

I Found You

By: Sierra Lewandowski

I was sailing on the ocean
Chasing the waves
Looking for emotions
Looking for my name

I knew who I was
But I hadn't felt myself
My friends knew me for me
But not for who I really was

I guess I don't know
What I'm looking for
But I'm sailing out to sea
To see what's in store

And I was looking at the water
Looking down deep
I dove inside to search for
What I need

But I didn't have to look far
Cause it came up to me
Rising from the bottom
Came the man of my dreams

Out of a million maybe
A billion baby
Fish in the sea
You found me

When I saw you
I froze scared
When I felt you
I felt free

When I heard you
I felt joy
And my heart hastened
To beat

And I felt this feeling
I couldn't believe
I felt the life rushing
Back into me

So I followed this man
Just to watch and wonder
To explore what I felt
As I felt it grow stronger

And as I explored
I soon found
That what I needed
Was you

Out of this endless
Deep vast blue
I found you

Sierra Lewandowski ©