should note that they will have no rights against Euroclear or its subsidiaries in respect of the underlying Ordinary Shares or the Depositary Interests representing them.

The Ordinary Shares will be transferred to an account of the Depositary or its nominated custodian ("Custodian") and the Depositary will issue Depositary Interests to participating members and provide the necessary custodial services.

In relation to those Ordinary Shares held by Shareholders in uncertificated form, although the Company's register of members shows the Custodian as the legal holder of the Ordinary Shares, the beneficial interest in the Ordinary Shares remains with the holder of Depositary Interests, who has the benefit of all the rights attaching to the Ordinary Shares as if the holder of Depositary Interests were named on the certificated Ordinary Share register itself.

Each Depositary Interest will be treated as one Ordinary Share for the purposes of determining, for example, eligibility for any dividends. The Depositary will pass on to holders of Depositary Interests any stock or cash benefits received by it as Shareholder on trust for such Depositary Interest holder. Depositary Interest holders, through the Depositary, will also be able to receive notices of meetings of Shareholders and other notices issued by the Company to the Shareholders.

The Depositary Interests will have the same ISIN number as the underlying Ordinary Shares and will not require a separate listing on the Official List. The Depositary Interests can then be traded and settlement will be within the CREST system in the same way as any other CREST securities.

Application has been made for the Depositary Interests to be admitted to CREST with effect from Admission.

If a holder wishes to cancel its Depositary Interest, it will either directly or through its broker instruct the applicable CREST participant to initiate a CREST withdrawal (where such withdrawal is sent to the Depositary) for the name that appears on the Register. The Depositary Interest will then be cancelled by the Depositary and the related Ordinary Shares will be credited to the account on the Register by the Registrar. The Registrar will then send the holder a new Ordinary Shares certificate.

The information included within this Part VIII relating to the obtaining and cancellation of Depositary Interests by a holder is intended to be a summary only and is not to be construed as legal, business or tax advice. Each investor should consult his or her own lawyer, financial adviser, broker or tax adviser for legal, financial or tax advice in relation to Depositary Interests.

2. Deed Poll

The Deed Poll was executed on 27 November 2018 by the Depositary and contains provisions to the following effect:

- 2.1 The Depositary will hold (itself or through the Custodian), as bare trustee, the underlying Ordinary Shares and all and any rights and other securities, property and cash attributable to the underlying Ordinary Shares pertaining to the Depositary Interests for the benefit of the holders of the relevant Depositary Interests as tenants in common. The Depositary will re-allocate securities or Depositary Interests distributions allocated to the Depositary or Custodian pro rata to the Ordinary Shares held for the respective accounts of the holders of Depositary Interests, but will not be required to account for fractional entitlements arising from such re-allocation.

- 2.2 Holders of Depositary Interests agree to give such warranties and certifications to the Depositary as the Depositary may reasonably require. In particular, holders of Depositary Interests warrant, inter alia, that the securities in the Company transferred or issued to the Depositary or Custodian on behalf of the Depositary for the account of the Depositary Interest holder are free and clear of all liens, charges, encumbrances or third party interests and that such transfers or issues are not in contravention of the Company's constitutional documents or any contractual obligation, or applicable law or regulation binding or affecting such holder, and holders of Depositary Interests agree to indemnify the Depositary against any liability incurred as a result of any breach of such warranty.
- 2.3 The Depositary and any Custodian shall pass on to the Depositary Interest holders and, so far as they are reasonably able, exercise on behalf of the Depositary Interest holders all rights and entitlements received or to which they are entitled in respect of the underlying Ordinary Shares which are capable of being passed on or exercised. Rights and entitlements to cash distributions, to information, to make choices and elections and to call for, attend and vote at meetings shall, subject to the Deed Poll, be passed on in the form in which they are received, together with amendments and additional documentation necessary to effect such passing-on, or, as the case may be, exercised in accordance with the Deed Poll. If arrangements are made which allow a holder to take up rights in the Company's securities requiring further payment, the holder must put the Depositary in cleared funds before the relevant payment date or other date notified by the Depositary if it wishes the Depositary to exercise such rights.
- 2.4 The Depositary will be entitled to cancel Depositary Interests and treat the holders thereof as having requested a withdrawal of the underlying securities in certain circumstances, including where a Depositary Interest holder fails to furnish the Depositary with such certificates or representations as to material matters of fact, including his identity, as the Depositary deems appropriate.
- 2.5 The Depositary warrants that it is an authorised person under the FSMA and is duly authorised to carry out custodian and other activities under the Deed Poll. It also undertakes to maintain that status and authorisation.
- 2.6 The Deed Poll contains certain provisions excluding and limiting the Depositary's liability. For example, the Depositary shall not be liable to any Depositary Interest holder or any other person for liabilities in connection with the performance or non-performance of obligations under the Deed Poll or otherwise except as may result from its negligence or wilful default or fraud or that of any person for whom it is vicariously liable, provided that the Depositary shall not be liable for the negligence, wilful default or fraud of any Custodian or agent which is not a member of its group unless it has failed to exercise reasonable care in the appointment and continued use and supervision of such Custodian or agent. Except in the case of personal injury or death, any liability incurred by the Depositary to a holder under the Deed Poll is limited to the lesser of:
- (a) the value of the Ordinary Shares that would have been properly attributable to the Depositary Interests to which the liability relates; and
 - (b) that proportion of £5 million which corresponds to the portion which the amount the Depositary would otherwise be liable to pay to the holder bears to the aggregate of the amounts the Depositary would otherwise be liable to pay to all such holders in respect of the same act, omission or event which gave rise to such liability or, if there are no such amounts, £5 million.
- 2.7 The Depositary is entitled to charge holders of Depositary Interests fees and expenses for the provision of its services under the Deed Poll. In addition, each holder of Depositary Interests is liable to indemnify the Depositary and any Custodian (and their agents, officers and employees), and hold each of them harmless, from and against all liabilities arising from or incurred in connection with, or arising from any act related to, the Deed Poll so far as they relate to the property held for the account of that holder, other than those caused by or resulting from the wilful default, negligence or fraud of: (i) the Depositary; or (ii) the Custodian or any agent if such Custodian or agent is a member of the Depositary's group or if, not being a member of the same group, the Depositary shall have failed to exercise reasonable care in the appointment and continued use of such Custodian or agent.
- 2.8 The Depositary is entitled to make deductions from the deposited property or any income or capital arising therefrom, or to sell such deposited property and make deductions from the sale proceeds thereof, in order to discharge the indemnification obligations of Depositary Interest holders.
- 2.9 The Depositary may terminate the Deed Poll by giving not less than 30 days' notice. During such notice period, Depositary Interest holders may cancel their Depositary Interests and withdraw their deposited property and, if any Depositary Interests remain outstanding after termination, the Depositary shall, as soon as reasonably practicable and amongst other things: (i) deliver the deposited property in respect of the Depository Interests to the relevant Depository Interest holder or at the Depository's discretion; (ii) sell all or part of such deposited property. It shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, deliver the net proceeds of any such sale, after deducting any sums due to the Depository, together with any other cash held by it under the Deed Poll, pro rata to the Depository Interest holders in respect of their Depository Interests.

- 2.10 The Depository or the Company may require from any holder: (i) information as to the capacity in which Depository Interests are owned or held by such holders and the identity of any other person with any interest of any kind in such Depository Interests or the underlying Ordinary Shares and the nature and amounts of such interests; (ii) evidence or declaration of nationality or residence of the legal or beneficial owner(s) of Depository Interests and such information as is required to transfer the relevant Depository Interests or Ordinary Shares to the holder; and (iii) such information as is necessary or desirable for the purposes of the Deed Poll or CREST system, and holders are bound to provide such information requested. The holders of Depository Interests consent to the disclosure of such information by the Depository, Custodian or Company to the extent necessary or desirable to comply with their respective legal or regulatory obligations.
- 2.11 Furthermore, to the extent that the Company's constitutional documents, applicable laws or regulations, the Ground Rules for the Management of the FTSE UK Index Series (if applicable), or any court or legal or regulatory authority may require or the Company deems it necessary or desirable in connection therewith (including in response to requests for information), the disclosure to the Group of, or limitations in relation to, beneficial or other ownership of, or interests of any kind whatsoever in, the Company's securities, the Depository Interest holders are to comply with such provisions and with the Company's securities, the Depository Interest holders are to comply with such provisions and with the Company's instructions with respect thereto, and consent to the disclosure of such information for such purposes. It should also be noted that holders of Depository Interests may not have the opportunity to exercise all of the rights and entitlements available to holders of Ordinary Shares, including, for example, the ability to vote on a show of hands. In relation to voting, it will be important for holders of Depository Interests to give prompt instructions to the Registrar or its nominated Custodian, in accordance with any voting arrangements made available to them, to vote the underlying Ordinary Shares on their behalf or, to the extent possible, to take advantage of any arrangements enabling holders of Depository Interests to vote such Ordinary Shares as a proxy of the Registrar or its nominated Custodian

- 3.2 The Depository agrees that it will comply with the terms of the Deed Poll and that it will perform its obligations with reasonable skill and care. The Depository assumes certain specific obligations, including, for example, to arrange for the Depository Interests to be admitted to CREST as participating securities and provide copies of, and access to, the register of Depository Interests.
- 3.3 The Company acknowledges that it shall be its responsibility and undertakes to advise the Depository promptly of any securities laws or other applicable laws, rules or regulations with which the Depository must comply in providing the services.
- 3.4 The Company agrees to provide such assistance, information and documentation to the Depository as is reasonably required by the Depository for the purposes of performing its duties, responsibilities and obligations under the Depository Agreement.
- 3.5 The Depository indemnifies the Company and its officers and employees from and against any loss (excluding indirect, consequential or special loss) which any of them may incur in any way as a result of or in connection with the fraud, negligence or wilful default of the Depository (or its officers, employees, agents or sub-contractors).
- 3.6 The appointment of the Depository shall continue for a fixed term of one year until terminated by either party giving to the other part not less than six months' notice, subject to earlier termination in accordance with the terms of the Depository Agreement. Either party may terminate the Depository Agreement with immediate effect by notice in writing if the other party: (i) shall be in persistent or material breach of any term (of the Depository Agreement) and such breach is not remedied (if capable of being remedied) within 21 days of receiving notice of such breach and a request for such remedy; (ii) goes into insolvency or liquidation or - administration or a receiver is appointed over any part of its undertaking or assets, subject to certain provisos; or (iii) shall cease to have the appropriate authorisations which permit it lawfully to perform its obligations under the Depositary Agreement. Should the Depositary Agreement be terminated for any reason, other than arising from the Depositary's fraud, negligence, wilful default or material breach of a term of the Depositary Agreement, the Company shall within 30 days of termination pay to the Depositary the Depositary's reasonable costs and expenses of transferring the Depositary Interest register to its new registrar.

- 3.7 The Depositary will be entitled to employ agents for the purposes of carrying out certain of its obligations under the Depositary Agreement which the Depositary reasonably considers to be of a specialist nature.
- 3.8 The Company is to pay to the Depositary an annual fee for the services. The Company shall pay a fixed fee for the deposit, cancellation and transfer of the Depositary Interests and the compilation of the initial Depositary Interests register. The Company shall in addition reimburse the Depositary within 30 days of the Depositary's invoice for all network charges, CREST charges, money transmission and banking charges and other out-of-pocket expenses incurred by it in connection with the provision of the services under the Depositary Agreement.
- 3.9 The Company will indemnify the Depositary from and against all losses suffered or incurred by the Depositary as a result of or in connection with the performance of the Depositary of its obligations under the Depositary Agreement. This indemnification does not restrict or limit Computershare's general obligation at law to mitigate a loss it may suffer or incur as a result of any event that may give rise to a claim under this indemnity.
- 3.10 The aggregate liability of the Depositary to the Company over any 12-month period under the Depositary Agreement, whether such liability arises under any express or implied terms of the Depositary Agreement, in tort, for misrepresentation, for breach of contract, a contribution or any other duty imposed by law or in any other way will not exceed twice the amount of the Fees (as defined in the Depositary Agreement) payable in any 12-month period in respect of a single claim or in the aggregate.

No appointment shall take effect until the Director has given notice of the appointment to the Board. All notices of meetings of Directors shall continue to be given to the appointing Director and not to the alternate. An alternate director shall be entitled to attend and vote at any Board meeting or meeting of a committee of the Directors at which the appointing Director is not personally present, and generally to perform all the functions of the appointing Director in his absence. An alternate director, however, is not entitled to receive any remuneration from the Company for services rendered as an alternate director. A Director may at any time revoke the appointment of an alternate director appointed by him.

The shareholding qualification for Directors may be fixed by the Company by ordinary resolution and unless and until so fixed no share qualification shall be required.

Retirement and removal of directors

- (a) The first Directors of the Company and all subsequent Directors shall submit themselves for re-election by the Shareholders at the first annual general meeting after their appointment. No Director shall remain in office for longer than three years since their last election or re-election without submitting themselves for re-election. At each annual general meeting, the Directors subject to retirement shall retire from office. A Director retiring at such meeting shall retain office until the dissolution of such meeting and accordingly on retiring, a Director who is re-elected or deemed to have been re-elected will continue in office without a break.

- (b) The Directors to retire by rotation shall be:
 - (A) any Director who wishes to retire and not to offer himself for re-election;
 - (B) any Director who has been, or who by the time of the next annual general meeting will have been, in office for three (3) years or more; and
 - (C) such number of additional Directors (if any) as, when added to those Directors referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) above, equal one-third of the Directors (or, if the number of Directors is not three or a multiple of three, the number nearest to but not exceeding one-third of the Directors), provided that such additional Directors shall be those who have been longest in office. As between two or more Directors who have been in office an equal length of time, the Directors to retire shall in default of agreement between them be determined by lot. The length of time a Director has been in office shall be computed from the date of his last election or appointment when he has previously vacated office.
- (c) A retiring Director shall be eligible for re-election.
- (d) The Company at the meeting at which a Director retires in the manner aforesaid may fill the vacated office by appointing a person thereto by ordinary resolution and in default the retiring Director shall, if willing to act, be deemed to have been reappointed unless at such meeting it is expressly resolved not to fill the vacated office or a resolution for the re-appointment of such Director shall have been put to the meeting and lost. The Company at such meeting may also, subject to the Articles, fill any other vacancies.
- (e) A Director may be removed by ordinary resolution.
- (f) A Director may at any time resign or retire from office by giving to the Company notice in writing. Unless the notice specifies a different date, the Director shall be deemed to have resigned on the date that the notice is delivered to the Company.
- (g) Subject to the provisions of the Articles, the office of a Director may be terminated forthwith if:
 - (A) he is prohibited by the law of the Cayman Islands from acting as a Director; or
 - (B) he is made bankrupt or makes an arrangement or composition with his creditors generally; or
 - (C) he resigns his office by notice to the Company; or
 - (D) he only held office as a Director for a fixed term and such term expires; or
 - (E) in the opinion of a registered medical practitioner by whom he is being treated he becomes physically or mentally incapable of acting as a Director; or
 - (F) he is given notice by the majority of the other Directors (not being less than two in number) to vacate office (without prejudice to any claim for damages for breach of any agreement relating to the provision of the services of such Director); or
 - (G) he is made subject to any law relating to mental health or incompetence, whether by court order or otherwise; or
 - (H) without the consent of the other Directors, he is absent from meetings of Directors for a continuous period of six months.

Compensation for loss of office

The provisions contained in sections 215 to 221 of the Companies Act in relation to payments made to Directors (or a person connected to such Directors) for loss of office and the circumstances in which such payments would require the approval of Shareholders shall apply to the Company, and the Company shall comply with such provisions as if it were a company incorporated in the United Kingdom.

Powers and Duties of Directors

- (a) Subject to the provisions of the Companies Law, the Memorandum and the Articles, the business of the Company shall be managed by the Directors, who may exercise all powers of the Company. No prior act of the Directors shall be invalidated by any subsequent alteration of the Memorandum or the Articles. However, to the extent allowed by the Companies Law, Shareholders may by special resolution validate any prior or future act of the Directors which would otherwise be in breach of their duties.
- (b) The Directors may delegate any of their powers to any committee consisting of one or more persons who need not be Shareholders and may include non-directors so long as the majority of those persons are Directors; any committee so formed shall in the exercise of the powers so delegated conform to any regulations that may be imposed on it by the Directors.
- (c) The Board may establish any local or divisional board or agency and delegate to it its powers and authorities (with power to sub-delegate) for managing any of the affairs of the Company whether in the Cayman Islands or elsewhere and may appoint any persons to be members of a local or divisional board, or to be managers or agents, and may fix their remuneration.
- (d) The Directors may from time to time and at any time by power of attorney or in any other manner they determine appoint any person, either generally or in respect of any specific matter, to be the agent of the Company with or without authority for that person to delegate all or any of that person's powers.
- (e) The Directors may from time to time and at any time by power of attorney or in any other manner they determine appoint any person, whether nominated directly or indirectly by the Directors, to be the attorney or the authorised signatory of the Company and for such period and subject to such conditions as they may think fit. The powers, authorities and discretions, however, must not exceed those vested in, or exercisable, by the Directors under the Articles. The Board may remove any person so appointed and may revoke or vary the delegation.

Proceedings of directors

- (a) The Directors may meet together to discuss any matters of the Company (either within or outside the Cayman Islands) and, subject to the provisions of Articles, may regulate their meetings and proceedings as they think fit.
- (b) Any Director and the company secretary may at the requisition of a Director, summon a meeting of the Directors.

- (d) The quorum for the transaction of the business of the Board shall be two unless the Directors fix some other number.
- (e) A resolution in writing agreed by and signed by all the Directors entitled to receive notice of and vote at a meeting of the Board shall be as valid and effectual as if it had been passed at a meeting of the Board or (as the case may be) a committee of the Board duly convened and held.
- (f) A person entitled to be present at a meeting of the Board shall be deemed to be present for all purposes if he takes part in the meeting by way of a conference telephone, video or any other form of communications equipment which allows everybody participating in the meeting to speak to and be heard by all those present or deemed to be present simultaneously. A Director so deemed to be present shall be entitled to vote and be counted in a quorum accordingly.

- (g) The Directors may fill any casual vacancy in the office of Auditors to the Company.

Interests of Directors and restrictions on voting

- (a) A Director shall not, as a Director, vote in respect of any contract, transaction, arrangement or proposal in which he has an interest which (together with any interest of any person connected with him) is a material interest (otherwise than by virtue of his interests, direct or indirect, in Shares or debentures or other securities of, or otherwise in or through, the Company) and if he shall do so his vote shall not be counted, nor in relation thereto shall he be counted in the quorum present at the meeting, but (in the absence of some other material interest than is mentioned below) none of these prohibitions shall apply to:
- (A) the giving of any security, guarantee or indemnity in respect of:
 - (AA) money lent or obligations incurred by him or by any other person for the benefit of the Company or any of its subsidiaries; or
 - (AB) a debt or obligation of the Company or any of its subsidiaries for which the Director himself has assumed responsibility in whole or in part and whether alone or jointly with others under a guarantee or indemnity or by the giving of security;
 - (B) where the Company or any of its subsidiaries is offering securities in which offer the Director is or may be entitled to participate as a holder of securities or in the underwriting or sub-underwriting of which the Director is to or may participate;
 - (C) any contract, transaction, arrangement or proposal affecting any other body corporate in which he is interested, directly or indirectly and whether as an officer, shareholder, creditor or otherwise howsoever, provided that he (together with persons connected with him) does not to his knowledge hold an interest representing one per cent or more of any class of the equity share capital of such body corporate (or of any third body corporate through which his interest is derived) or of the voting rights available to members of the relevant body corporate (any such interest being deemed for the purposes of the Articles to be a material interest in all circumstances);
 - (D) any act or thing done or to be done in respect of any arrangement for the benefit of the employees of the Company or any of its subsidiaries under which he is not accorded as a Director any privilege or advantage not generally accorded to the employees to whom such arrangement relates; or
 - (E) any matter connected with the purchase or maintenance for any Director of insurance against any liability or (to the extent permitted by the Companies Law) indemnities in favour of Directors, the funding of expenditure by one or more Directors in defending proceedings against him or them or the doing of anything to enable such Director or Directors to avoid incurring such expenditure.
- (b) A Director may, as a Director, vote (and be counted in the quorum) in respect of any contract, transaction, arrangement or proposal in which he has an interest which is not a material interest or which falls within the above.

Indemnity

- (a) To the extent permitted by law, the Company shall indemnify each existing or former secretary, Director (including alternate director), and other officer of the Company (including an investment adviser or an administrator or liquidator) and their personal representatives against:
- (A) all actions, proceedings, costs, charges, expenses, losses, damages or liabilities incurred or sustained by the existing or former secretary or officer in or about the conduct of the Company's business or affairs or in the execution or discharge of the existing or former secretary's or officer's duties, powers, authorities or discretions; and
 - (B) without limitation to paragraph (a), all costs, expenses, losses or liabilities incurred by the existing or former secretary or officer in defending (whether successfully or otherwise) any civil, criminal, administrative or investigative proceedings (whether threatened, pending or completed) concerning the Company or its affairs in any court or tribunal, whether in the Cayman Islands or elsewhere.
- (b) No such existing or former secretary or officer, however, shall be indemnified in respect of any matter arising out of his own dishonesty.
- (c) To the extent permitted by law, the Company may make a payment, or agree to make a payment, whether by way of advance, loan or otherwise, for any legal costs incurred by an existing or former secretary or officer of the Company in respect of any matter identified in paragraph (a) (A) or (B) above on condition that the secretary or officer must repay the amount paid by the Company to the extent that it is ultimately found not liable to indemnify the secretary or that officer for those legal costs.

Capitalisation of profits

- (a) The Directors may resolve to capitalise:
- (A) any part of the Company's profits not required for paying any preferential dividend (whether or not those profits are available for distribution); or
 - (B) any sum standing to the credit of the Company's share premium account or capital redemption reserve, if any.

The amount resolved to be capitalised must be appropriated to the Shareholders who would have been entitled to it had it been distributed by way of dividend and in the same proportions.

Distribution of assets in a liquidation

- (a) If the Company is wound up, the Shareholders may, subject to the Articles and any other sanction required by the Companies Law, pass a special resolution allowing the liquidator to do either or both of the following:

 - (B) to vest the whole or any part of the assets in trustees for the benefit of Shareholders and those liable to contribute to the winding up.
- (b) The Directors have the authority to present a petition for the winding up of the Company to the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands on behalf of the Company without the sanction of a resolution passed at a general meeting.

Takeover Provisions

- (a) The Company's Articles contain certain protections which are similar to those provisions of the City Code. The Articles provide among other things that:

- (A) if any Shareholder (or person acting in concert with such Shareholder) acquires, whether in a single transaction or by a series of transactions over a period of time, an interest in Shares which (taken together with Shares in which such Shareholder or persons acting in concert with such Shareholders are interested) carry 30 per cent. or more of the voting rights of the Company; or
 - (B) any Shareholder, together with persons acting in concert with such Shareholder, is interested in Shares which in the aggregate carry not less than 30 per cent. Of the voting rights of the Company but does not hold Shares carrying more than 50 per cent. of such voting rights and such Shareholder, or any person acting in concert with such Shareholder, acquires an interest in any other Shares which increases the percentage of shares carrying voting rights in which he is interested, such Shareholder (the “Offeror”) shall extend an offer, to the holders of all the issued (and to be issued) Shares in the Company. An offer will not be required where control of the Company is acquired as a result of a voluntary offer made materially in accordance with the provisions of the City Code (as if the City Code applied to the Company) to all holders of shares.
- (b) An offer must be conditional only upon the Offeror having received acceptances in respect of Shares which, together with Shares acquired or agreed to be acquired before or during the offer, will result in the Offeror and any person acting in concert with it holding Shares carrying more than 50 per cent. of the voting rights of the Company.
 - (c) An offer will not be required under the Articles, as a result of the acquisition by a person of Shares upon Admission, or as a result of the exercise by a person (or, in respect of a corporate entity, a member of that corporate entity’s group) of warrants or options which were granted to such person upon Admission.
 - (d) An offer must be in cash or be accompanied by a cash alternative at not less than the highest price paid by the Offeror or any person acting in concert with it for any interest in shares during the 12 months prior to the date upon which an announcement of that offer would have been required had the City Code applied to the Company. If, after the obligation to make an offer pursuant to the Articles arises and before the offer closes for acceptance, the Offeror or any person acting in concert with it acquires any interest in Shares at above the offer price, it shall increase its offer to not less than the highest price paid for the interest in Shares so acquired.
 - (e) When an offer is made and the Company has convertible securities outstanding, the Offeror must make an appropriate offer or proposal, on terms equivalent to the offer made for shares, to the holders of such convertible securities to ensure that their interests are safeguarded.
 - (f) Any offer shall be made on terms that would be required by the then current City Code, save to the extent that the Board otherwise determines. In relation to any offer required to be made under the Articles, any matter which under the City Code would fall to be determined by the Takeover Panel shall be determined by the Board in its absolute discretion or by such person appointed by the Board to make such determination.
 - (g) Except with the consent of an ordinary resolution of independent Shareholders on a poll, Shareholders shall comply with the requirements of the City Code (as if the City Code applied to the Company) in relation to any dealings in any Shares and in relation to their dealings with the Company in relation to all matters.
 - (h) At all times when the Company is in an offer period each Shareholder shall comply with the disclosure obligations set out in Rule 8 of the City Code as if the City Code applied to the Company.

Any failure to comply with these restrictions may constitute a violation of the securities laws of any such jurisdiction.

General

No action has been or will be taken in any jurisdiction that would permit a public offering of the Ordinary Shares, or possession or distribution of this Document or any other offering material in any country or jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required. Accordingly, the Ordinary Shares may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, and neither this Document nor any other offering material or advertisement in connection with the Ordinary Shares may be distributed or published in or from any country or jurisdiction except under circumstances that will result in compliance with any and all applicable rules and regulations of any such country or jurisdiction. Any failure to comply with these restrictions may constitute a violation of the securities laws of any such jurisdiction. This Document does not constitute an offer to subscribe for any of the Ordinary Shares offered hereby to any person in any jurisdiction to whom it is unlawful to make such offer or solicitation in such jurisdiction.

This Document has been approved by the FCA as a prospectus which may be used to offer securities to the public for the purposes of section 85 of FSMA, and of the Prospectus Directive. No arrangement has however been made with the competent authority in any other EEA State (or any other jurisdiction) for the use of this Document as an approved prospectus in such jurisdiction and accordingly no public offer is to be made in such jurisdiction. Issue or circulation of this Document may be prohibited in countries other than those in relation to which notices are given below.

For the attention of all Investors

The Ordinary Shares are only suitable for acquisition by a person who: (a) has a significantly substantial asset base such that would enable the person to sustain any loss that might be incurred as a result of acquiring the Ordinary Shares; and (b) is sufficiently financially sophisticated to be reasonably expected to know the risks involved in acquiring the Ordinary Shares.

For the attention of European Economic Area Investors

In relation to each member state of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a “Relevant Member State”), an offer to the public of the Ordinary Shares may only be made once the prospectus has been passported in such Relevant Member State in accordance with the Prospectus Directive as implemented by such Relevant Member State. For the other Relevant Member States an offer to the public in that Relevant Member State of any Ordinary Shares may only be made at any time under the following exemptions under the Prospectus Directive, if they have been implemented in that Relevant Member State:

- (a) to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined under the Prospectus Directive;
- (b) to fewer than 100 or, if the Relevant Member State has implemented the relevant provisions of the 2010 PD Amending Directive, 150, natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Directive) in such Relevant Member State subject to obtaining prior consent of the Company for any such offer; or
- (c) in any other circumstances falling within Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Directive, provided that no such offer of Ordinary Shares shall result in a requirement for the publication by the Company of a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an “offer to the public” in relation to any offer of Ordinary Shares in any Relevant Member State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and any Ordinary Shares to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for the Ordinary Shares, as the same may be varied in that Relevant Member State by any measure implementing the Prospectus Directive in that Relevant Member State and the expression “Prospectus Directive” means Directive 2003/71/EC (and any amendments, thereto, including the 2010 PD Amending Directive, to the extent implemented in the Relevant Member State) and includes any relevant implementing measure in each Relevant Member State and the expression “2010 PD Amending Directive” means Directive 2010/73/EU.

During the period up to but excluding the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in member states of the EEA, this Prospectus may not be used for, or in connection with, and does not constitute, any offer of Ordinary Shares or an invitation to purchase or subscribe for any Ordinary Shares in any member state of the EEA in which such offer or invitation would be unlawful.

The distribution of this Document in other jurisdictions may be restricted by law and therefore persons into whose possession this Document comes should inform themselves about and observe any such restrictions.
