Course Syllabus: When the Scale Defines the Student: Understanding Eating Disorders

Number of Credits: 1*

Course Instructors: Mark Busch & Becky Smith

Course Description:

Media has always had an impact on how citizens see themselves and interact with the world around them. Over the past several years however, with the additions of social media and streaming services, students are more immersed in media and its expectations than ever before. Poor body image, peer pressure, and marginalization are just a few of the many contributing factors in eating disorders among students. The concept of student voice has been raised more and more in the field of education. Today's teachers and administrators are seeing an increase in students with specific mental health needs and unhealthy coping behaviors, including "extremes, developing abnormal eating habits that threaten their well-being and even their lives." (American Psychological Association, 2017)

This course will cover the subject of eating disorders impacting students, and why educators should have a working knowledge of warning signs and intervention strategies. Participants will be guided through different eating disorders and causes, and be given ideas on how to support students in their school who may be coping with eating disorders.

Learning Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Identify the different types of eating disorders, as well as signs and symptoms
- Demonstrate an awareness of the role body image, media, and mental health plays in eating disorders
- Create a plan to encourage open conversations about issues related to body image, mental health and eating disorders in the classroom
- Develop strategies to support students who are coping with eating disorders

 Course Requirements:

To receive full credit for the course, participants must complete ALL assignments and respond to specific questions outlined in each assignment. Failure to complete all assignments will result in a disqualification in the course and a failing grade.

Other Course Information:

Getting Started

- After registering for the course, you will be sent an email with the website address, password and course key you need to access your online course, along with login instructions.
- Access each assignment through the course home page. All assignments will be submitted through the Moodle platform on each respective assignment page.
- Please save a backup copy of all course assignments and completed work.

Participation

- You are not required to be present (i.e. online) specific days or times. You will work at your own pace. The course is structured in 3 Weekly Units, however all assignments will not be due until the final day of the course.

- All responses will be posted online. Large documents, files, photographs or PowerPoint presentations may be attached as part of your response by using the “Submit A File” option.
- You may work collaboratively and submit similar responses on all assignments except for quizzes which must be done individually.

Research

The Oxford Handbook of Eating Disorders (Oxford Library of Psychology) 1st Edition

W. Stewart Agras (Editor)

Description: The Oxford Handbook of Eating Disorders reviews current research and clinical developments through synthetic chapters written by experts from various fields of study and clinical backgrounds. Epidemiologic studies suggest that eating disorders are not only common but have increased in prevalence in recent decades, and this handbook refines and updates the state of research. The book is divided into four sections: phenomenology and epidemiology of the eating disorders, approaches to understanding the disorders, assessment and comorbidities of the disorders, and prevention and treatment.

Grading Rubrics for Individual Activities

1 Introduction & 3 Discussions(40 points possible)

Discussion Forums are asynchronous ways to engage in class discussions. They require you to submit an answer to a question and respond to the posts of other peers. Because they are an integral part of sharing strategies, analyzing research, and sharing ideas, discussion forums in this course comprise a significant percentage of your final grade. It’s highly recommended that you read and respond to more than the required two peer postings because greater participation will facilitate a greater depth of understanding. Additionally, it’s important to make posts in a timely manner to benefit from peer responses.

Grading Rubric for Discussion Forums
		Points
Critical Thinking	Makes connections to the other content and real=life that are supported by reference(s) and example(s)	2
	Offers new ideas, connections, or applications	2

	Expresses and justifies personal opinion	2
Assignment Specific Criteria	Addresses all parts of the assignment, cites sources	2
Participation (Responses to at least 2 peer posts)	Responds to other posts (when available)	2
Total Points Possible		10

Final Assignment (25 points possible)

The final assignment is a critical part of this course. Participants must complete a two-page final assignment. The paper is meant to be a reflection as well as a chance to state what you will use going forward. The rubric below will be used to grade the final assignment, but additional details will be provided within the course.

Grading Rubric for Implementation Plan
		Points
Critical Thinking	Highlights any new knowledge gained as a result of course.	5
	Offers new ideas, connections, or applications	5
	Expresses and justifies personal opinion	3
	Discusses Overall Implications	2
Assignment Specific Criteria	Addresses all parts of the assignment, cites sources	2
Mechanics	Writing is clear, well developed, and organized, No or few grammar and spelling errors	2

Implementation	Clearly states ideas to use in the future	2
	States resources to be used	2
	Is realistic in their approach – understands limitations may exist	2
Total Points Possible		25
