

Subject: Urgent Matter Regarding Outstanding Debt

Dear Contreras, Kristin Figueroa Contreras,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to address a matter of great concern that has been unresolved for quite some time. As you are aware, back in 2014, you represented me under false pretenses during my direct appeal in front of the 11th circuit, and as a result, you received a sum of 65k from me. But have never filed even a notice of appearance in court.

Upon further investigation, I discovered that you fabricated fake documents and submitted them to the Florida Bar in an attempt to cover up your previous fraudulent actions. When I confronted Mr. John David Bogenschutz about this, he was appalled but not entirely surprised by your conduct. He informed me that you must refund the entire amount you received and be reported to the authorities. Other attorneys I consulted with shared the same view.

In my pursuit of justice, I contacted the Dade Miami State Attorney's Office, and I have comprehensive records of our conversation through social media and my website. Additionally, some news channels have taken an interest in this matter.

What perplexes me throughout this ordeal is why you would take a client's funds, proclaim their innocence, promise to fight diligently under the direct appeal, and then vanish with the money. Other attorneys have suggested that Mr. Klugh might have said something to influence your decision to walk away. It is disheartening to see that someone with your legal expertise would be involved in such fraudulent activities. It appears that there is a concerted effort to cover up the numerous instances of fraud committed by the government, the agent, and even the court itself in my case.

Furthermore, it has come to my attention that Judge Robin Rosebaum appointed Richard Klugh to file a frivolous appeal, fully aware that it would be denied. This only adds to the suspicion that someone else might be orchestrating this cover-up, possibly to protect those involved in the mess to convicting a innocent man.

I implore you to do the right thing and rectify this situation immediately. It is my sincere hope that you will promptly return the remaining 35k owed to me and take responsibility for your actions. I have no intention of letting this matter rest until it is resolved justly.

Please treat this matter with the seriousness it deserves and respond to this message at your earliest convenience. The authorities have been alerted, and the evidence against you is mounting. It is in your best interest to cooperate and resolve this matter before it escalates further.

As you are well aware, I have taken the unfortunate situation we find ourselves into the public eye. Through various platforms such as blogs and videos, I have exposed the fraudulent conduct that you have engaged in. It appears that I am not the only one affected by your actions, as other dissatisfied clients have come forward with similar claims after discovering my online content.

It is disheartening to realize that this might not be an isolated incident and that you may have defrauded others before me. I asking you to rectify your past misdeeds and treat people honestly and fairly, including yourself. As an attorney with a license, you have the power to positively impact the lives of others through your work. Embracing ethical practices will ultimately lead to positive outcomes both in your professional and personal life. This concept of karma, even if you may not believe in a higher power, holds a universal truth – actions have consequences.

I want to emphasize that my pursuit of justice will not cease until I am rightfully compensated for the funds were wrongfully taken from me. The loss you caused me and the pain it has inflicted are profound and cannot be repaired easily. I believe it is in your best interest to take responsibility for your actions and return the entire sum you acquired without honest effort. I am aware of the evidence and documents that point towards your involvement, and denial will only exacerbate the situation.

I urge you to reconsider your position and address this matter directly with me. Honesty and restitution will go a long way in resolving this dispute, sparing both of us from prolonged legal battles and potential long-term consequences. Others who have fought for justice have eventually prevailed, and I hope you will make the right choice to avoid further escalation.

I am willing to listen to your side of the story, understanding that there may be factors influencing your actions that I am unaware of. However, I insist on finding a resolution that is fair and just. Please understand that this is not a personal vendetta against you, but a quest for accountability and restitution.

Time is of the essence, Mr. Contreras. I expect you to contact me directly, your earliest convenience to begin a sincere dialogue and work towards a resolution.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,
