SMARTER FARMING STARTS HERE

FARMSERVER® + THE SEEDIQ™ SYSTEM

The SeedIQ™ System helps identify the best-performing hybrids and varieties tailored to your farm based on your specific management practices. Drawing from a vast, highly complex database of agronomic insights, product characterization, and PFR data, it simplifies the information into a format that's easy to understand and use.

TRY SEEDIQ NOW!

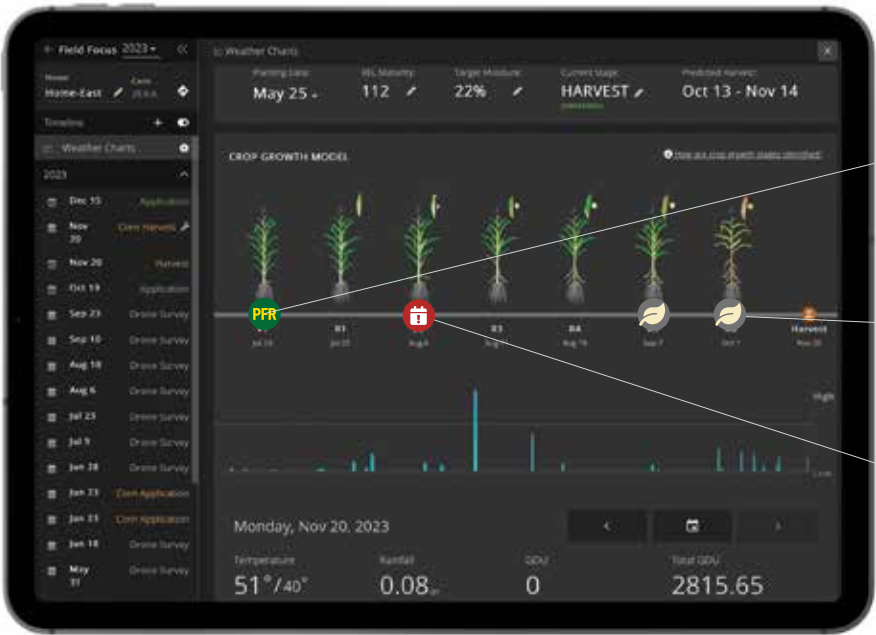

The SeedIQ System is built around three core research efforts: Root Reveal™, Silk Reveal™, and Kernel Reveal™. These unique components of Beck's product characterization provide deep insights into a hybrid's root structure, development, and stress tolerance. By quantifying these specific traits, Beck's provides a more robust, data-driven strategy to help you maximize product performance and better manage seed decisions on your farm throughout the season.

Traditionally, SeedIQ has operated using ZIP code-level insights. Now, it goes a step further. By combining the power of SeedIQ with the detailed information in your individual FARMserver account, you unlock a much more personalized experience. Consider the depth of data FARMserver provides, from soil characteristics and weather patterns to your own yield history. By tying these together with SeedIQ, farmers have a smarter, more precise approach to seed selection and farm management.

CROP GROWTH MODEL

The Crop Growth Model can help improve your profit potential by providing actionable, in-season notifications that offer agronomic and PFR Proven™ insights specific to each of your fields.

FARMserver's PFR and Agronomy Alerts streamline standout agronomic products and practices that consistently perform and provide cultural, chemical, mechanical, and biological advice pre-season to post-harvest to help you protect yield and increase ROI.

ARE CONDITIONS FIT TO HIT THE FIELD?

Over the past decade, the top questions we’ve heard from farmers have centered on whether the forecast and field conditions are right for planting and spraying. The question seems straightforward, but proper timing is a critical factor in final yields. Beck’s Ready2Plant™ and Spray Conditions™ tools in FARMserver® take the guesswork out of decision-making by considering key weather variables alongside real-time observed field conditions to deliver accurate, timely recommendations for these crucial field passes.

SPRAY CONDITIONS™

Spray Conditions™ helps farmers determine the best times to apply crop protection products by analyzing key factors like wind, rainfall, and inversion risk. It delivers field-level forecasts and customizable settings, enabling applications to be tailored to each farm’s specific conditions and needs. Because spraying effectiveness depends on a safe and stable weather window, Spray Conditions can improve coverage, reduce drift, and maximize application success.

READY2PLANT™

Ready2Plant™ helps farmers answer the critical question of when to plant by removing guesswork and analyzing key factors, including temperature, rainfall, and field conditions. It provides field-level forecasts and timely notifications, enabling growers to make better-informed decisions throughout the planting window. Because successful planting depends on conditions over several days, the tool helps optimize emergence and stand establishment for a stronger start to the season.

Ready2Plant notifications are recommendations driven by weather data and will run from March 15 through June 15. Each farmer must take into consideration what timeline is best for their location and operation.*

AGMARKET.NET TOOL SUITE

AG MARKET.NET

Grain marketing is every bit as essential to the success of your operation as growing a great crop. AgMarket.Net® — led by Beck's grain marketing consultant Matt Bennett — is here to help. Through this program, you'll be partnered with a seasoned advisor to help navigate the ever-changing market environment.

Together, you'll build and execute a strategy tailored to your operation. Using our software, tools, and framework, we'll help you make informed marketing decisions.

Using a systematic approach, we'll:

- Plan: What is our crop plan?
- Analyze: What is our break-even and market outlook?
- Decide: Which types of cash or brokerage tools do we want to use?
- Execute: Move forward with the plan and adjust as necessary.

To begin, request a discovery call with Matt Bennett and an AgMarket.Net® advisor to see if consulting is right for your operation.

There's substantial risk of loss in trading futures and/or options, and it may not be suitable for all investors.
