

HONEYBEE'S

ADVENTURE TIME SUMMER CAMPS!!!

I created Honeybee's Adventure Time because I believe children need an outlet to reduce stress, build friendships and confidence, explore nature and be wild and free. Nature reduces stress levels by 75%, and being outside builds immunity (even when it's cold). My camp is meant to build resilient, confident, social children, who know how to exist in and along with their world. We practice kindness and respect for oneself, nature and others. My hope is to build a sense of community and tribe amongst the children and their families. I want children to feel loved, honored and accepted for who they are, and to find out exactly what they are capable of. Children are such magical and incredible beings and I feel so privileged to spend my time with them.
