

2026 Amy's Bookshelf Reviews Changes

Starting January 2, 2026 the following changes will be made, and some things will remain the same.

If I have an agreement with a publisher, that agreement still stands for the lifetime of Amy's Bookshelf Reviews.

Publishers, can provide their referral code to their new authors. If a publisher doesn't have one, but wants one, they can contact me for a referral code.

Direct Publisher, Publicists, Agent, etc, requests on behalf of the author will still have the Standard Review Tier, however an author can upgrade to another tier.

Author referrals. If an author is going to refer another author, they will need a referral code before the other author can make a request. New author requests now require selecting a Basic or Plus Tier. If the author wants a review, they must also book a spot on Amy's Bookshelf Reviews Podcast. Just fill out the booking form at <https://amysbookshelfreviews.com/podcast>

Amy's Bookshelf Reviews Podcast:

If you are a Legacy author, you have the option of being on the Amy's Bookshelf Reviews Podcast, just fill out the booking form at <https://amysbookshelfreviews.com/podcast>

If you are a guest on the podcast, please go to the Spotify link for the Amy's Bookshelf Reviews Podcast, and "follow." Even if you or your readers listen elsewhere, please have them follow on spotify. It doesn't require a paid membership, a free one will do as well.

If there are any questions about anything that I am changing, you can email me and ask. This will be in a blog post, and also posted on the Requests and Rules page, under changes for 2026.

I have a lot of books on my lists, and I am keeping to my word about my retirement number. However, the podcast could be something different. We'll see
