

Ted & Liisa Rurup

AIM AIR

Ted and Liisa first went to Africa as an AIM AIR pilot family in 2001. They lived on top of a volcano on the shores of Lake Turkana in Northern Kenya. Ted flew a Cessna 206 in a medical air-evac intensive program, with about 30% of the flying being mission and church support. After 6 years there, they moved to Nairobi and started On Field Media, the storytelling department of Africa Inland Mission, producing videos, photography, and print media for AIM to help tell the story of what God is doing in Africa. Recently Ted was Producer and Director of Photography for AIM's new film, The Distant Boat. Ted and Liisa moved to White Bear Lake, Minnesota in 2013 with their four children and are looking forward to meeting with people interested in serving God through missions in Africa, and perhaps helping them along their journey.
