

GALLIUM GROUP

Corporate Presentation

www.galliumholdings.com

Gallium is one of the leading partners for design, engineering and manufacturing of Tube Mill and other equipment from India and abroad for the Steel Industry.

Gallium was established in 1985 by Late Mr. A K Dutta (Ex Tata) with technical collaboration with Kusakabe Japan as its Principle technical partner & Technology transfer to India had been manufacturing Tube mill related equipment also for various American & European Tube mill Manufacturers under NDA as per their design & Technology transfer since 1992.

The company is now looking ahead to the next generation. Rajesh Meena, a Mechanical Engineer with experience in the Equipment Industry in General and Tube Industry in particular, is being identified as the 'Gen-Next' leader of Gallium. Coming from a background of Machine Building to Production of Pipes, Mr. Meena intends to bring in a strong Techno-economic perception to the equipment made and supplied in terms of the need of the buyer.

With Technical Collaborations of world renowned companies like Bronx Taylor Wilson, T&H Lemont, Voestalpine, Yoder, George Mitchel U.K., GUILD International USA etc. to manufacture the Equipment with the latest Technology available with them. Gallium is pioneer name in suppliers of Tube Mills, Tube Finishing Equipment including Cold Drawing Plants and other Coil Strip Processing Lines like HR/CR Slitting Lines and Roll Forming Lines along with tooling etc. and other customized solutions to Steel Industry.

Gallium has proven the reliability of its manufactured equipment by already supplying over 500 projects including more than 5000 equipment to nearly 70 countries covering the globe including developed countries like UK, USA, Germany, Australia, Austria, Greece, Turkey, Egypt, Poland, Japan, China, Brazil, Taiwan, Thailand, Malaysia, U.A.E and Iran etc.

According to Mr. Rajesh Meena, It is a mistake to propose technology to a customer that does not pay off for his range of applications and needs. It is important that the right set of technology, automation and tooling is provided so that the capital investment made by the buyer keeps them competitive. There should also be scope for upgrading the technology incrementally; the machines should 'plug and play. With these aims at its core, the company is looking to customise its equipment so that the return on investment of the investor/buyer is kept as a main focus.

Gallium wants to break free from the culture of selling equipment that is only high on production, fully automated and highly priced, and move towards equipment that is customised to produce what the specific customer requires as well as automation that suits the skill set of the buyer and with a price that suits their budget.
