Spokane Turbine Center

Bernice Ellis is Spokane Turbine Center's new Development Coordinator. Although new to the missionary aviation family, Bernice is not new to marketing, public relations and fundraising.

Bernice worked for Spokane Teachers Credit Union coordinating marketing promotions and public relations. Although she was promoted to full-time motherhood 18 years ago, Bernice continued to go back to the credit union periodically to train new members of their marketing team. She also served as her church's director of adult ministries for two years.

A significant life change left her asking the Lord what to do with the skill set He had given her. "How amazing that my Savior would allow me to serve front line missionaries in my hometown on historic Felts Field...and even threw in my love of aviation!" Although she is not a pilot, Bernice does have her motorcycle endorsement.

Bernice enjoyed nearly 21 years of marriage to her best friend John, who was called home by the Lord last year. They have 3 children; Jessica, Nathan, and Laura. "I am thrilled to be part of this amazing missionary family and the STC Team! I look forward to what God will do through me."
