

Midnight Tears

By: Sierra Lewandowski

My words drowned out
My mind of doubts
Frozen still as I lost
The high ground

It was my hardest fall
I had lost it all

Now days
And weeks
And months
Have passed

But I
Still see it
Clear as glass
It hurts me
To step on the glass
Shards of all those memories
Good times in the past

Before all of this
Had ruined
What we had

And I'll keep crying
Every damn night
It just keeps playing
Over in my mind

Though I know
It's over
But it still hurts me

That moment
When I looked up
And saw life's cruelty

Naturally
Slowly
All the light
Left me

Darkness
Pours from my eyes
Every day
At midnight
