28nd April 2025 Run 2737

The Hares – Tow Job

The Run:Chapman Rd Rapid Creek

It went something like this

The hare Towjob gave us the brief, It was to be a Braman Remembrance Run. There was plenty of pink tape and chalk and a drink stop. It would be easy to follow for both walkers and runners. It was on left along the foreshore path.

So of we went past the first piece of tape then the first piece of chalk. Then at the first intersection, nothing. So of to the right/wrong direction we went only to pick up trail again at the walkthrough from Aralia street. Left @ Nightcliff road and across to Pandanus St. We could already smell the drinkstop at the sports club, but that was not to be, back across Nightcliff Rd and onto Fox Crescent. OK so now we know where the drink stop will be, but again alas as we reached Chapman road there was a subtle change in the colour of the tape that went from pink to orange.

Dawn Service & HIV started following the orange tape until it was noted that there was a bunch of scum sucking bottom dwelling bring a six pack poofter Casuarina hashers also following the orange tape. HIV & Dawn Service then wandered about like a couple of lost chooks at Woodstock until they thought "Bugger this, lets go to where we think the drink stop will be, and if its not there then off to the pub."

After heading down this new path amazingly pink tape and chalk arrows immediately appeared pointing us to a ute with a Tow Job and drinks stop attached.

Apparently everybody else had a pretty good idea of where the drink stop would be so it was well attended. And not to be dissapointed as it was the best drinkstop so far this week.

A short or longer (depending on how much drink stop you got) walk run back to the trailer.

Lord OBE used to sell security alarms door to door, and he was really good at it. If no one was home he would just leave a brochure and calling card on the kitchen table.

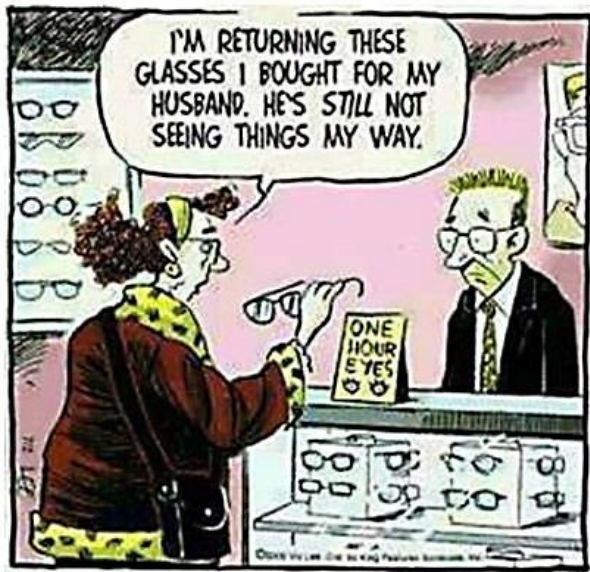

The Circle

The acting GM OOo's get straight into the circle to night with.

Returners

"Returners, all four of you, up you come. Full Bottle where are you? Stop playing with your prostate and get over here. Dawn Service and The Knob where ya been?" "We've been around, around Australia, maybe a couple of times."

"Full Bottle where you been?" I've been to south of the border to Mexico/Melboring. I got on a boat and it went across the bay to another part of Austraya. I came back a virgin, I was a very good boy, I had to use a self help program." "Cricket what about you?" "I've been on a porridge and fruit diet at the hospital for a couple of weeks, glad I escaped that." "Where o' where were you...."

The Chook (&shirt)

Gash looking resplendent in the shirt with chook in hand sashay's forward like the ponce he is and responds to the acting GM OOp's queries of "Do you have any nominations?" with "Yes I have a few. (que Tolstoy's short stories) There are farmyard botherers that have been bothering the chook, especially around the trailer at feeding time, Gensett had her snout in the trough with 2 hamburger's lined up." Gensett had to respond and point out it was actually 3 hamburgers not 2. True to form Gensett continued to respond until Gash ceded and awarded her the chook and shirt simply causing Gensett to take it up another notch. As she grabbed a full bottle of champagne for her down down the circle sung a sped up animated version of "Farrk of ya c...." "Oh what a feeling Chook Fucker"

Fines

St Physio sashayed up doing a poncy dance and fined Tow Job for trying to hide that fact that he had spiked the drink stop with a poofta rum instead of proper rum, by adding a slice of lime to each glass. "Weleeth bwian, only pooftas and Cathuweena hashmen drink spithed wum he tried to say," it came out more camp than a boy scouts convention. "Here ith to thith pwik"

Jokes

Rocketman begins with a family and the mother-in-law standing at a wishing well, the father walks up thinks hard about a wish and throws the coin in. The mother-in-law walks up, trips and falls down the well, the father shouts "Fuck it works."

Inspired Gensett steps up. The Psych centre having its annual get out of here free question day. Kevin and Mick are in line for release if they can answer a few questions correctly. Kevin goes first,

- What would happen if I someone poked you in the eye – Kevin replied I'd be half blind.
- What if they poked you in the other eye – Kevin I'd be fully blind

Excellent you are correct you can go free, Kevin stopped to clue up Mick and give him the answer to the questions. Mick's turn

- What would happen if I someone cut of you ear – Mick replied I'd be half blind.
- What if they cut of you other ear – Mick I'd be fully blind
- You would be blind, can you please explain this – Mick replies, of course with no ears my hat would fall down and cover my eyes. – Boom Boom

Lord OBE tells of the tightest hashman in Darwin Hash. One day when they were all together, they let him know that he was the tightest bastard in Hash. Later he thought about this and decided to restore their faith by buying them all a beer, but Bloody Hell, seems they all wanted one each."

Rocketman again "what 3 things should you not say at a Gay Club?

1. Can I push your stool in?
2. Can I bum a fag, and
3. Can I toss you for the next drink"

Dawn Service with her best Pauline Hanson impression "I don't get it, Please Explain?"

The Hare – Tow Job Run Report

The acting GM OOOp's mistakenly asks HIV what he thought of the run. "Well that fact that I could run, got to do it with Dawn Service and had a couple of poofa rums, I give it a 2A out of X.

Captain's Log Day 39:

Roasted unicorn is delicious.

The Tucker – Tow Job

Ask Gensett she had more tucker (Gourmet hamburgers) than anybody else. Gensett replies "The first one was really good then I gave away the crappy ones, no I didn't I ate them all. I didn't eat all the pies, well maybe one pie, I am on a roll. I give it 11, no wait I had three so I give it 30 out of 10."

St Physio's Thought of the Week
