Spring 2024

OIKONOMOS INTERNATIONAL

had a milestone shortly after Christmas when the first new Stewards, since the organization's inception, arrived in London to care for the home of missionaries K. and J. This means that before any airplanes took off, many hours of training equipped new Stewards Cecil and Paula New and Dean and Mary Jane Sinclair for their exciting role as house sitters for Oikonomos International.

Although Dean traveled alone, he, Cecil, and Paula jumped right into service as opportunities opened for them in East and Central London. Worshipping and supporting church and missionary work in a new culture, shopping in supermarkets and shops so different from those in their American neighborhoods, and getting about on public transportation thrilled their hearts.

You can hear their enthusiasm firsthand if you are attending the MTW Missions Conference this coming November in Atlanta, GA. Oikonomos International will exhibit there to broaden the reach of our mission of serving missionaries in high cost living areas through Oikonomos International house sitters.

The Missions Conference will be another milestone, one that requires more preparation than packing a suitcase for a 4 month stay overseas. Now we must outfit a booth and pray over the lasting impact of this investment. The Lord knows our need and will order our appointments. Perhaps you will be part of the work that helps with the expenses or spreads the word of this work.

PLEASE DO CONSIDER A FINANCIAL CONTRIBUTION toward the next phase for Oikonomos International. AND please consider attending the MTW conference and visiting the booth.
