J. NATURAL MANE AND TAIL DIVISION

1. Brief 'Type' Standard and Common Faults

Three-Gaited Natural Mane and Tail Division

The Three-Gaited Natural Mane and Tail horse should be refined and elegant. This horse should have great expression and the athletic aptitude to perform its gaits with animated collection and precision. Coarser horses or horses that require speed to achieve motion are not suitable for this division. Weediness is not to be confused with refinement in assessing the Three-Gaited type.

The Five-Gaited Natural Mane and Tail horse should be refined and elegant with its energy directed to correct form at speed. These horses should also have great expression and the athletic aptitude to perform their gaits with animated collection and precision. Speed is of great importance but style and form should never be sacrificed.

The Fine Harness Natural Mane and Tail horse should be beautiful, refined and elegant and possess the right conformation through the neck and throatlatch to enable the horse to wear an over-check. This horse should have great expression and a rhythmical, airy movement. Weediness is not to be confused with refinement in assessing the Fine Harness type.

Horses are judged on:

- Performance
- Presence
- Quality
- Conformation

The turn-out for the Natural Mane and Tail Three-Gaited division is basically the same as for the Five-Gaited division and Fine Harness division. The only exceptions are those of the boots and in the case of the harness division, the buggy and driving bits.

Cleanliness and neatness are the foremost requirements regarding the turn out of a horse. Ears and whiskers trimmed and oiled. Fetlocks trimmed, socks scrubbed, hooves scrubbed and oiled or blacked.

Inspection – Natural Mane and Tail Horses may be presented to the Measuring Steward for inspection of tails before the Natural Mane and Tail class to avoid random testing after a class.

Mane - Natural Mane and Tail horses in the Three-Gaited, Five-Gaited and Fine Harness divisions are shown with a full natural mane. The forelock and poll may be trimmed.

Tail – Tails in all Natural Mane and Tail divisions must be natural, never having been cut or set in any way. Tails must be clean, long, healthy and picked.

Top Tails – Three-Gaited Natural Mane and Tail - Top tails may be used when a Three-Gaited Natural Mane and Tail horse is entered into a Park Horse class or into the Park Horse Grand Championship.

Top Tails – Top tails may be used on a Natural Mane and Tail horse when they are cross entered into any other performance class besides the Natural Mane and Tail classes or when they have entered the Grand Championship Stake class after qualifying in the Natural Mane and Tail division.

Random Tests, Tail - Any horse entered in this division must have a completely natural tail that has never been cut or set in any way. Random tests may be conducted in this division. Horses may be selected by the Show Committee, Judge and/or Ringmaster

(At Regional Shows the Committee consists of Sub Union Management) for inspection of any indication of a previously cut tail. Horses selected for examination will be informed in the line-up and it will be the responsibility of the exhibitor and/or accountable person to present the horse to the Steward immediately after the class before returning to the barn. In the case of more than one horse to be examined after the class the exhibitor and/or accountable person must stay with the horse and see that a cooling blanket is available for the horse if necessary until such time as the horse can be examined. If it is impossible for the exhibitor and/or accountable person to stay with the horse then he/she must obtain the permission of the designated Steward to appoint a caretaker to attend the horse.

If the Steward sees the marks that indicate the horse's tail has been previously cut a second Steward will be asked to examine the horse. If the second Steward confirms that there are marks indicating the horse's tail has been previously cut the case will be referred to the disciplinary committee and a penalty of R3000.00 will be charged to be paid within two weeks by the accountable person, the rosette and/or trophy will be returned immediately and any cash or 'product prizes' forfeited.
