the release, sooner if possible. It's not part of a tier, but as a request for those who have an upcoming release.

If any of your information has changed since you last had a review, fill out the Author Information form, that can be downloaded below.

AUDIOBOOK REQUESTS AND WEBSITE POLICIES (Audiobooks are separate reviews from print reviews.) Reviews are based on content and narration, as well as quality.

- Starting October 1 2025, only review requests for audiobooks will be accepted from authors who have had their book published by ProAudioVoices. It is not a biased decision, but Amy's Bookshelf Reviews is no longer going to review audiobooks, unless from the company because of a standing agreement.
- UPDATE TO 2026: Audiobooks that are made by other companies, or using virtual voice will only be reviewed if the author is a Legacy Author, and there is a corresponding print book, that will also be reviewed.

Specific Audiobook Sites

- Audible To have your book reviewed here, I require a redemption code, or donation for the price of the audiobook. (Audible requires a purchase of the book, and the book must be listened to in its entirety). [plus $10]
 - ProAudioVoices: To have your book reviewed here, I require a redemption code, or donation, for the price of the audiobook. If the author wants a review posted also on Audible, or audiobook.com, I will need a code or a donation for the amount of the book [plus $10], because I will have to purchase and listen to the book again.
