School Board

Priority areas set to focus on for 2022-2023 school year

By Gloria Sutter

After a closed session, the Board approved having Superintendent Novy negotiate an amendment to the current Kobussen contract for the 2022-23 school year. This will include a 3% raise.

Two teacher leaves and an early retirement were also approved during that session.

This year's summer school was attended by 519 students giving an additional 43 FTE's for state aid.

Priority areas for the 2022-23 school year are to focus on assessments to meet or exceed student growth targets; to ensure a positive culture and environment to best serve all stakeholders; to build and support school staff through effective communication, relationships, and professional development; and to use district resources efficiently and to maximize opportunities to achieve district goals.

Ashley Drasch reported on the activities of Kid Connection, which is a parent driven elementary school organization. Time and money are donated for playground equipment, put-in cups on school signs, landscaping, and special supplementary funds for each grade level. This year outdoor classrooms are being added. Fund-raisers and special events include a textile drive throughout the year, a walk-a-thon, and trunk-or-treat.

The installation of a new phone system is almost complete. Online registration is proceeding smoothly. New lighting at the high school is complete, as is blacktop and concrete work throughout the district.

Congratulations Green County retailers

The Wisconsin Wins (WI Wins) program, a state-level initiative aimed to decrease youth access to tobacco products, and the Southwest Alliance for Tobacco Prevention (SWATP) would like to say CONGRATULATIONS to the many clerks and retailers of Green County for your great work on reducing tobacco access to minors. Recently youth volunteers have conducted tobacco compliance checks in hopes to see retailers are not selling tobacco to minors and are checking IDs. In 2022, out of the 26 compliance checks, there were only four sales to minors.

They are so proud of the work being done in Green County—THANK YOU for not selling tobacco to minors! If you are a retailer, and want to train your employees, please check out www.witobaccocheck.org for training and certification!

Underage tobacco use is linked to future substance abuse and behavior problems. Additionally, with the escalated use of flavored tobacco in cigarettes and vape products all communities need to be aware of the dangers of these addictive products. Many smell, taste, and look just like candy products and are less expensive than more 'traditional' tobacco like cigarettes. Tobacco remains the number one cause of preventable deaths in the US causing more than 16 million Americans to suffer from a disease caused by smoking.

As part of their activities, they will continue to educate clerks and retailers about the importance of keeping tobacco out of the hands of youth. For now, when you are out in your community and see a cashier check an ID, thank them for performing their job and keeping our children safe.

Grounded in research, this educational series teaches strategies, practical real-world skills and helps to reduce stress, both in the caregiver and the person for whom care is being provided. Savvy Caregiver increases the caregiver's sense of competence and well-being even though there may be little experience. The course will provide a base of dementia knowledge and cover a variety of related caregiving topics and information.

BHS Marching Band started practicing

The Brodhead High School marching band started practicing last week for their upcoming half-time performances.
The band rehearsed three to four hours a day last week. Band directors Jason and Beth Riesterer coordinated this event.

Brodhead-Juda Football 2022 Preview

By Casey Jones

Coach Jim Matthys has been with the Brodhead-Juda football team for 25 years. Fifteen of those years he has served as head coach. His record at head coach is a very respectable 104-51. The teams record last year was 7-0 in the conference, 11-1 overall and 2-1 in the playoffs.
Coach's assistant coaches for 2022 are Jeff Jubie, Erik Oliver, Bill Prochnow, Brandon Riese, Tim Cerjak, Reeve Lincoln, Trent Gerber and Wade Boegli.
Coach's goals for the team this year are to be competitive in the SWC and earn a playoff bid. A long run in the playoffs is also on his mind.
The team has ten returning starters from last year's playoff team offense. They are CJ Streuly (SR, OL), Aidyn Vondra (SR, RB), Leon Saunders (SR, RB), Austin Moe (SR, SR), Gunner Boegli (JR, WR), Emmitt Allen (JR, OL), Blake Matthys (JR, RB), Jaxon Dooley (JR, TE), Marcus McIntyre (JR, QB/RB) and Owen Hillstrom (JR, OL).

They also have 10 returning starters on the defensive side of the ball. They are Blake Matthys (JR, LB), Aidyn Vondra (JR, DB), Leon Sanders (JR, DB), Austin Moe (JR, DL), Sean Huffman (JR, OLB), Marcus McIntyre (JR, DB), Isaac Saunders (JR, DB), Joe Lohmar (JR, LB), CJ Streuly (SR, DL) and Emmitt Allen (JR, DL).
The Brodhead-Juda Cardinals will return a lot of starters on both sides of the ball. Seven All Conference players are returning from last season. The Cardinals will have the advantage of good speed at the skilled positions. Also returning to the team are several underclassmen that played a lot of varsity football last year.

Leadership will be one of the keys to success. The team needs to replace a lot of big playmakers from last year's conference championship team. Coach feels they have the players to step in that are waiting to be identified. Creating their own identity will be the focus this year.
The Cardinals will start the season with a very challenging schedule featuring Edgerton, Evansville and Richland Center. They need to find some early success if they want any momentum going into a very tough conference schedule. The top teams in this year's conference are expected to be Prairie du Chien, Lancaster, Richland Center and River Valley.
It should be a very entertaining season for the fans.

Brodhead Juda football began practice last week. They will open up with a non-conference home opener this Friday against Edgerton. (Free Press photo by Teresa Earleywine)

24-Year-Old “Junior,” Carries Jenna Hume to National High School Finals Breakaway Win

Jenna Hume brings the NHSRA Breakaway Roping World Championship back to Wisconsin thanks to her grandfather’s black calf rope and her father’s partially blind gelding.

BY CASEY ALLEN

Jenna Hume, 18, of Orfordville, Wisconsin, managed to fly under the radar most of the week in Gillette, Wyoming, but she showed up when it mattered—in the short round, to win the 2022 National High School Finals Rodeo Breakaway Roping World Title.

Hume tied for seventh in the first round of competition at the National High School Finals Rodeo, which took place on July 17-24.

In the second round, her solid

2.77-second run set her in the seventeenth position. Coming back into the short round in the No. 3 position, the quiet cowgirl watched as No. 7 callback Quincy Sullivan wowed the crowd with her 2.41, and she channeled her anxiety into positive energy.

“I’m always nervous,” Hume said. “Personally, I like being a little more nervous—I feel like I’m sharper that way, as long as I stay in control. I tried to remember to just rope like I normally do.”

Hume was dialed in but knew that her drawn calf required a plan.

“I think only one person caught him out of three or four runs,” Hume said. “I thought he zig-zagged a little bit, so I had to really get my horse behind the cow and line him out.”

The strategy paid off. A big swing and hard delivery left Hume with a sharp neck catch in 2.85 seconds. The crowd held their breath, then erupted as the announcer shared Hume’s move into the No. 1 position by one one-hundredth of a second.

From there, it was a whirlwind. “I was so in the zone, and then looked up, saw the time and heard the crowd—I don’t know, it was crazy,” Hume said.

After her position held through the next two athletes, Hume took her victory lap in a daze.

“I almost didn’t believe it,” Hume recalled. “I felt like someone was playing a joke on me. But it was awesome.”

The volume was dialed up from the grandstands, but there was one set of ears that was deaf to it—Hume’s 24-year-old gelding, Mr Numero Uno, known as “Junior.”

“He’s always ready to go,” Hume explained. “We have to put ear plugs in him to make sure he settles down a little bit. He does not like the music.”

Junior helped Hume win her first buckle at a young age and has been her trusty partner ever since.

“Junior, I’ve been roping on him since eighth grade,” Hume said. “He was my dad and uncle’s tie-down horse. He’s been an awesome horse. He runs out there every time and gives me the best shot he can. I couldn’t ask for better.”

Not only does his age make his performance impressive, Junior has another handicap.

“He’s actually blind in his right eye,” Hume said. “It’s his right eye, and it’s crazy because it doesn’t bother him at all. He’s not spooky or anything. I’m pretty sure he was born blind.”

Her father and uncle may have competed on Junior, but it was her grandfather who found the gelding. It was also her “Papa,” who started the calf-roping bug in the family many years ago. Hume started out in rodeo with barrel racing interest, but later realized that her passion was roping calves.

Hume and her Papa shared a special connection, and she still carries a piece of him with her in the arena. Spectators were baffled during the dark short round, because they couldn’t see if Hume’s rope went on the calf. This is because she uses a unique, black calf rope.

“Everyone hates that rope because nobody can see me rope with it,” Hume said. “My Papa passed away a year ago, and after he died I stole that black rope out of his rope can. I’ve used it ever since, I love it. Now I won the world with it, so that’s pretty cool.”

Hume recently purchased her WPRA permit in the Great Lakes Circuit, and has enjoyed learning the ProRodeo ropes. She will begin her collegiate rodeo career in the fall at Iowa Central Community College. Junior will be attending college as well to aid her in the breakaway, and she will bring along another horse to enter team roping and goat tying.

Hume is excited to start the next chapter of her rodeo career, but she smiled as she reflected on her past few years with the NHSRA.

“It’s really shaped who I am,” Hume said of her high school career. “Without rodeo, I don’t know what I’d be doing. It’s really helped me grow as a person.”

Now, one question remains: Will she be retiring the black rope after her big win?

“That’s the question everybody is asking me,” Hume said. “I will keep roping with it until it doesn’t feel good to rope with anymore.”

Green County Fair Receives Compeer Financial’s Fair Facility Upgrade Grant

Compeer Financial’s Fund for Rural America, the Farm Credit cooperative’s giving program, is supporting county fairs with grants to improve facilities and experiences offered to rural communities across the Upper Midwest. 64 fairs received County Fair Facility Upgrade Grants this year, totaling $244,500.

The Green County Agricultural Society and Mechanics Institute, also known as the Green County Fair, was awarded the grant in 2022, receiving $4,000 to upgrade the current lights to LED light fixtures in the fairground’s Exhibition Hall.

“Our aim with these grants is to positively impact the future of our rural communities,” said Karen Schieler, senior corporate giving specialist at Compeer Financial. “Fairs are the highlight of summer for many of these communities and we hope this will help provide the best possible experience for exhibitors and visitors as they enjoy this important tradition.”

Stephanie Huber, Green County Fair Sponsorship Chair, stated “[the LED lighting upgrade] makes a big difference. Individuals have already noticed the change and provided positive feedback”. Not only does the exhibition hall house a variety of exhibitors’ project entries during the week of the Green County Fair, it is also available for rent to host other community and private events throughout the year.

Since the program was established in 2018, Compeer’s Financial’s Fund for Rural America has awarded 304 County Fair Facility Upgrade Grants for a total impact of over $944,742, touching the lives of 8.7 million fair organizers, participants and attendees. The Fund intends to offer this grant again in March 2023.

SSM Health Monroe Hospital Celebrates Elite 5-Star Medicare Rating for Eighth Time

A new report published by Becker's Hospital Review has shared that SSM Health Monroe Hospital has again achieved Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) overall 5-Star Rating for the eighth time.

This honor puts SSM Health Monroe Hospital as part of elite group of healthcare providers. Only 429 hospitals nationwide received a 5-Star rating in 2022.

The CMS ranking system modeled the 5-Star Quality Rating System after the star rating system used by hotels, restaurants and other service industries where consumers choose higher star rating facilities to help ensure the best experience possible.

Categories included in this rating system are patient experience, safe, effectiveness of care, patient readmissions, efficient use of medical imaging, timeliness of care and mortality.

"This 5-Star Rating speaks to real life patient experiences that take place every day at SSM Health Monroe Hospital and the benefits that our hospital brings to our rural communities," shared Jane Curran-Meuli, President of SSM Health Monroe Hospital and Monroe Clinic Medical Group. "It is a testament of our Mission as we bring our best for our patients."

The five-star ratings went to four SSM Health Wisconsin hospitals: SSM Health St. Clare Hospital-Baraboo, SSM Health St. Mary's Hospital-Janesville, and SSM Health St. Mary's Hospital-Madison.
