

San Diego Christian College

Director of Aviation: Captain Denny Breslin

Denny has been directing the aviation program at SDCC for 6 years following a distinguished 30-year career as a commercial pilot for American Airlines. Most recently, Denny was serving as an international Captain flying Boeing's state-of-the-art B-777 aircraft. Prior to working for American, Denny served 13 years as a US Navy pilot retiring as a Lieutenant Commander in 1983. Denny is a current aircraft owner whose passion is and has always been flying.

Captain Denny Breslin has been married to Jean Marie for over 34 years. Jean Marie is a flight attendant for American Airlines. The couple has two children, DJ (31) and Annie (28). Annie graduated from San Diego Christian College in 2012 with a degree in Communication.

San Diego Christian College is a Christian liberal arts college with an aviation program specializing in missionary aviation. In January 2014 SDCC moved to a brand new campus in Santee California, 7 miles from its former home on the campus of Shadow Mountain Community Church. SDCC flies out of Gillespie Field (KSEE in El Cajon, 1-mile from campus)

In Denny's words, "I believe my Heavenly Father gave me all those tens of thousands of flight hours in dozens of different, fascinating and exciting military and commercial airplanes for His purpose, and I pray that my decision to serve Him here will continue to develop the Aviation department at SDCC and glorify Him in the process." - Captain Denny Breslin
