

Jim & Carol Dowsett

Wycliffe Bible Translators

Jim and Carol have been with Wycliffe Bible Translators for over 20 years. Most of their service has been with Wycliffe's partner organization, SIL International, at their main office in Dallas, TX. However, the Dowsetts lived in Nairobi, Kenya for three years in the late 90s serving in pan-Africa roles. Throughout her ministry career, Carol has had various communications responsibilities at regional and international levels, including serving for ten years as the SIL International Director of Corporate Communications. Jim began service with Wycliffe in software development and computer support/training for translators. Since 2007 he has been involved with sign language translations of the Bible with Wycliffe's partner, Deaf Opportunity OutReach, International (DOOR). He currently works remotely (with periodic onsite sessions) as the translation consultant with the South African Sign Language Chronological Bible Story Translation Project, based in Cape Town, South Africa. Jim and Carol live in Dallas and have three grown children, and a married Kenyan daughter-of-the-heart (and not yet any grand-children).
