Whereas,

Our activity, actions and consistency will prove our ability to uphold all aspects of our constitution and operate every standing EWF committee to its fullest capacity in order to protect the integrity of our Federation as an Inter-Governmental Organization.

May 22, 2022 NEW YORK – New York City Mayor Eric Adams signed Emergency Executive Order 98 (EEO 98), declaring a State of Emergency related to the shortage of supply in infant formula. The order will empower the New York City Department of Consumer and Worker Protection (DCWP) to prevent price gouging for formula under section 5-42 of Title 6 of the Rules of the City of New York. The effort comes as the United States grapples with a nationwide shortage of infant formula, stemming from a voluntary recall and temporary closure of a facility by Abbott Nutrition, one of the largest formula providers in the country.

Nationwide, over 40 percent of large retailers are out of stock of formula, including 43 percent of retailers in the tristate area, according to the most recent data estimates.
