Kevin and Katy met while working on their undergraduate degree at Liberty University in 2007. Katy was full of spirit and in love with anything having to do with the Space Program (NASA) Kevin enjoys tinkering with anything mechanical and also with computer systems, always making them more powerful, just for fun. In the summer of 2009 Katy enlisted with the US Army National Guard. On her day of graduation day from Basic Training Kevin proposed to Katy and they were married in December of 2009.

The Martins have completed their degrees and now both enjoy working for Liberty University's School of Aeronautics. Kevin is a Flight Instructor and oversees the fleet of aircraft simulators that the school uses. Katy finished Army Training as an Aviation Operations Specialist which is an aircraft dispatcher for the Army and this is also her position is in the School of Aeronautics.

The Martins are leaving their future up to God and feel very blessed to both have jobs at a wonderful Christ-centered organization.
