In the large boat house at the Scopinich Boat Yard in East Quogue newly built ships and one nearly completed, left front, lay quietly, and seemingly almost eagerly, waiting for the doors of summer to open and put them out onto the wide, blue waters of Long Island. Seen in the foreground is a lone workman putting the finishing touches on one of the boats soon to hit the ways.

One of the sure signs of spring on Eastern Long Island is the launching of boats — and one of the most exciting signs is a new boat sliding down the ways. The picture above was taken at Hampton Shipyards on Saturday, April 20 at the launching of the 38' Sport Fisherman

"Caran" built for Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Viola of Garden City and Southampton. She was designed by Fred Scopinich Jr. and built at the shipyard owned by Mr. Scopinich and his brother, Mario. All those who gathered for the occasion had a thoroughly enjoyable day.

today's finest boats

The Columbia line is renowned for its durability, safety and dryness. Owners of early and late models enthusiastically attest to their boats' sturdy construction. The same cautious, painstaking techniques that were developed years ago, go into each new Columbia which leaves the shipyard. Plans and decor have kept pace with the modern tastes and needs. Designs have been modified
