Wonderful Christmas & Winter Containers

Celebrate the season by using fresh-cut boughs and trimmings from your own landscaping to dress up pots and hanging baskets for the winter.

During the cold months of December, January and February, when the days are bleak and gray, winter containers can add a colorful punch to the entrance of your home.

Many gardeners give up on their potted creations in the fall, but you can revitalize them with some imagination and branches pruned from your own landscaping or purchased at our garden center.

Assemble your planters in late fall before the soil is frozen in your pots or bring your pots inside to thaw.

Use a small cut Christmas tree stuck in your soil to hold it in place and decorate with lights, bows or other decorations. Or for another planter, use a mixture of evergreen or colorful branches and berries. Use the same formula in your winter pots as you use for summer pots....

Thriller – something taller in the middle for accent.

Filler – branches to fill in the space in the middle.

Spiller – branches that hang or "spill" over the edge.

You can buy cedar, pine, and fir branches or prune some taxus, yew, juniper, arborvitae, spruce or pine around your home. For added color use Gold Cypress, Blue Juniper, Variegated Euonymus, branches from red twig dogwood or white birch. Or use rose hips and berries from hawthorn or crabapple trees. Seed heads from ornamental grasses or perennials can also be used. Explore ideas on Pinterest (there are hundreds of ideas!) and then look at your yard and garden and see what you can find. Add seasonal decorations like lights, bows, artificial holly and berries, ornaments, or whatever suits your fancy.

You are limited only by your imagination and the varied plant materials available around your home to create your own beautiful winter garden containers.
