Atlantic Magazine's Packer: Biden's Betrayal 'Will Live in Infamy'

BROWNIE SCOUT PAL JOEY

By Eric Mack

With the impending fall of Afghanistan to the Taliban after 20 years of the longest continuously running war in American history,

President Joe Biden has betrayed the Afghan people, according to The Atlantic's George Packer.

"Perhaps the effort to rebuild the country was doomed from the start," Packer wrote in a Sunday opinion column. "But our abandonment of the Afghans who helped us, counted on us, staked their lives on us, is a final, gratuitous shame that we could have avoided. The Biden administration failed to heed the warnings on Afghanistan, failed to act with urgency — and its failure has left tens of thousands of Afghans to a terrible fate.

"This betrayal will live in infamy. The burden of shame falls on President Joe Biden."

Packer blasted the Biden administration's excuses for the failure so many predicted in executing a troop withdrawal from the war-torn country, leaving the vacuum for the Taliban to assume control.

"All of this was foreseeable — all of it was foreseen," Packer wrote. "For months, members of Congress and advocates in refugee, veteran, and human-rights organizations have been urging the Biden administration to evacuate America's Afghan allies on an emergency basis.

"For months, dire warnings have appeared in the press. The administration's answers were never adequate:

- 'We're waiting for Congress to streamline the application process.'
- 'Half the interpreters we've given visas don't want to leave.'
- 'We don't want to panic the Afghan people and cause the government in Kabul to collapse.'
- 'Evacuation to a U.S. territory like Guam could lead to legal problems, so we're looking for third-country hosts in the region.'

- 'Most of the interpreters are in Kabul, and Kabul won't fall for at least six months.'

"Some of these answers might have been sincere – all of them were irrelevant, self-deceiving, or flat-out false," Packer added.

Afghanistan's Taliban entered the capital Kabul on Sunday and Western-backed President Ashraf Ghani left the country, with the insurgents saying they were seeking complete power.

Two officials from the militant Islamist group told Reuters there would be no transitional government following their lightning sweep across Afghanistan that led back to the capital two decades after the Taliban was overthrown by U.S.-led forces.

Rep. Steve Scalise, R-La., on Sunday called the frantic evacuation of the U.S. Embassy in Kabul, Afghanistan President Joe Biden's "Saigon moment."

In an interview on CBS News' "Face The Nation," Scalise called the devastating finale to a lightning fast Taliban sweep of the country "very predictable."

Taliban insurgents entered Afghanistan's capital Kabul early on Sunday, as the United States evacuated diplomats from its embassy by helicopter.

"You just had President Biden a few days ago saying you wouldn't see helicopters evacuating the embassy like Saigon," Scalise said. "And yet here we are. This is President Biden's Saigon moment. And unfortunately, it was very predictable."

"It seems like many in President Biden's intelligence community got this devastatingly wrong," Scalise said. "And I think a lot of questions will be asked later about why."

According to Scalise, Biden has to stop blaming the Trump administration and "take ownership" of the unrestricted Taliban takeover.

"The buck stops here on the president's desk, and he wants to blame everybody else," Scalise charged. "But look, [former] President [Donald] Trump had an agreement in place that was conditions based and those conditions were not met. In fact, many of the conditions included that the Taliban wouldn't overtake the cities that they have now overtaken under President Biden's leadership.

"President Biden didn't follow through on the conditions that were in place," he continued. "He just let them come and run roughshod in there."

According to Scalise, America's withdrawal approach will have repercussions around the world.

“This sends in a more concerning message to our allies around the world — really sends a concerning message to our enemies around the world who are watching this,” he warned.

“China is very involved in what's happening right now in Afghanistan as our other adversaries,” he explained. “And so they're seeing just how easy it was to overtake these areas.”

“It’s an epic failure on President Biden's foreign policy,” Scalise declared. “He needs to take ownership of it and take other steps to make sure this doesn't happen again.”

Charlie Spiering President Joe Biden will remain hidden at his presidential retreat at Camp David through Monday, according to the White House, as the Taliban swiftly seized control of Afghanistan.

The president's daily guidance for Monday indicated Biden would remain at Camp David for at least one more day, with no public events scheduled.

But a senior administration official indicated to reporters Sunday evening that Biden might address the country "in the next few days," according to reports.

It remains unclear whether Biden will speak from Camp David or return to the White House to deliver his speech, the reports noted. He was previously scheduled to remain at Camp David until Wednesday.

Biden has not spoken publicly on Afghanistan since Tuesday after expressing optimism that the leaders of the Afghan government would rally to defend their country.

"I think they're beginning to realize they've got to come together politically at the top," he said, referring to the leaders of Afghanistan.

Biden told reporters Tuesday he did not regret his decisions on Afghanistan, leaving the following day for the rest of his August vacation in Delaware before he shifted his vacation to Camp David on Friday. From Camp David, Biden has monitored the crisis as the White House released photographs of the president speaking to aides remotely on social media.

On Saturday, the White House released a 600-word statement from Biden defending his decision to leave Afghanistan and blaming former President Donald Trump for empowering the Taliban. On Sunday, the White House sent Secretary of State Tony Blinken to speak about the crisis on the Sunday cable and network news shows. But Biden has remained off-camera as images and footage of the Taliban entering Kabul flooded onto various forms of media.

Fox News sent questions to Psaki's White House email address Sunday morning and received an auto-reply. Hours later, on Sunday evening, Fox News attempted once again to reach the White House spokeswoman. The same auto-reply, stating that the voice of the White House would not be available for the next week, was sent.

"I will be out of the office from August 15th-August 22nd," read the email returned to Fox News. Instead, Psaki's reply directs the press to reach out to other press officers in her absence.

INFLUENTIAL TV PROGRESSIVE BIDEN FRIENDLY PROTECTION PROGRAM GUY IN FAKE MEDIA ‘How Did President Biden Get
This So Wrong?’: Jake Tapper Presses
Antony Blinken On Afghanistan Exit

▪ Virginia Kruta

Jake Tapper minced no words Sunday when he challenged Secretary of State Antony Blinken on the Biden administration's rapid exit from Afghanistan.

“How did President Biden get this so wrong?” Tapper asked, pointing to a press conference six weeks earlier in which President Joe Biden had said a Taliban takeover of Afghanistan was not “inevitable.” (RELATED: FLASHBACK: Biden Predicts Taliban Takeover In Afghanistan Is ‘Not Inevitable’)

“This is not just about the overall idea of leaving Afghanistan but hastily and ineptly. How did President Biden get this so wrong?” Tapper asked after introducing Blinken.

“Jake, first let's put this in context,” Blinken pushed back, saying that the U.S. had long ago completed the initial objective of taking out Osama bin Laden. “We vastly diminished the threat posed by Al Qaeda in Afghanistan to the U.S., to the point where it is not capable of conducting such an attack again from Afghanistan.”

“Again, the issue here is not just the withdrawal of U.S. forces. It's how they were withdrawn,” Tapper continued, noting that former President Barack Obama's ambassador to Afghanistan, Ryan Crocker, had called the Biden administration's abrupt exit “a handover to the Taliban” and said it left him with “grave questions” about Biden's ability to lead. “Does President Biden not bear the blame for this disastrous exit from Afghanistan?” Tapper asked.

Blinken did not directly answer the question. He said that the U.S. and others had worked to prepare the Afghan security forces to defend themselves. “And the fact is we've seen that force has been unable to defend the country. That has happened more quickly than we anticipated,” Blinken added. Tapper continued to press, redirecting Blinken once more to the premise of his question, which was “how poorly this was done.”

“The idea that President Biden ordered 2500 service members out and now is sending up to 5,000 service members back in, does that not on its face show the exit was ineptly planned?” Tapper asked, noting that Biden had said just a month ago that it was “highly unlikely” that the Taliban would take over: “He was wrong.”

Blinken again pivoted back to the idea that having troops in Afghanistan indefinitely was an unsustainable solution. “It is simply not in the national interest,” he added.

“You keep changing the subject to whether we should be there forever. I’m talking about whether or not this exit was done properly,” Tapper insisted. “Taking out all the service members before those Americans and those Afghan translators could get out. That is what I’m talking about. Then you have to send people back in. That is the definition of oh, we shouldn’t have taken those troops out because now we have to send twice as many back in.”

“I think it shows we were prepared,” Blinken objected. “We had the forces on hand. And they were able to deploy very quickly again to make sure we could move out safely and securely as the situation on the ground changed.”

Tapper went on to ask Blinken whether he was prepared to guarantee that all remaining Americans in Afghanistan would be able to get out safely — and Blinken did not appear to have an answer. “That is job number one. That is our number one mission,” Blinken replied.

Dear Richard Glick,

I wanted to take this time to personally reach out and thank you for your support. YOU are making a HUGE difference in our efforts - THANK YOU!

Despite the unprecedented hardships facing our Nation these past few months, our movement is only getting STRONGER. In fact, we just raised a RECORD BREAKING $266 MILLION last quarter - a HUGE achievement, and it's all thanks to YOU.

Because you are one of my BEST supporters, I wanted to do something extra special to show you just how much I appreciate you during this time. Inside is a beautiful gift just for you.

Supporting our movement with contributions is one of the MOST IMPORTANT things you can do heading into November. American Patriots like you are making a real difference in our Nation, and together, we will MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN!

Thank you and enjoy your gift!

The new American way of life...Get on board~~~

For a guy and his girlfriend with two kids, all you have to do is follow these proven steps:

1. Don't marry her!
2. Always use your mom's address to get your mail.
3. The guy buys a house.
4. The guy rents out house to his girlfriend with his two kids.
5. Section 8 will pay $900 a month for a 3 bedroom home.
6. Girlfriend signs up for Obamacare, so guy doesn't have to pay for family insurance.
7. Girlfriend gets to go to college for free being a single mother.

8. Girlfriend gets $600 a month for food stamps.

9. Girlfriend gets a free cell phone.

10. Girlfriend get free utilities.

11. Guy moves into home, but continues to use mom's address for his mail.

12. Girlfriend claims one kid and guy claims the other kid on their tax forms. Now both get to claim head of household at $1800 credit.

13. Girlfriend gets $1,800 a month disability for being "crazy" or having a "bad back" and never has to work again.

This plan is perfectly legal and is being executed now by millions of people.

A married couple with a stay-at-home mom yields $0 dollars.

An unmarried couple with stay-at-home mom nets $21,600 disability + $10,800 free housing + $6,000 free Obamacare + $6,000 free food + $4,800 free utilities + $6,000 Pell grant money to spend + $12,000 a year in college tuition free from Pell grant + $8,800 tax benefit for being a single mother = $75,000 a year in benefits!

Any idea why the country is $18 trillion plus in debt and half the population is sitting around letting the other half pay their way?

Maybe this is a good reason to clean house in Washington in 2016!

AOC, 'Squad'-Backed Group Hails Convicted Cop Killers

A group backed by Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, D-N.Y., and her fellow "squad" members is touting "Black August" and calling for support of convicted cop killers. The Movement for Black Lives, which included liberal activist groups such as Black Lives Matter, reportedly sent a text message to followers that read, according to Fox News: "Black August is when we commemorate the lives of our fallen freedom fighters and political prisoners, prisoners of war, and exiles. We honor their sacrifice." The message added a call for signing petitions for clemency for Mutulu Shakur and Sundiata Acoli, according to the report. Shakur was the mastermind of armed robberies in Connecticut and New York, including the 1981 Brinks robbery that left an armed guard and two police officers dead. Acoli was convicted of a 1973 traffic stop murder of New Jersey State Trooper Werner Foerster. The Movement for Black Lives has also called for support for Assata Shakur, also known as JoAnne Chesimard, a woman also involved in Foerster's murder who escaped from prison and was granted asylum in Cuba by Fidel Castro. Ocasio-Cortez and fellow Democratic Reps. Rashida Tlaib of Michigan and Ilhan Omar of Minnesota has each posted support for the Movement for Black Lives on social media, Fox News reported. Ocasio-Cortez posted her support of the group on Facebook in July 2020, at the height of the protests regarding the murder of George Floyd by Minneapolis Police Officer Derek Chauvin: "The fight to # Defund The Police won't only happen in the streets. It's also going to take place in city halls. The Working Families Party and the Electoral Justice Project of the Movement for Black Lives are coming together to launch the WFP Justice Fund — a new national PAC to advance the movement to defund the police and invest in Black and brown communities. "They will back elected leaders and candidates who will work for a new vision of public safety, and who will refuse to take money from police unions." After her reelection campaign, Tlaib thanked the Movement for Black Lives for its support, tweeting: "Thank organizers. Celebrate organizers. Breathe. Take action. Thank you, @Mvmnt4BlkLives. I'm committed to fighting alongside you. #TheWorkIsNotDone" Omar also praised the fundraising efforts amid social injustice protests during her reelection campaign, on the same day AOC had last July: "From the streets to the halls of power, we must organize and mobilize. Thank you to @WorkingFamilies & @Mvmnt4BlkLives for supporting local candidates who want to reimagine public safety!" The

VOTE FOR DEMOCRAT ROTTEN MEAT, ROT FROM WITHIN NEW YORK (1) AFTER ANOTHER?

Andrew Cuomo Is 7th Powerful New York Democrat Ousted in Disgrace Since 2006

In just 15 years, no fewer than seven powerful New York Democrats have been forced to resign in disgrace. That includes New York's last three governors — three in a row!

On top of the governors, there was also an attorney general, a state assembly speaker, a state comptroller, and let's not forget a convicted sex criminal named Weiner.

1. Disgraced Former Governor Eliot Spitzer (D-NY)

Gov. Eliot Spitzer resigned in 2008 under the weight of a mind-boggling scandal involving his use of prostitutes. Spitzer served as governor for only about 15 months. Spitzer succeeded Gov. George Pataki, a Republican who served three full terms and chose not to run for a fourth.

1. Disgraced Former Gov. David Paterson (D-NY)

Lt. Gov. Paterson succeeded disgraced former Gov. Spitzer as governor in 2008, and in 2010 announced his intent to run to complete his full term. A myriad of scandals forced him to withdraw. No less than the far-left New York Times said it uncovered credible allegations Paterson tampered with witnesses in a domestic abuse case. Paterson also abused his office to obtain free New York Yankees tickets. Eventually, the Commission on Public Integrity said Paterson lied about accepting free World Series tickets and fined him $62,125.

Disgraced Soon-To-Be Former Gov. Andrew Cuomo (D-NY)

Cuomo succeeded Paterson, and now Cuomo's resigned in disgrace over multiple credible sexual harassment claims. His legacy will also include 1) pouring coronavirus infection into vulnerable nursing homes, which likely killed thousands of seniors, 2) wasting valuable resources to arrange for VIP China Flu testing for his friends and family (including brother Chris), and 3) being stupid enough to use Fredo as his consigliere.

Disgraced Former Congressman Anthony Weiner (D-NY)

After Breitbart News reported on the married Weiner (to a top Hillary Clinton aide, no less) sexting and then lying about in May of 2011, he was eventually forced to resign from Congress a couple of weeks later. Two years later, Weiner seemed well on his way to a comeback in his run for mayor of New York, but this was scuttled after it was discovered he was not only still sexting, he was sexting with underage girls. As a result, he served 21 months in prison and is now a registered sex offender.

1. Disgraced Former State Assembly Speaker Sheldon Silver (D-NY)

In 2015, Silver was forced to resign over credible allegations of kickbacks and bribes. In 2018, he was sentenced to seven years in prison but earned an early release a couple of months ago due to the China Flu pandemic.

Disgraced Former State Attorney General Eric Schneiderman (D-NY)

In 2018, Schneiderman, who struck a public pose as a strident male feminist and anti-Trumper, was forced to resign after four women credibly accused him of physical abuse.

1. Disgraced Former State Comptroller Alan Hevesi (D-NY)

After resigning as state comptroller in 2006, Hevesi pleaded guilty to defrauding the government, a felony that came with a $5,000 fine and being barred from ever again holding public office. Five years later, Hevesi served 20 months of a four-year sentence for accepting a million dollars in bribes from a state pension-fund investor. —

HARDEST LEFT LIBERAL NYT's Maureen Dowd rips Obama 'orgy,' enraging ex-prez's Twitter admirers

The former president's celebrity-packed birthday bash was more about 'Hollywood whoring' than thanking those who worked for him, the columnist wrote

By Brie Stimson

The Fox News contributor calls out the media for voicing COVID concerns regarding the Sturgis Motorcycle Rally in South Dakota while downplaying Obama's massive birthday party. New York Times columnist Maureen Dowd's comparisons of former President Barack Obama to "The Great Gatsby" and Marie Antoinette were apparently too extreme for many liberal fans of the ex-commander-in-chief on Twitter this weekend. Many social mediaites suggested Dowd was being a "Karen" for penning the critical piece, while others accused her of being "jealous" that she wasn't invited to Obama's celebrity-packed Martha's Vineyard birthday party last weekend. And there was more than a little Trump "whataboutism" in the fast-flying tweets. Dowd, a Pulitzer Prize winner, criticized the 44th president for his 60th birthday bash, which oozed ostentatiousness and seemed to favor A-listers over the less famous friends who were once the wind beneath his wings when he was just a junior U.S. senator from Illinois. "The party crystallized the caricature of the Democratic Party that Joe Biden had to fight against in order to get elected," Dowd pointed out in her piece, titled "Behold Barack Antoinette," published Saturday.

Martha's Vineyard Sees COVID Spike After Obama Bash

By Sandy Fitzgerald

Martha's Vineyard is experiencing a COVID-19 spike with 74 people testing positive for the virus after hundreds of people converged on the wealthy enclave to dance and party — maskless — at last Saturday's bash celebrating President Barack Obama's 60th birthday. Last Saturday, hundreds of guests flew in from around the country to party under tents on his estate in Edgartown, but in the nights before the celebration itself, Obama also met with friends Thursday at the Barn Bowl & Bistro and then Friday at the Winnetu Oceanside Resort. The party continued Sunday when Obama enjoyed a brunch at the Beach Road restaurant under a marquee that was built for him by the water in Vineyard Haven.

Even before the week celebrations, though, Martha's Vineyard was already having a surge of cases, with 48 people falling ill in the week before the party. Of those people, about half had gotten their vaccinations, said health officials. Obama had been preparing to welcome 500 people to his home for the party but announced the event was being scaled back while the COVID-19 virus, spurred by the delta variant, continued to grow nationwide. Obama said he had retracted invitations for everyone but his own family and his close friends, but a laundry list of the rich and famous showed up, including the celebrity couples Jay Z and his wife Beyonce, who joined INTERNATIONALLY DISGRACED SPECIAL OBAMA INVITE SUICIDE TAUNT BITCH CHRISSY TEIGAN & JOHN LEGEND John Legend and about 300-400 others to eat, drink, and dance the night away. Photos & videos were leaked from the party showed a MASKLESS B. HUSSEIN OBAMA. Singer Erykah Badu, one of many celebrities who released footage, has apologized on Twitter for being a "terrible guest," reports USA Today. Other party guests have also released selfies of themselves with the former president and his wife, Michelle — and masks were not being worn. TALK TO RICHARD E. Many guests stayed in Edgartown, where the island is seeing a huge cluster of cases, with several celebrities, including actor Bradley Cooper, staying at the Harbor View Hotel, where six employees have tested positive for COVID, The Daily Mail reported. Local health officials say there are other COVID clusters in Edgartown, including the Alchemy Bistro & Bar, where 14 cases have been reported, and at the Port Hunter restaurant with five cases. Both of the restaurants have been shut down temporarily, along with other establishments, and mask mandates are in place at bars and restaurants around Martha's Vineyard. "I'm sure some attendees went home with some extra luggage they didn't pack or see," one Edgartown resident told The Daily Mail. "I wouldn't have gone to the party even if I was invited. "A"coronavirus coordinator" was reportedly hired to ensure the party was CDC-compliant, and Obama said he was making his guests and staff maintain a high standard of care. People attending the party were made to take COVID tests and share their results to enter the event, but island residents pointed out that the partygoers were all over the place on the island before hitting the former president's estate.

Schumer slammed for dancing at NYC concert amid Afghanistan strife

By Mark Moore Sen. Chuck Schumer was ripped on Twitter for dancing with funnyman Stephen Colbert backstage at the We Love NYC concert amid the ongoing catastrophe in Afghanistan and as the coronavirus pandemic continues to surge across the US.

“Backstage antics,” wrote Mayor de Blasio’s press secretary Bill Neidhart in a Twitter posting Saturday before the star-studded concert in Central Park was abruptly canceled because of storms and lightning generated by Hurricane Henri.

”Must be a slow news day,” wrote a Twitter user, showing the video of Schumer and Colbert dancing, along side images of a child slumped in a man’s arms in Afghanistan.

Another called out the Senate majority leader and the late-night talk show host for failing to take the situation seriously.

“These are not serious people. Good thing there’s nothing else going on that may require the Senate Majority Leader’s attention. As to Colbert, he becomes less & less relevant with each passing day,” a social media user said.

Schumer was also blasted for appearing tone-deaf even as thousands of Afghans are desperate to flee Afghanistan and Taliban rule.

One Twitter user called out Sen. Chick Schumer and Stephen Colbert for failing to take the situation in Afghanistan seriously. Bill Neidhardt/@BNeidhardt Twitter

“I find plenty of joy in life but this isn’t a joyful moment. This is a snapshot of the political class showing their utter disdain for the electorate and the soldiers they sent into harms way as a result of their failed leadership. Sorry you can’t see that,” said a Twitter user.

Another noted that Schumer isn’t the only one celebrating.

“The #Taliban is posting said.

Critics questioned why New York City even held the concert amid an approaching hurricane and rising COVID-19 cases.

Others questioned why the city even held the concert as Henri moved up the coast, “Er, not sure why NY officials ever thought going through with a ‘Covid-is-over-not-over’ homecoming concert in Central Park when Hurricane Henri was due to hit was a good idea,” said a Twitter user.

The concert, which featured LL Cool J, Jennifer Hudson and Andrea Boceli, was canceled midway through a number by Barry Manilow as storm clouds and lightning caused by Henri moved into the area.

2022 VOTE

EDUCATION IN DIGITAL WORLD; DIGITALLY, EITHER YOU KNOW SOMETHING OR YOU DON'T. YOU'RE A KNOW-ALL-YOU-NEED-TO-KNOW "A" STUDENT; OR A DIGITALLY INCOMPETENT, "B" STUDENT; WITHOUT THE ONLY (1) CORRECT ANSWER; THE ONLY ANSWER THAT WILL MAKE THE DIGITAL SYSTEM IN FRONT OF YOU WORK. THERE'S NO CONTRIVED; PHONY SELF-ESTEEM; "I AM SOMEONE". YOU MEET DIGITAL WORKPLACE DEMANDS; & KNOW SOMETHING OR YOU DON'T. IF YOU DON'T; YOU'RE FIRED. AFFIRMATIVE; NO STANDARDIZED TESTING & LEARNING STYLE EXCUSES NO ONE. DIGITAL INCOMPETENCE IS UNEMPLOYMENT; EVEN WITH A M.I.T. OR STANFORD PHD. CREDENTIAL, CAN'T DO THE DIGITAL JOB? GOODBYE, GOODNIGHT & GOOD LUCK. WHATEVER DIPLOMA OR CREDENTIAL; "B" STUDENTS ARE A BAGGAGE; A WORTHLESS; USELESS; UNHIREABLE DRAG ON CIVILIZATION. DIGITALLY PROFICIENT CHIMPANZEES WITH NO

DIPLOMA RUN GOOGLE; AMAZON; APPLE OR MICROSOFT. "B" STUDENTS ARE HOMELESS; DEAD WOOD. IF YOU GET HIRED FOR A JOB; YOUR BOSS WILL KNOW IN A WEEK IF YOU CAN DO THE JOB; AND WILL GET RID OF YOU IF YOU CAN'T; BECAUSE IF DOESN'T; HIS BOSS WILL GET RID OF HIM. HE'S ONLY AS GOOD AS THE PEOPLE HE HIRES TO WORK FOR HIM. THAT'S WHY HE'S THE BOSS. PIMP SCHUMER & HIS PAY FOR PLAY" WHOREMONGER WEINGARTEN UNION TEACHERS; WHO STOLE LIVE; IN-PERSON; PEER-SUPPORTED LEARNING; HAVE STOLEN YOUR KID'S LIFE. NO ONE FORCES ANY BOSS; ANYWHERE; TO HIRE & THEN NOT FIRE YOUR INCOMPETENT KID; IF HE CAN'T DO THE JON. SCHUMER & WEINGARTEN KNOW THIS. YOUR KID MEANS NOTHING TO THEM. UNION TEACHERS REFUSE COURT ORDERS TO TEACH. WE PAY THEM TOP DOLLAR TO TEACH. SCHUMER & WEINGARTEN; FOR (20); MONTHS; HAVE DEVIOUSLY MANIPULATED COVID TO STEAL THE WHITE HOUSE; (2) GEORGIA SENATE SEATS; & BE THEIR ALL PURPOSE ABIBI EXCUSE FOR UNION TEACHERS NEVER WORKING; WEINGARTEN UNION TEACHER'S DEPRAVED NEGLECT OF YOUR KID CONDEMNS SINGLE PARENT BLACK "HOOD" KIDS; TO HANGING OUT ON THE CORNER; WAITING FOR SOMETHING TO GO WRONG; SHORT LOSING; MISERABLE LIVES. READER; IS THIS "BLACK LIVES MATTER" TO YOU? WILL YOU LET PIMP SCHUMER & "PAY FOR PLAY" WHOREMONGER RANDI WEINGARTEN STEAL YOUR KID'S; ALL DIGITAL; ALL THE TIME 24/7/366; LIFE? YOUR CHOICE IS YOUR 2022 VOTE.

THE STORY OF LONG ISLAND
Richard E. Glick

What went wrong & why? How could a long island magic kingdom neverland; be raped by a public worker; unionized frankenstein; with a shotgun wedding; to a medusa hydrahead administrative state? How did the best place in america to grow up; fall in love; work and find the american dream, become dracula's castle? The same house; same demographics; with better schools; pays more in property taxes alone; than property taxes and the house mortgage combined; for the same house; anywhere else in america. The administrative; "i am the state" pharaoh; exists for itself. Are we going to take it anymore?

'This is going to dog Joe Biden for the rest of his term,' the co-host of 'The Five' says By Angelica Stabile | Fox News Email

Biden lets the Taliban dictate timeline for Afghanistan exit

Biden administration works with the Taliban on Afghanistan evacuations; 'The Five' reacts.

President Biden is blatantly allowing the Taliban to take advantage of the United States, "The Five" co-host Jesse Watters argued Wednesday.

Watters said the major difference between Biden and Donald Trump's foreign policy approaches was the former president's ability to assert dominance while the current commander in chief appears to cower to the threat of terrorism.

"He's thanking the Taliban for letting Americans get to the airport; Americans are getting beaten on the way to the airport," he stressed. "I don't see how this shakes out right now. I mean, say what you want about Trump, at least Trump killed terrorists. Joe Biden takes orders from terrorists."

MAN WITH FAMILY STRANDED IN AFGHANISTAN
CAUTIONS BIDEN ON TRUSTING THE TALIBAN

Watters suggested Biden's mangled exit strategy will continue to burden him and the rest of the U.S. for the remainder of his presidency.

"Joe Biden chose a hostage crisis," he said. "He thought that that was the best option. He said we're not going to extend the deadline. He says we're not going to do search and rescue. So this is going to dog Joe Biden for the rest of his term. Jimmy Carter only had a year of a hostage crisis.

Joe Biden's going to have three years of a hostage crisis. I don't see how he survives this."

According to Watters, Biden's withdrawal is the costliest military "blunder" in history and in terms of "tactical humiliation" ranks high with some of history's largest disasters, including Pearl Harbor.

"And now he's kind of blaming the Americans that are still there for not getting rescued," he said. "[Biden says] we're going to bring back everybody that wants to leave. Who wants to stay?"

Co-host Dana Perino chimed in to mention the administration's frustration with negative media coverage of Biden's handling of Afghanistan. Meanwhile, both the U.S. and the U.K. held special sessions on Tuesday, where the British discussed safely extracting their citizens from Afghanistan and the U.S. negotiated unrelated budget spending.

Bottom of Form

It's the 800-pound gorilla in the pandemic. The debate over forced vaccination with an ever-waning vaccine is cresting right around the time when the debate should be moot for a lot of people. Among the most fraudulent messages of the CDC's campaign of deceit is to force the vaccine on those with prior infection, who have a greater degree of protection against all versions of the virus than those with any of the vaccines. It's time to set the record straight once and for all that natural immunity to SARS-CoV-2 is broader, more durable, and longer-lasting than any of the shots on the market today. Our policies must reflect that reality.

It should be noted that this exercise is not even necessary now that our own government concedes that immunity from the vaccines, particularly the Pfizer shot, wanes each month. With the Mayo Clinic researchers suggesting, based on old data that likely got even worse since, that Pfizer's efficacy against infection is only 42%, there is no reason to even attempt to compare this degree of immunity to the near-perfect immunity of prior infection, even against Delta. It should be obvious to any intellectually honest person that an unvaccinated individual with prior infection is exponentially safer to be around than someone who had the vaccines but not prior infection.

Remember, a significant portion of the population already got infected, and when the latest Delta wave is over in the South, the region will likely reach clear supermajorities of the population with immunity, as was found in India following the circulation of this very contagious strain of the virus.

Now consider the fact that studies have shown those with prior infection are associated with 4.4x increased odds of clinically significant side effects following mRNA vaccination. Thus, it is as scandalous as it is unnecessary to vaccinate those with prior infection, even if one supports vaccination for those without prior immunity. But as you can imagine, that would take a massive share of the market off the table from the greedy hands of Big Pharma.

To that end, it's important to clarify once and for all, based on the current academic literature, that yes, people with prior infection are indeed immune, more so than those with vaccines. Here is just a small list of some of the more recent studies, which demonstrate the effectiveness of natural immunity — even from mild infection — much later into the pandemic than the study window of the vaccines:

1) New York University, May 3, 2021

The authors studied the contrast between vaccine immunity and immunity from prior infection as it relates to stimulating the innate T-cell immunity, which is more durable than adaptive immunity through antibodies alone. They concluded, "In COVID-19 patients, immune responses were characterized by a highly augmented interferon response which was largely absent in vaccine recipients. Increased interferon signaling likely contributed to the observed dramatic upregulation of cytotoxic genes in the peripheral T cells and innate-like lymphocytes in patients but not in immunized subjects."

The study further notes: "Analysis of B and T cell receptor repertoires revealed that while the majority of clonal B and T cells in COVID-19 patients were effector cells, in vaccine recipients clonally expanded cells were primarily circulating memory cells." What this means in plain English is that effector cells trigger an innate response that is quicker and more durable, whereas memory response requires an adaptive mode that is slower to respond. Natural immunity conveys much more innate immunity, while the vaccine mainly stimulates adaptive immunity.

2) Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri, May 24, 2021, published in Nature

The media scared people last year into thinking that if antibody levels wane, it means their immunity is weakening, as we are indeed seeing with the vaccines today. But as Nature wrote, "People who recover [even] from mild COVID-19 have bone-marrow cells that can churn out antibodies for decades." Thus, aside from the robust T-cell memory that is likely lacking from most or all vaccinated individuals, prior infection creates memory B cells that "patrol the blood for reinfection, while bone marrow plasma cells (BMPCs) hide away in bones, trickling out antibodies for decades" as needed.

It's therefore not surprising that early on in the pandemic, an in-vitro study in Singapore found the immunity against SARS-CoV-2 to last even 17 years later from SARS-1-infected patients who never even had COVID-19.

3) Cleveland Clinic, June 19, 2021

In a study of 1,359 previously infected health care workers in the Cleveland Clinic system, not a single one of them was reinfected 10 months into the pandemic, despite some of these individuals being around COVID-positive patients more than the regular population.

4) Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center, Seattle/Emory University, Washington, July 14, 2021, published in Cell Medicine

The study found that most recovered patients produced durable antibodies, memory B cells, and durable polyfunctional CD4 and CD8 T cells, which target multiple parts of the virus. "Taken together, these results suggest that broad and effective immunity may persist long-term in recovered COVID-19 patients," concluded the authors. In other words, unlike with the vaccines, no boosters are required to assist natural immunity.

5) University of California, Irvine, July 21, 2021

The authors conclude: "Natural infection induced expansion of larger CD8 T cell clones occupied distinct clusters, likely due to the recognition of a broader set of viral epitopes presented by the virus not seen in the mRNA vaccine" (emphasis added).

6) University of California, San Francisco, May 12, 2021

Conclusion: "In infection-naïve individuals, the second dose boosted the quantity but not quality of the T cell response, while in convalescents the second dose helped neither. Spike-specific T cells from convalescent vaccinees differed strikingly from those of infection-naïve vaccinees, with phenotypic features suggesting superior long-term persistence and ability to home to the respiratory tract including the nasopharynx."

Given that we know the virus spreads through the nasopharynx, the fact that natural infection conveys much stronger mucosal immunity makes it clear that the previously infected are much safer to be around than infection-naïve people with the vaccine. The fact that this study artfully couched the choices between vaccinated naive people and vaccinated recovered rather than just plain recovered doesn't change the fact that it's the prior infection, not the vaccine, conveying mucosal immunity. In fact, studies now show that infected vaccinated people contain just as much viral load in their nasopharynx as those unvaccinated, a clearly unmistakable conclusion from the virus spreading wildly in many areas with nearly every adult vaccinated.

7) Israeli researchers, August 22, 2021

Aside from more robust T cell and memory B cell immunity, which is more important than antibody levels, Israeli researchers found that antibodies wane slower among those with prior infection.

"In vaccinated subjects, antibody titers decreased by up to 40% each subsequent month while in convalescents they decreased by less than 5% per month."

8) Irish researchers, published in Wiley Review, May 18, 2021

Researchers conducted a review of 11 cohort studies with over 600,000 total recovered COVID patients who were followed up with over 10 months. The key finding? Unlike the vaccine, after about four to six months, they found "no study reporting an increase in the risk of reinfection over time."

9) Cornell University, Doha, Qatar, published in the Lancet, April 27, 2021

This is one of the only studies that analyzed the population-level risk of reinfection based on whole genome sequencing in a subset of patients with supporting evidence of reinfection. Researchers estimate the risk at 0.66 per 10,000 person-weeks. Most importantly, the study found no evidence of waning of immunity for over seven months of the follow-up period. The few reinfections that did occur "were less severe than primary infections," and "only one reinfection was severe, two were moderate, and none were critical or fatal." Also, unlike many vaccinated breakthrough infections in recent weeks that have been very symptomatic, "most reinfections were diagnosed incidentally through random or routine testing, or through contact tracing."

10) Israeli researchers, April 24, 2021

Several months ago, Israeli researchers studied 6.3 million Israelis and their COVID status and were able to confirm only one death in the entire country of someone who supposedly already had the virus, and he was over 80 years old. Contrast that to the torrent of hospitalizations and deaths we are seeing in those vaccinated more than five months ago in Israel.

11) French researchers, May 11, 2021

Researchers tested blood samples from health care workers who never had the virus but got both Pfizer shots against blood samples from those health care workers who had a previous mild infection and a third group of patients who had a serious case of COVID. They found, "No neutralization escape could be feared concerning the two variants of concern [Alpha and Beta] in both populations" of those previously infected.

12) Duke-NUS Medical School, Singapore, published in Journal of Experimental Medicine

Many people are wondering: If they got only an asymptomatic infection, are they less protected against future infection than those who suffered infection with more evident symptoms? These researchers believe the opposite is true.

"Asymptomatic SARS-CoV-2–infected individuals are not characterized by weak antiviral immunity; on the contrary, they mount a highly functional virus-specific cellular immune response," wrote the authors after studying T cell responses from both symptomatic and asymptomatic convalescent patients. If anything, they found that those with asymptomatic infection only had signs of non-inflammatory cytokines, which means that the body is primed to deal with the virus without producing that dangerous inflammatory response that is killing so many hospitalized with the virus.

13) Korean researchers, published in Nature Communications on June 30, 2021

The authors found that the T cells created from convalescent patients had "stem-cell like" qualities. After studying SARS-CoV-2-specific memory T cells in recovered patients who had the virus in varying degrees of severity, the authors concluded that long-term "SARS-CoV-2-specific T cell memory is successfully maintained regardless of the severity of COVID-19."

14) Rockefeller University, July 29, 2021

The researchers note that far from suffering waning immunity, memory B cells in those with prior infection "express increasingly broad and potent antibodies that are resistant to mutations found in variants of concern." They conclude that "memory antibodies selected over time by natural infection have greater potency and breadth than antibodies elicited by vaccination." And again, this is even before getting into the innate cellular immunity which is exponentially greater in those with natural immunity.

15) Researchers from Madrid and Mount Sinai, New York, March 22, 2021

Until now, we have established that natural immunity provides better adaptive B cell and innate T cell responses that last longer and work for the variants as compared to the vaccines. Moreover, those with prior infection are at greater risk for bad side effects from the vaccines, rendering the campaign to vaccinate the previously infected both unnecessary and dangerous. But the final question is: Do the vaccines possibly harm the superior T cell immunity built up from prior infection?

Immunologists from Mount Sinai in New York and Hospital La Paz in Madrid have raised serious concerns. In a shocking discovery after monitoring a group of vaccinated people both with and without prior infection, they found "in individuals with a pre-existing immunity against SARS-CoV-2, the second vaccine dose not only fail to boost humoral immunity but determines a contraction of the spike-specific T cell response." They also note that other research has shown "the second vaccination dose appears to exert a detrimental effect in the overall magnitude of the spike-specific humoral response in COVID-19 recovered individuals."

As early as March 27, among the many accurate statements Dr. Fauci made before he became a political animal, he declared he was "really confident" in the immunity conferred by prior infection. That was long before 17 months of data and dozens of studies confirmed that. Yet, today, there are thousands of doctors and nurses with infinitely better immunity than what the vaccines can confer who are losing their jobs during a staffing crisis for not getting the shots. Just know that the big lie about natural immunity is perhaps the most verifiable lie, but it is likely not the only lie with devastating consequences we are being told about the virus, the vaccines, and alternative treatment options.

SECRETARY BLINKEN PUTS A NUMBER ON AMERICANS CURRENTLY STUCK IN AFGHANISTAN

Americans who were on their way to the airport or who were waiting at the gates were warned in the message to "be aware of their surroundings," and to monitor local media in order to "adjust your plans based on new information."

Secretary of State Antony Blinken said Wednesday that he believed less than 1,000 American citizens were still in Afghanistan and attempting to leave.

Blinken said there were 6,000 Americans who wanted to leave Afghanistan on August 14 and 4,500 of them have been evacuated within the last 10 days. He added that 500 of the remaining number have been instructed on how to leave within the last 24 hours. That leaves roughly 1,000 Americans left in the country, but Blinken said he believed the actual number was lower for a variety of reasons, including situations where

The reporter asked, "The L.A. Times has a story saying that a group of students and their parents are in Afghanistan. Do you have any more information on that or is that?--"

"I do not. Who have recently traveled into Afghanistan?" Psaki stated in response, appearing confused about the report cited.

White House press secretary Jen Psaki spoke about whether the United States could commit to getting Americans and Afghan allies out of the country — even after the August 31 withdrawal date for American troops – during the daily briefing.

“I don’t think we can guarantee,” Psaki said.

When challenged about her assertion, she said her answer applied to “individuals who are still there because they’re not prepared to leave.”

“Just for clarity,” she added to reporters. “I know you care about context.”

But Psaki’s answer is a contradiction of Biden’s promise during a speech to Americans on Sunday.

This is similar to Biden's own words during an exchange with reporters after his speech on Afghanistan on Thursday, as he tried to walk back his promise.

"Getting every single person out is — can't be guaranteed to anybody because there's a determination, all who wants to get out as well," Biden said, when asked about Americans who would likely get left behind in the country after the military left.

Biden added that no country in history had ever made that promise.

"Look, I know of no conflict — as a student of history — no conflict where, when a war was ending, one side was able to guarantee that everyone that wanted to be extracted from that country would get out," he said.

He argued that Americans would understand if he was unable to get everyone out.

“Think about it folks,” he said. “And I know American people get this in their gut.”

The latest and most advanced U.S. military technology is now in the hands of the Taliban. It's being used to track and hunt Afghan allies. This has been confirmed directly by Taliban leaders, according to the New York Post.

The Post reports that Taliban leaders are bragging about their newfound tools and putting them into immediate use. To that end, a new terrorist unit, Al Isha, has been formed specifically to hunt down Afghan targets who have assisted U.S. and allied forces in the region over the past 20 years.

Nawazuddin Haqqani, one of the brigade commanders of the Al Isha unit, bragged in an interview that his unit is using U.S.-made hand-held scanners to tap into a massive U.S.-built biometric database. This sophisticated technology can identify any person who helped the NATO allies or worked with Indian or American intelligence.

Afghans who try to deny or minimize their role will find themselves contradicted by the detailed computer records that the U.S. left behind in its frenzied withdrawal, Haqqani said.

U.S. officials have not confirmed how many of the 7,000 hand-held scanners were left behind or whether the biometric database could be remotely deleted.

The Haqqani Network is "the most lethal and sophisticated insurgent group targeting U.S., Coalition, and Afghan forces," according to the U.S. National Counterterrorism Center.

The database, which includes fingerprints, iris scans and other biographical data, was housed in a whitewashed building at the Ministry of Interior in Kabul.

"The centerpiece of the program is the Afghan Automated Biometric Identification System (AABIS), administered by about 50 Afghans at the Ministry of Interior in Kabul," according to a 2011 FBI news release.

The abrupt departure of U.S. forces in Afghanistan has provided the opportunity for Haqqani's network to move very quickly in its efforts. "We are not collecting new data — we already have it," Haqqani said. "The group [Al Isha] just keeps an eye that if someone has worked for America or the National Directorate of Security [the former Afghan government's intelligence agency]."

It has also been reported that the U.S. has separately provided the Taliban with a list of Americans and Afghans it wants to evacuate from the country, a move one defense official told Politico was "just put[ing] all those Afghans on a kill list."

National Convention video, according to the Times.
"So I gave her a call, and she had [another] date that night."

Biden claims that he persuaded her to cancel that date, and Jill corroborated the story saying: "You said, do you think you can break your date? Well, I called and told the guy that I had a friend in from out of town, and went out with Joe."

However, her ex-husband, Bill Stevenson, denies the account, claiming that Jill and Joe met before the crash during Biden's campaign for Senate and had an affair which led to the end of their marriage.

The Biden campaign denied the accounts that Stevenson gave to multiple media outlets, accusing him of attempting to publicize his upcoming autobiography, according to the Washington Times.

"There's probably 500 people in Delaware that saw Joe Biden and Jill at three major fundraising events at the Stone Balloon [Ale House] in 1972, after the Stone Balloon opened in February.

"One thing I do not want to do, and I know this might sound funny to people, is that I don't want to hurt her chances of becoming first lady of the United States – that's not my goal," Stevenson told the station, according to the paper. "I would say to Jill, 'listen, you know how I feel about this. You had an affair. You worked on the campaign,'" Stevenson said. # Report: Chartered Planes Leave Kabul with Hundreds of Empty Seats

Charter flights leaving Hamid Karzai International Airport in Kabul,

Afghanistan, have reportedly left hundreds of seats open onboard.

A Washington-based development firm, Sayara International, which has worked in Afghanistan, set up plans to try and take 1,000 Afghan refugees to Uganda last week, Wall Street Journal reported, since Uganda offered their country as a sanctuary for Afghans.

The company's co-founders, George Abi-Habib, said the company chartered three flights but ran into multiple obstacles. According to Scott Shadian, the CEO of Sayara, the Marines at the airport had refused to let Afghans in that had seats on the three planes inside the airport.

The organization apparently also asked its partners to “help fill an urgent cash shortfall” before they could fly, Shadian said. Abi-Habib added that one woman from Uganda crawled through sewage pipes to get into the airport for the plane.

After being unsuccessful in getting more people onto the flights, a 345-seat plane left Kabul airport with only 50 passengers aboard, WSJ reported.

“We can’t expect everyone to crawl through a sewer pipe to safety,” said Mr. Abi-Habib. “The window is closing.”

The Carter Center’s Conflict Resolution Program Director, Stacia George, has also attempted to get people out of Afghanistan. “It’s a combination of tragic, surreal and apocalyptic,” George said.

On Sunday, another flight left Kabul for Ukraine. Activists reportedly brought 40 vulnerable Afghan women to the airport. However, they were also not let through the gates of the airport.

The flight, that was supposedly waiting for the group for two days, ended up leaving without them. Since they could not get inside the airport, the flight with 240 seats was able to fill 70 seats.

“It’s so frustrating to get high-risk people up to the gate and have them risking their lives to go there and you still can’t get them through. It’s a disaster in slow and fast motion,” George added.
