School Board

Synopsis of District needs presented

By Gloria Sutter

The Board approved accepting a bid from Custofoam of $145,532 to replace the Elementary School roof. The construction is scheduled for the summer of 2023.

Kevin Hickman and Brian Winterle from NEXUS Systems presented a synopsis of the districts needs. Current and future needs were presented. A workshop meeting will take place on Wednesday, November 30 at 6 p.m., where options will be evaluated.

USI, a health insurance consulting firm presented information on ways the district can keep costs as low as possible. A survey of staff will involve options that are available to keep premiums as low as possible. They are very satisfied with Dean and Mercy as providers.

Donors Choose is an online provider where teachers can request donations for projects they have developed. The Board approved formalizing the process.

Citizen Matt Jones expressed concerns regarding safety on the school grounds. He had observed children with a hatchet and knife on the property and was concerned that the consequences of the episode were not harsh enough. He will be given a copy of the current safety plan and protocols.

Green County Master Gardeners Make Donation

The Green County Master Gardener's Association held a fundraising plant sale on Saturday, May 14, 2022. Each year, the Green County Master Gardeners try to do a fundraiser to raise money to benefit their scholarship program or for other community outreach. This year's outreach was to support the Green County Humane Society, in memory of actress Betty White who passed away in the spring.

Plants were grown and donated by Master Gardeners' throughout Green County for the sale and Master Gardeners were also on hand to answer questions. The main functions of the Master Gardeners group is to serve the needs of horticulturists in the Green County area, provide continuing education for its members, provide community services through volunteer activities, exchange gardening ideas, promote responsible and sound gardening practices and to provide a link between the community and University of Wisconsin-Division of Extension resources.

The Green County Master Gardeners Association was formed in 2004 to provide Master Gardeners with opportunities for professional development and community service. Over 135 people have been trained since that time. Members of the association volunteer in community service projects throughout Green County. To maintain the Extension Master Gardener Certification, participants are required to complete at least 24 hours of community service and participate in a minimum of 10 hours of educational development on a yearly basis.

The Green County Master Gardeners Association meets on the fourth Thursday of the month from February through October. Association officers for 2022 included Tamara Schulte, President; Sharon Adams, Vice President; Linda Boll, Secretary; and Lynn Lokken as Treasurer.

Anyone interested in horticulture and gardening is welcome to join the association. For more information on the Green County Master Gardeners program contact the Green County Extension office at 608-328-9440.

Mamma Mia Performed Over the Weekend

By Teresa Earleywine

Brodhead High School auditeria was the place to be this past Saturday and Sunday as the choral department presented the smash hit Mamma Mia! Directed and produced by Sara Jordan and Chris Hurt. Choreography for the dances was created by Niteal Pinnow and Brooke Scheidegger with student choreographers Madi Brown and Bryson Oliver. The songs are based on the song by ABBA with music and lyrics by Benny Anderson and Bjorn Ulvaeus.

The lead character, Sophie Sheridan was played by senior Lily Bump. She had previously performed when she was in middle school but this was her first high school production. She says taking on this lead role really pushed her out of her comfort zone.

Other seniors involved included Jackson Fields who played the role of Sky, the fiancée to Sophie. He has been a part of show choir for the past three years but this is his first musical. Jackson also is involved with Brodhead baseball playing first base. Noah Martinez has been involved with choirs and various theater companies since he was eight years old. His character was Bill, possibly Sophie's unknown father. He really brought his character to life. After high school, he plans to double major in biology and neuroscience. Abigail Santiago became Rosie for the performance. Rosie, in her earlier days is part of a female tri singing group known as the "Dynamos." In the end, she and Bill get together. Abigail is also involved in student council and yearbook. Bethany Woodward was Tanya, another member of the "Dynamos" and has lived the life of the rich and famous but has ended up divorced three times. Bethany has performed in several theater productions but thought this experience was one of the best she has ever had. Ciara Letcher was a member of the chorus and has loved the movie "Mamma Mia" and so glad to be part of this production. She will pursue a career in nursing post high school. Elena Martinez has been involved in music for many years but this is her first musical performance. She as a member of the chorus. She is an aspiring writer and hopes to grow in her artistic creativity. Skylar Gretebeck handled the duties of stage manager. This was her fourth musical production. She is involved with student council and spends a lot of her time helping at the elementary school. She too plans to pursue a career in nursing. Hugo Lopez had a fun character to play by the name of Pepper. This was his first ever musical production and was on his bucket list of things to do while living here in the USA as part of an exchange student. He is from Spain.

Additionally other main characters were played by several underclassmen. Josie Picard, became Donna—the third member of the "Dynamos" and single mother of Sophie. Madi Brown was cast as Ali and Kalena Riemer as Lisa, best friends of Sophie. Bryson Oliver and Nathan Engen had the characters of Harry and Sam respectively who were also possible fathers to Sophie.

The cast has been rehearsing since early September and many are involved with fall sports or other extra-curriculars. The entire cast brought lots of energy to the stage along with fun dance moves and great vocals that created an entertaining production for all who attended.

Winter Weather Awareness Month

Winter Weather Awareness Week in Wisconsin is November 14-18, 2022. Tanna McKeon, Green County Emergency Management Director reminds us to be prepared for the cold winter weather that will soon be here. Winter weather impacts so many different aspects of our lives—winter storms creating poor to dangerous driving conditions, power outages, ice storms, injuries from shoveling snow or falling on the ice and of course the cold, which can be extremely dangerous to humans and animals too.

In Wisconsin an average of about 41 people are killed each year and more than 3,950 injured in winter-related traffic crashes. Many crashes are caused by driving too fast for current conditions. Also, when the first blast of winter arrives, motorists often need to re-learn how to drive in slippery conditions.

Remember these winter driving tips;

•Be gentle with both the accelerator and brake and don't use cruise control in wintery conditions.

•Don't be overconfident in your four-wheel drive vehicle. Four-wheel drive vehicles can lose traction as quickly as two-wheel drive and you can't stop faster.

•Always wear your safety belt. You and your passengers absolutely need this protection even in low speed "fender-bender" crashes that frequently occur on slick roads.

•Leave plenty of room for snowplows. By law, you must stay back at least 200 feet from the rear of a snowplow.

•Obey Wisconsin's "move over" law, which requires drivers to shift lanes or slow down in order to provide a safety zone for a law enforcement vehicle, tow truck, ambulance, fire truck, highway maintenance vehicle or utility vehicle that is stopped on the side of a road with its warning lights flashing.

•Check and winterize your vehicles before the winter season begins. Make sure the car battery is in good shape—cold temperatures can reduce the effectiveness of a battery by 50 percent. Make sure your tires are suitable for winter driving conditions.

Keep a winter emergency kit in the back seat of your vehicle (in case your trunk jams or is frozen shut). This should include: blankets or sleeping bags. extra hats, socks and mittens, flashlight with extra batteries, first-aid kit, shovel, booster cables and windshield scraper, water and high-calorie nonperishable food such as raisins, candy bars, energy/protein bars, sand or cat litter to use for traction and a cell phone charger.

You should have much of the same things in your disaster supply kit that you keep in your home. Protect yourself and your family with these extra supplies:

- •Flashlights and extra batteries
- $\bullet \textsc{Battery-powered}$  NOAA Weather Radio and a commercial radio
- •Bottled water and non-perishable food that requires no cooking.
- •First-aid supplies
- •Fire extinguisher, smoke detector and carbon monoxide detector
- •If appropriate, extra medications and baby item
- •If you have an emergency heating source such as a fireplace or space heater, make sure you have proper ventilation

•Make sure pets have shelter and plenty of food and water and bring them inside when the temperature reaches 30 degrees with wind chill.

Parkview Prairie Partners Sow Milkweed Seed

The Parkview Prairie Partners distributed milkweed seeds from 500 milkweed pods at the Sunny Peace Prairie on Saturday, November 5. A light rain was falling and fierce winds swept the prairie providing ideal conditions for spreading milkweed seeds. The wind carried the seed far out into the prairie. The light rain settled the seeds in wherever they alighted. The seeds were distributed in less than one hour. Milkweed seed must go through a winter dormancy before germinating so the timing for this event was perfect.

The Sunny Peace Prairie, located at 2604 S. Coon Island Road in Orfordville, is a registered MonarchWatch.org waystation providing milkweeds, nectar sources, and habitat needed to sustain monarch butterflies. The prairie, open to the public during daylight hours, is owned and operated by the Parkview School District in Orford-ville. Trail maps are available at the parking area. For more information, visit the Parkview web site: www. parkview.kl2.wi.us, then select the MENU choice, then Community and finally the Sunny Peace Prairie choice.

Monroe Theatre Guild brings holiday comedy, Elf: the Musical to their Colony Brands Stage

Every year Monroe Theatre Guild strives to carry on their long-standing tradition of exceptional holiday performances. This year is no exception, as MTG presents the Christmas comedy classic, Elf: The Musical, as their final performance of the 2022 Colony Brands performance series. Directors, Katie Landmark and David Bristow, have worked with dozens of volunteers to make their vision come to life. Monroe High School choral director and talented vocalist, Alex Lentz, plays the role of Buddy the Elf, in his first appearance with MTG. In this cast of nearly forty, you will see familiar faces from past productions joined by enthusiastic first timers, as young and old come together in this family-oriented musical production.

Based on the cherished 2003 New Line Cinema hit, Elf features songs by Tony Award nominees Matthew Sklar (The Wedding Singer) and Chad Beguelin (Disney's Aladdin on Broadway), with a book by Tony Award winners, Thomas Meehan (Annie, The Producers, Hairspray) and Bob Martin (The Drowsy Chaperone). Buddy, a young orphan, mistakenly crawls into Santa's bag of gifts and is transported to the North Pole. The would-be elf is raised, unaware that he is actually a human until his enormous size and poor toy-making abilities cause him to face the truth. With Santa's permission, Buddy embarks on a journey to New York City to find his birth father and discover his true identity. Faced with the harsh realities that his father is on the naughty list and his half-sister doesn't even believe in Santa, Buddy is determined to win over his new family and help New York remember the true meaning of Christmas. This modern-day holiday classic is sure to make everyone embrace their inner Elf. After all, the best way to spread Christmas Cheer is singing loud for all to hear.

The show will have nine performances on the Colony Brands Stage: Friday, December 2nd at 7 p.m., Saturday, December 3rd at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m., Sunday, December 4th at 2 p.m., Thursday, December 8th at 7 p.m., Friday, December 9th at 7 p.m., Saturday, December 10th at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m., closing the show Sunday, December 11th at 2 p.m. Tickets are available on MTG's website: monroetheatre.com. If you would like to purchase your ticket in person, tickets can also be purchased exclusively at the MTG Ticket Window Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10 a.m.-1 p.m., and Wednesdays from 3-6 p.m. at 910 16th Avenue, Monroe, or by calling 608-325-1111.

The Senior Project That Is Opening Many Doors

Permission to reprint this article which appeared in the October/November 2022 issue of Midwest Flyer Magazine: https://midwestflyer.com/

Hannah Shickles, 18, of Brodhead, first got involved with the Kelch Aviation Museum, located at the Brodhead Airport (C37), through a project at her high school. At Brodhead High, to graduate, students are required to do what they call a "senior project," which entails 20 hours of community service of the student's choosing, writing journals of their work, and a 15-minute presentation about their project.

Originally, Hannah planned to volunteer at the retirement center in town. "Fortunately, those plans fell through when the pandemic hit," said Hannah. "The Kelch Aviation Museum reached out to the high school for volunteers, and although I had never been there, I thought it would be better than picking up trash on the side of the road. To my surprise, I was the only student who answered the email."

the airport by some of the local pilots. The following day she started logging volunteer time, cleaning oil pans and polishing airplanes. "I didn't mind... I really liked being around the vintage aircraft."

That same day the executive director of the museum, Patrick Weeden, asked Hannah if she wanted to go for a ride in the museum's 1932 Curtiss Wright 12W Travel Air biplane.

"What an opportunity! The chance that the pilot who is on the museum's insurance policy was in Brodhead (he lives across the country), and this beautiful vintage biplane is recently annualed and ready to fly. The evening was beautiful, and I just happened to be there! It was as if the stars aligned.

"But to everyone's shock, I said 'no.' But Pat, the pilot, and other pilots would not take no for an answer, Hannah was invited to the museum in September 2020. "That day will be one I will never forget. The huge 60 ft. hangar door was open, displaying nearly a dozen one-ofa-kind vintage aircraft. The scene looked like a dream. It was sunset, and the sun cast a beautiful orange glow across the wings of the aircraft."

Hannah was then given a tour of

and I am so glad they didn't. The second I sat in that biplane, something clicked inside me, and I knew then what I know now... aviation would forever be a part of my life."

Hannah continued: "This brings me to present-day me. My savings are for my education, but last summer I worked hard at the museum and made enough money to take one lesson a week, make my tuition payment for college, and pay for gas in my car. I had a surplus of $4 a week. I swear, this is a true story! I did the math."

"This is how I knew I was serious about becoming a pilot. When I saw my paycheck and thought about how many lessons it would get me, I knew then I had caught the aviation bug!"

Today, Hannah is the curator, events coordinator, and archivist at the museum. She also just obtained her private pilot certificate.

Hannah soloed in a 1945 Aeronca Champion 7AC. For her cross countries, hood time, and check-ride, she flew a 1970 Cessna 150K. Hannah's flight instructor was Elroy Hilbert at Cottonwood Airport (1C8) in Rockford, Illinois.

"Had someone told me that at age 18, I was going to solo in multiple airplanes, and get my pilot's license, I would have said you're crazy!"

"It's amazing how life can change in an instant. I have been so blessed by the aviation world. I've met incredible people and seen remarkable things. Thank goodness for my senior project!"

Hannah is currently a student at University of Wisconsin-Whitewater, working on her Associate Degree. "I am not currently planning on becoming a professional pilot, but that could always change." Regardless, Hannah's pilot certificate is sure to open doors in the future. Hannah is the daughter of Angela Olson of Brodhead.

The Kelch Aviation Museum is open Wednesday through Sunday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is free! Larger groups requesting a guided tour should call for an appointment: 608-897-1175.

Based around the stunning vintage aircraft that museum's namesake, Alfred Kelch, collected, the Kelch Aviation Museum brings the story of the Golden Age of Aviation to life.

The aviation legacy of the years between the World Wars changed the course of history, and the Kelch Aviation Museum keeps that legacy alive through education, preservation, and good old barnstormerstyle pizazz.

The collection includes 19 vintage aircraft, three vintage automobiles, 10,000 aviation books, 12 original aircraft engines, cabinets of photo collections, and dozens of models, works of art, and one-of-akind treasures!

Whether you are a "Snoopy-andthe-Red-Baron" fan, or a researcher sleuthing out original aircraft blueprints, the Kelch Aviation Museum has something to fascinate everyone!

Flu season may impact Red Cross blood supply

Healthy donors needed to give now

The American Red Cross urges blood and platelet donors to give now and help fight the potential impact of seasonal illnesses and a potentially severe flu season on the blood supply.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention predicts a serious spread of flu this year and is already reporting an early spike in cases in several states. When seasonal illnesses increase, the number of healthy donors tends to decrease, leaving the Red Cross blood supply vulnerable to a potential shortage over the holidays.

Paired with busy holiday schedules, seasonal illnesses may make it harder to collect the blood hospital patients require this winter. Donors—especially those with type O blood and those giving platelets—can help bolster the blood supply now by making an appointment to give in the coming weeks.

There is no waiting period to donate blood or platelets after receiving a flu shot. Schedule an appointment by using the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). Learn more about flu safety and prevention at redcross.org/flusafety. As a thank-you, the Red Cross is offering several opportunities to donors this month:

•All who come to give November 1-22 will receive a $10 e-gift card to a merchant of choice. Details are available at rcblood.org/perks.

•Those who come to give over the Thanksgiving holiday, November 23-27, will get a Red Cross knit beanie, while supplies last.

•All who come out to help November 28-December 15 will receive a $10 Amazon.com Gift Card by email, thanks to Amazon. Details are available at rcblood.org/together.

Wisconsin author Jerry Apps shares 'Food and Memories' in new PBS Wisconsin special, November 28

Beloved Wisconsin author and historian Jerry Apps and his daughter, author and educator Susan Apps-Bodilly, will explore the ways food shapes families and carries on legacies in an all-new television special, Jerry Apps Food and Memories, premiering 7 p.m. Monday, November 28 on PBS Wisconsin. The program will also be available for on-demand streaming at pbswisconsin.org and in the free PBS Video App on all streaming platforms, digital devices and Smart TVs.

Born and raised on a dairy farm in Waushara County during the Great Depression, Apps has extensively written and spoken about his childhood and agricultural history. Both as a longtime professor at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and in partnership with the Wisconsin Historical Society, his writing continues to document a unique era of local history.

In Jerry Apps Food and Memories, Apps and Apps-Bodilly share family stories through food his mother, Eleanor, painstakingly prepared for the family. A companion to the Apps' Wisconsin Historical Society Press book "Old Farm Country Cookbook: Recipes, Menus, and Memories," the television special lovingly depicts both the challenges and nostalgia of farm life during the 1930s and 40s, and how those traditions live on.

Apps says, "For me food will always be associated with times of good eating, storytelling, laughter and good-hearted fun." For decades, his mother cooked on a wood-burning stove in a kitchen with no plumbing or electricity. Yet, despite the challenges of the past, Apps reminds us of a quieter period in which a simpler life seemed more satisfying.

In a time when we are losing touch with this era, Apps reflects on his legacy as an author and speaker. "If there's one thing I'd like everybody to leave with it is, number one: The history of agriculture is important. The history of farm life is important. The history of small rural villages is important."

Brodhead Habitat Home Available

Habitat for Humanity of Green County (HHGC) is accepting applications for a family to participate in the rehabilitation of a home at 1202 East 6th Avenue, in Brodhead. In return, the family will receive a considerable discount on the home's purchase price and assistance in transitioning to home ownership.

The existing 1,700-square foot home was built by HHGC in 2014. Habitat's mission is to give families a boost into home ownership. To qualify for a Habitat home, the family's current housing situation must be physically inadequate, unsafe, overcrowded, or a cost burden.

A family (one or more individuals) must meet financial and personal guidelines. The guidelines call for a family who would not otherwise qualify for a conventional mortgage and which falls below 50 per cent of the area median family income, as outlined by a chart on the agency's website.

Ability to Pay the Mortgage—The family must have the financial means to make monthly, interest-free mortgage payments and pay the other expenses of owning and maintaining a home. Eligibility is determined by income verification, credit reports, assessment of household debt, projected utility costs, special assessments and other costs directly associated with the ownership of a home. The down payment and closing costs can be covered by a grant, a benefit of a Habitat home purchase.

Willingness to Partner—After being selected, the family becomes a partner in the Habitat program and assists in the rehabilitation of their own home. Each adult family member is required to put in a total of 150 "sweat equity" hours. Applicants must show evidence of their potential to keep a house clean and in good repair and should express willingness to participate in the personal development programs which may include budget counseling, case management and home maintenance.

Ties to the Community—Applicants must be permanent residents of the United States and must have lived or worked in Green County for one year immediately prior to applying. Other ties to the community will be considered.

If you believe you are eligible—or know someone who is—potential owners can learn more and complete an application on the Habitat website at greencounty-habitat.org, Applications are also available at the Habitat Resale Store at 305 2nd Street in Monroe during business hours. The selection process includes a home visit, income verification, a credit check, an assessment of existing debt as well as sex offender and criminal background checks on all adult family members.

Potential applicants—or anyone with questions about this project—can contact Habitat for Humanity of Green County via email at admin@greencountyhabitat.org or by calling 608-329-4024 and leaving a message.
