OP2 ENGAGEMENTS & EVENTS

Earlier this month, FACCI held its first Transport and Infrastructure Industry event for the year, which covered the history and development of the Cross River Rail (CRR) project. OP2 Managing Director Michael Carreiras was the moderator for the panel discussion, which featured members from the project and industry itself, including Russ Vine (Executive Director for Marketing & Communications and Lead Innovation Officer for CRR), Jeremy Kruger (Director – Tunnel, Stations & Development for CRR), Priscilla Radice (CEO of Infrastructure Association of Queensland) and Kate Meyrick (Director for Urbis). The session was filled with interesting discussions and exchanges on the social and economic opportunities of CRR and the importance of lessons learned from Major Infrastructure Projects, in overcoming complex projects challenges.

OP2 PUBLICATIONS

Throughout 2020 and 2021, we released a number of publications focusing on certain project management areas. In October, we published an article and a video focusing on Managing Project Complexity, where we explained how maintaining strong alignment within your project, can help overcome growing complexity and avoid unnecessary schedule and cost deviations.

In December, we released a video on achieving a successful Project Launch, where we emphasised that spending time to clearly define your Project Launch activities ensures that your project is ready and optimised prior to project execution.

In February, we published a video focusing on Project Visibility and Transparency, where we highlighted the importance of how reporting is more than just presenting information on a screen; it's about bringing together team members to make the important decisions count for your project.
