The Hares – Lord Obe & Gensett
The Run: 12 Tudawali St.

Continuing on the recent trend of increasing numbers/returning runners, 17 Hashers made to the downtown suburb of Leafy Ludmilla. With the wet season now behind us all the cars were washed and neatly lined up against the side of the road. None even ventured onto the footpath lest the VB coloured grass stain the Michelines.

After a couple of pre-lubes Lord OBE provided a circumlocutious pre run brief. “Yes it is on pink tape, Yes it is on out the gate, Yes there is a drink stop, Yes it is nearly shorter than the brief.”

Killer was first out the gate but quickly overtaken by Gropa with Cum Again along the outside. Along the straight HIV kept stopping for a nervous piss until they arrived at a check at the edge of Sorry Park, a whole K into the grueling marathon. The drink stop was already in sight. As everybody always follows trail it was on to the drink stop except for Cum Again who preferring a more traditional definition of a Marathon, continued on past.

All so shiney

With drink stop in hands there was a brief discussion on whether anyone had yet raised enough of a sweat to dampen their belly button fluff. From there it was “On Home” back to the circle. The most direct route was covered in shiggy and drop bears so most of the short cutters to the long cut along Dick Ward drive.

A solid 2.5k for the shortcutters and somewhat less for the others.

The others

The Circle

The acting GM OOp's calls the circle together but then has to wait for the noisy angry palm tree hovering overhead to bugged off, and then squawking of the chook to also subside.

Returners

The call for returning runners to stand up was done with trepidation and the fear that there would be nobody left sitting down to sing them a song.

Cum Again, Killer, HIV & Enola were all returning. Cum Again who lives in Perth and did not make it to Nash Hash, although does have a picture of Tow Job attending the event. Killer because “The scum sucking bottom dwelling Casuarina Poofter Hash” does not run on public holidays. HIV who had been marking his territory by pissing on very EV Charger from Darwin to Perth and back again by going down the west coast, across the bottom and back up the middle.

Enola actually went to the Nash Hash celebration in Fremantle. She gave a Nash hash report of “it was great, lots of fun, lots of drink, lots of great food, and lots of friends.”

Gash was also welcomed back, but nobody had even noticed he had been away.

“Oh why o’where what were you last week....” As sung by Ricemaster

Fines

Gash tried to fine the Hare for not having a clearly marked trail for the “On Home” after the drink stop. This did not get much traction as he was the only one who could not see the “On Home” from the drink stop.

The Chook

Backpage the incumbent Chook Fucker was asked if she had any nominations? She quickly responded that the chook was thinking about it pretty intensely and was trying to work out what to do, now that there is a chook and a shirt and they go together as a package.

The nominations were HIV, for running, Cum Again for running a marathon, then went home then had to go back again as she had won.

And the winner is... Gash for running back from the drink stop through the shiggy and the single orgasmism creatures in the swamp. “Here’s to this prick....”

Jokes

Killer arises to sing the Hash Easter song “Has anybody seen JC”

The Most Unsuccessful Lockdown of all time...

Tow Job our resident theologian then queried when JC was resurrected. Was it after 3 days and 3 nights or was it Sunday. Of little importance, though it was the first documented case of an unsuccessful lockdown.

The Hare – Lord OBE Run Report

The acting GM OOp's asks Ricemaster to give a run report. He advised that he took the short cut home through the swamp. It was a good run, I don't come to Hash for fun, if I enjoyed the Hash I would stop coming. So, it was excellent, I hated it so give it a 10/10. Now waiting for the Melioidosis to set in.

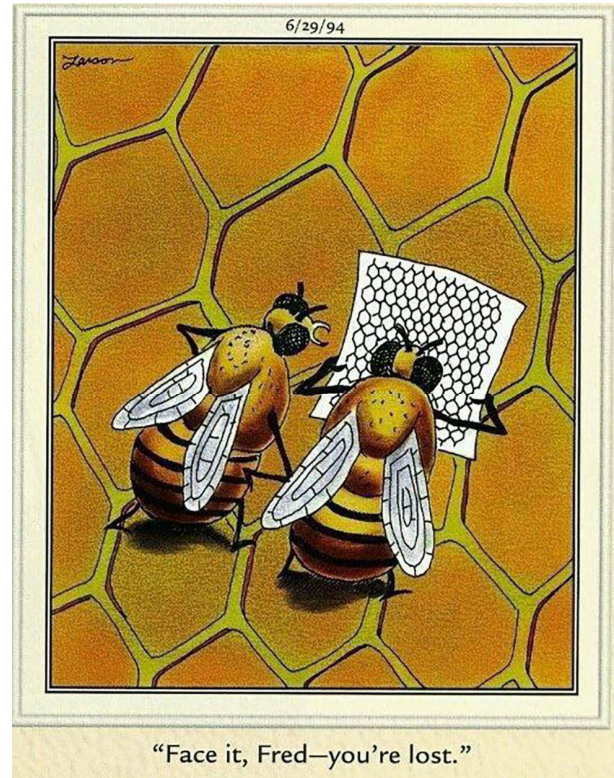

Cum Again agrees that she also hated the run. A new rule should be invoked that everytime she returns there should be a minimum distance set for the run. There was both much derision and some support for the suggestion.

With our average advancing age if we go all the way across the road we should also damn well make it all the way back again. Numbers abounded but 3.5K round trip and go 10K, that way, one way, seemed popular.

I saw a strip club across the road from a minigolf place, and I'm very liberal but that just too much for me. What if your trying to have a nice afternoon with your family then you kids look across the street to see a bunch of losers playing minigolf?

The Tucker – Gensett

There were many compliments on Gensetts ability to knock up a couple of trays of tasty brown stuff having only arrived back in Darwin a couple of hours before the run. There was also a Ladies only chicken salad that received many compliments for flavour and texture. All were well sated by the end of the evening.

"Face it, Fred—you're lost."

St Physio's Thought of the Week

After spending several weeks being a stellar stand in Hash Scribe, this is all St Physio had to think about this week.

Carpark at the end of Chapman Road
Rapid Creek.

AGPU – 31Mei – 01Jun

Marrakai/Corroborree. The lawns will be mown and Katherine Hash will be visiting. Rumours abound of a no dress pre lube run at the Purple Mango.
