Phone Consultation Agreement

Limitations of Phone Consultations

Without limitation, this phone consultation cannot be exhaustive given the amount of time devoted to it. Therefore, all electromagnetic radiation (EMR) sources, explanations and nuances regarding EMR and measurements may not be discussed or explained in depth.

EMF Professional Solutions may offer opinions for meter recommendations, as well as basic information regarding meter usage and measurements of EMR. Lee Sagula and EMF Professional Solutions, LLC are not responsible or liable for incorrect use of the meters, meter inadequacies, meter sensitivity or calibration errors, or incorrect interpretations of the explanations offered during phone consultations or results of the measurements taken by the Client(s). Therefore, and due to any or all of these factors, all problem areas may not be identified by the Client(s) and hidden or developing problems may be missed.

Recommendations or advice given for shielding or any other information and suggestions related to reducing or eliminating EMR or any other toxin or pollutant are suggestions only. It is not possible to accurately give recommendations without being on-site and/or performing tests and measurements.

The information provided during phone consultations may change subject to new or updated information, guidelines, instrumentation, technology, products, knowledge or research. Measurements taken by you will apply only to conditions at the time of the measurement. Electromagnetic Radiation as well as sources of EMR and other toxin and pollution levels change or may be significantly higher or lower at different times other than the date and time of the measurement. Absolutely no warranties or guarantees are provided whatsoever. The client(s) by signing below hereby release Lee Sagula and EMF Professional Solutions, LLC, her employees or contractors and any and all persons involved in any way with this call or any future phone consultations, including but not limited to any products sold or recommended during this consultation, from any and all liability.
