LULL

Group Exhibition Curated by Willamain Somma

Gallery 495 is proud to present Lull, a group exhibition of artists exploring useful objects, inspired by abstraction that invite respite. Participating artists: Victoria Bartlett, Francesca DiMattio, Zhivago Duncan, Sylvia Estes, Neal Hollinger, Kiernan Kinsella, Alyssa McClenaghan, Tyrone Mitchell, Joan Oliver, Aurora Pellizzi, Brett Miller, Tschabalala Self, Kate Steciw, Katie Stout, Caroline Woolard.

The assembled collection of artworks — whether reflecting, illuminating or accommodating — engage with our sentient human container, inviting us to enact this simple act of resistance; to exist for our own pleasure. With these works, the artists assert this basic human right, offering an opportunity to lull, pause, rest and be bodily, present.

Who can afford to be indifferent in these times? Apathy is an asset. Complacency is capital. Pomposity is prosperity. Who decrees our worth? Restitution is riches. Self love is success. Fortune favors the foolish.
