

Smart Meeting Room

LIKO-S OASIS®

The modular meeting room LIKO-S OASIS was developed together with the architectural office Studio Reactor. It relies on curved glass as a core structural element in its overall organic design. The laminated liquid crystal technology makes it possible to alternate between transparent and opaque glass effects. Its sound insulation ensures noise reduction of up to 43 decibels. The meeting system with a digital assistant monitors occupancy as well as environmental data and is controlled by gestures. The jury liked the functional technology and the intelligent overall concept in combination with the innovative design language.
