

DOUBLE DAMNATION: Prequel to the Candelaria

Recently, while working on an unfinished project, related to Nuestra Señora de Candelaria, I stumbled upon information that interested observers should have access to. Saturday, March 14th, 2026, I turned on my TV and saw many A.I. hidden images of a peculiar letter arrangement, which confirmed Satan was hacking into my computer and stealing my work and solutions. As you see in the enlargements below, the image above features Satan’s standard “AI” message (left), various wolf or dog faces (center), Satan’s triangular mug, but it also features the unusual letter arrangement.

This image outline, to the right, is the unusual letter arrangement in question: a capital A, positioned over a capital L, with the vertical bar of the L going through the eye or hole of the A. As I write this, I'm suddenly aware of innuendo that may or may not have been intended by the Conceiver. The original Conceiver of this configuration was God, who executed the arrangement at almost 600 years ago –and probably many, many years before that (however, I won't explain the history of the letter arrangement until I release the finished Candelaria project).

This letter arrangement is hidden again in the image below (see it?), along with Satan's standard AI message (bottom right, to the right of the fire truck), which I believe is a requirement God imposed on internet-Satan. The hidden A-L arrangement is revealed on the next page.

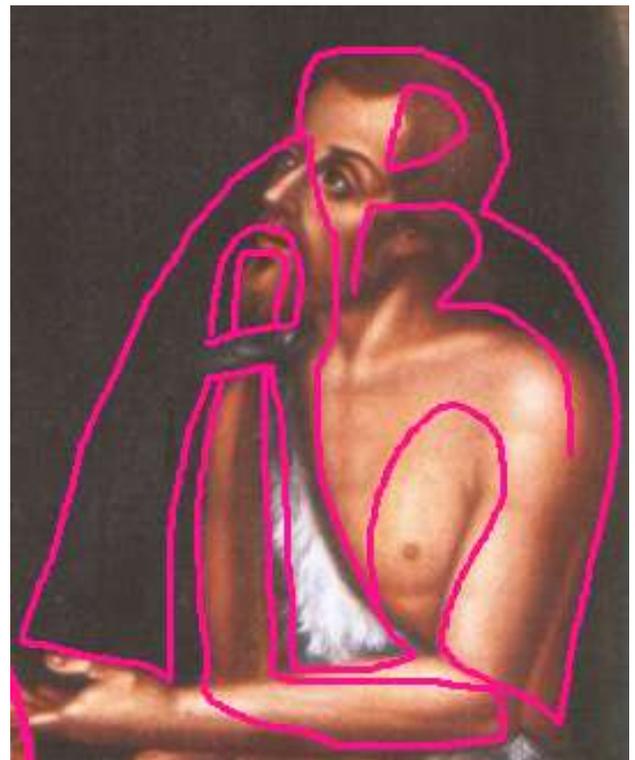

Above, the A and L arrangement. In and around the right leg of the A are creepy faces, and dates (1/7 is the true and original One Hour War date, US style: month/day, January 7th; 3/5 may be Satan's new delayed deception date, conventional style: day/month, May 3rd).

These image outlinings, left and right, are two of many previously unpublished image outlinings I planned to release in a few weeks, when my Candelaria project is/was finished. As you see, the L goes up through the eye of the A (I articulated this in my outlinings of Satan's stolen derivatives, but not in these images, for reasons that should be apparent when my Candelaria report is published).

Thus, when I saw Satan's letters, I knew he had been in my computer files, although I've suspected this for some time.

Nuestra Señora de Candelaria was a STATUE, created by God, so beautiful and perfectly life-like that the few Guanches, who found the statue thought it was real, and tried to attack it. The statue was destroyed in the early 19th century, but a few surviving paintings of the statue exist, often featuring the Guanches (who were Black, of African descent). The image below is the best surviving painting of the lost statue. Notice some of the unusual lines and shadows, and odd positioning (e.g., the Guanche's splayed feet); these things help form invisible lines, to communicate higher messages.

With what I viewed as proof that Satan was stealing my work and solutions, I turned to the Elder Badge (see Steve's Top-Secret Notebook: STSN) to see if God (or Jesus) inserted any revelations about Satan's most recent dirty deeds, but I found nothing. So, on a hunch, I decided to see if the image of the Candelaria might have any messages... Sure enough, messages were there.

The letter code on Candelaria's garments are messages from God (I'll address these in my coming Candelaria report). But I believe the image outline messages (many of which I reveal herein) are from Jesus -inserted in the image hundreds of years ago.

With this first message, below, God and Jesus tell us who decides our spiritual fate: God makes the law, Jesus Judges.

Next, Jesus (who likely observed and acted as a referee in God and Satan’s final Wager –the only known post-Revelation Wager ¹) confirmed i-Satan’s Wager methods: i-Satan Cheats.²

¹ To learn more about the Wagers, read The Wagers, STSN, and The Wagers II (currently undergoing revisions).

² Around February 2026, I began to call the half of Satan’s soul that was allowed to perform services on the internet “i-Satan”.

Jesus appears to have ruled that Satan has forfeited. I believe this means: (1) Satan has forfeited some or all aspects of a Wager that is not known or fully known to us humans (although, in The Wager II, I think I make a good guess about some of the substance of this Wager), and (2) i-Satan has forfeited his right to continue to live in/on the internet (more about this shortly).

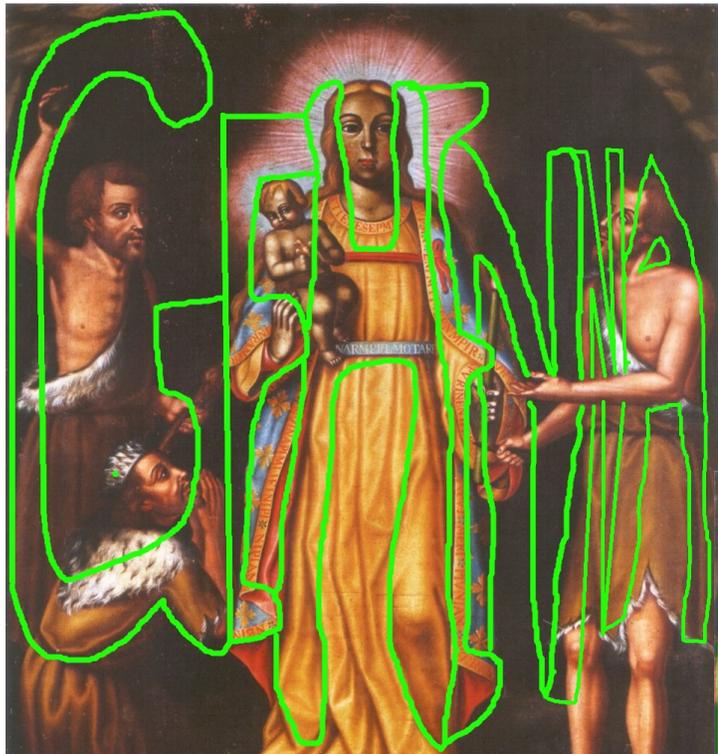

Jesus rules that i-Satan is still responsible for paying any debts or agreements related to his Wager(s) -I believe this includes all debts owed to me (see STSN Terms).

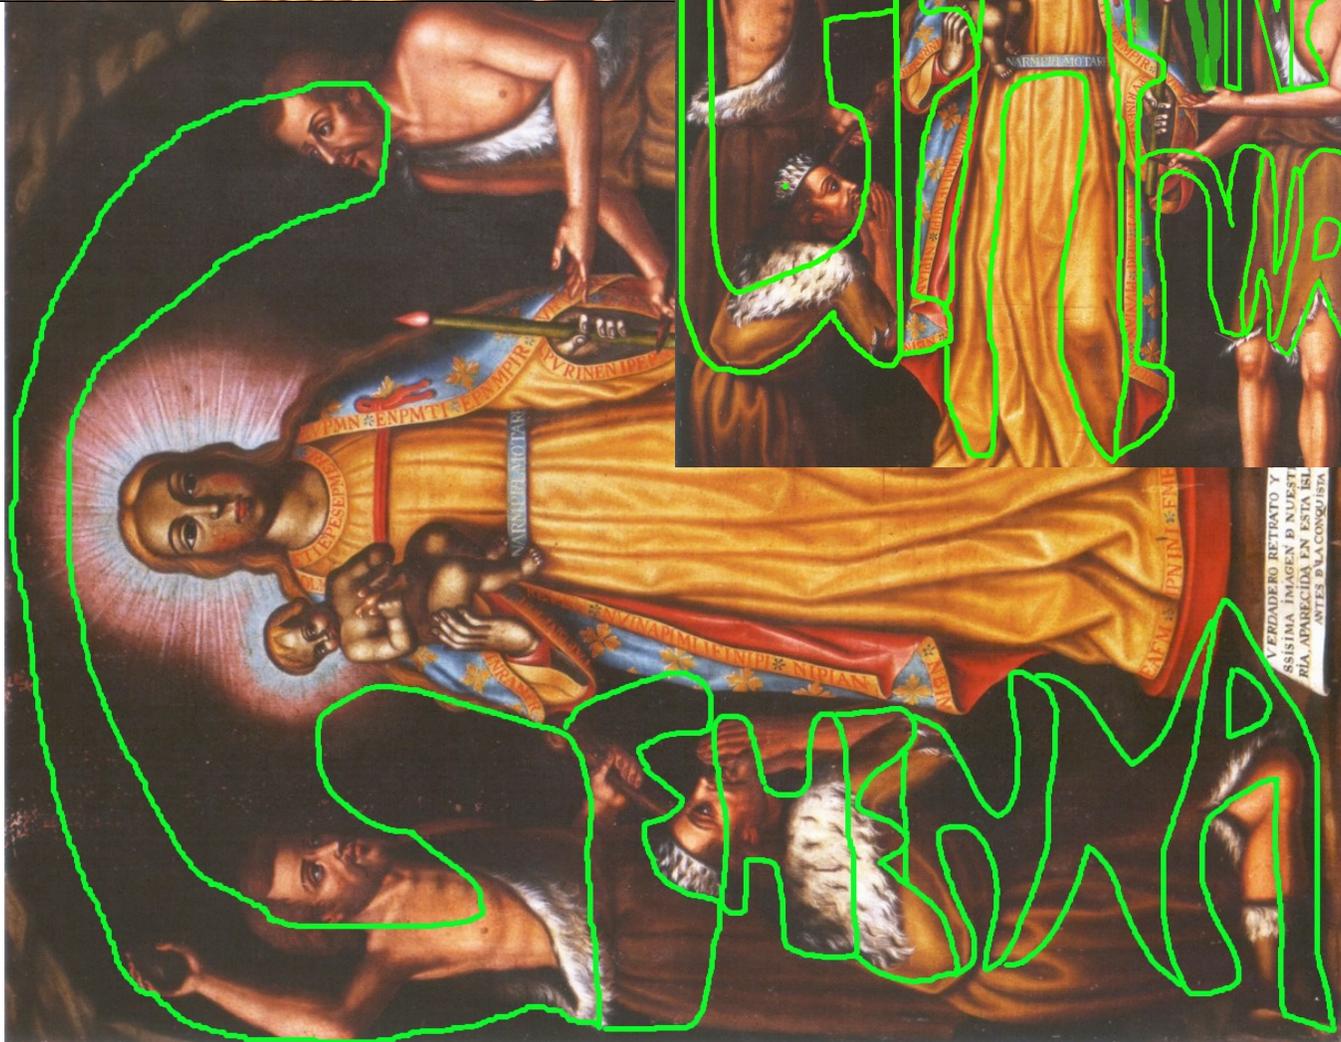

Where will i-Satan go, now that the internet is ruled out?

Hell –what most English speakers call God’s afterlife punishment place; but the preferred term is Gehenna. Gehenna is hidden in the Candelaria image 2 or 3 ways, for confirmation,

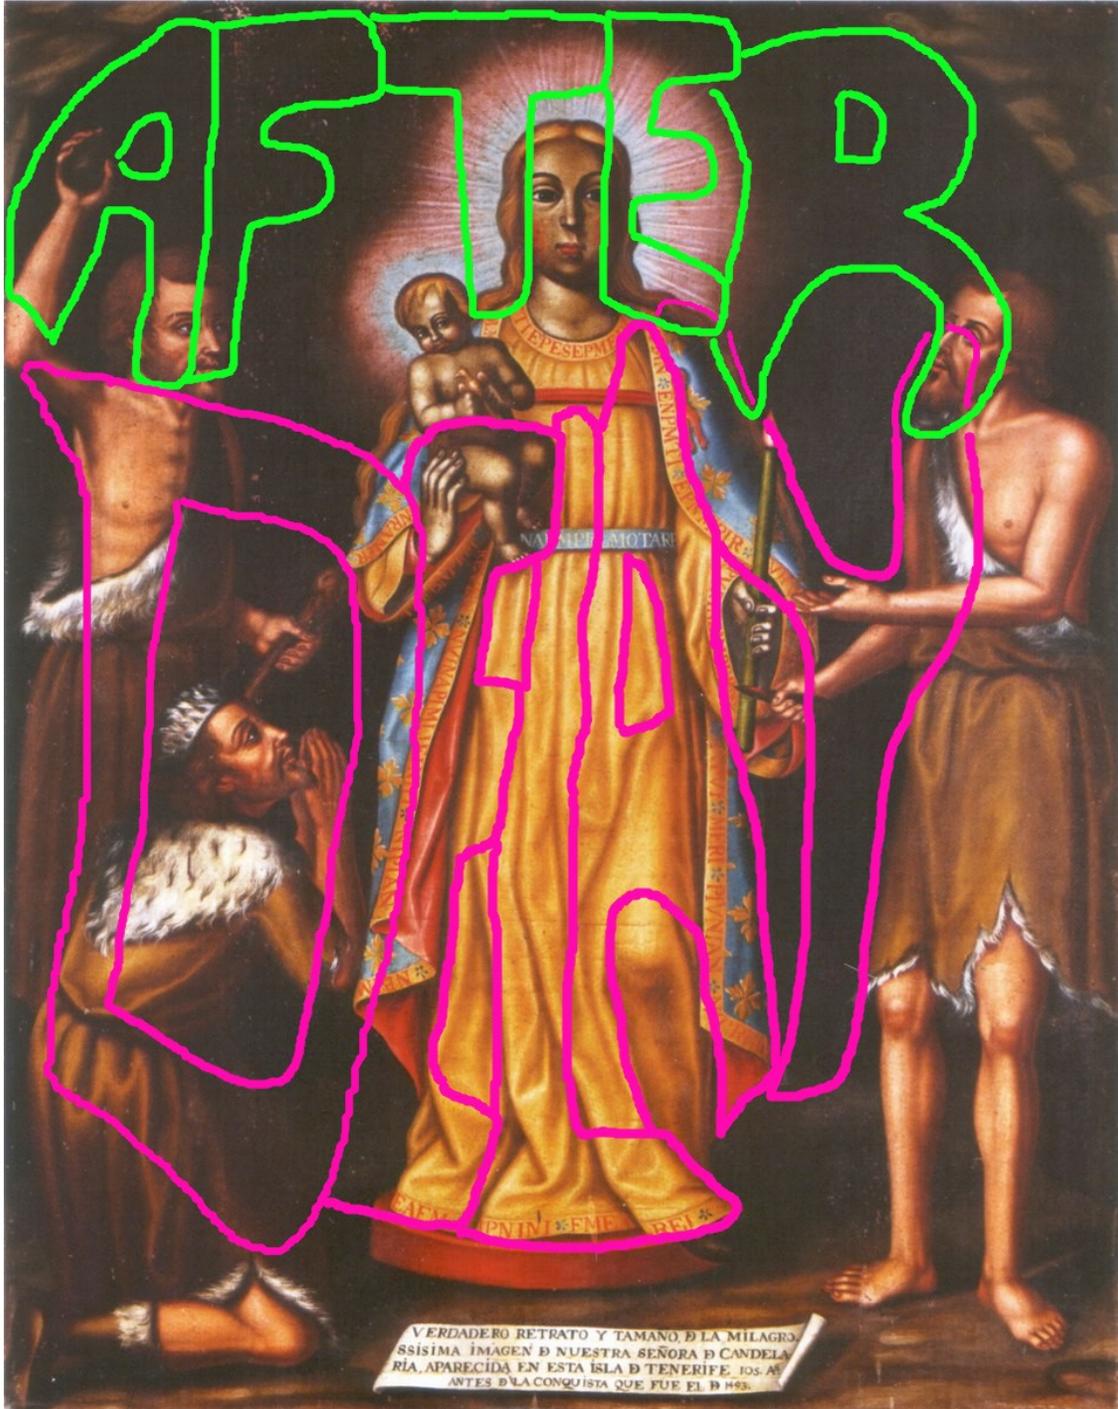

Here are some of ways “Gehenna” is hidden in the image (2 or 3, depending on how you view the subtle differences between the smaller images, left and below).

So, when does i-Satan go to Gehenna? After Delay.

Here, Jesus and/or God, or both, are saying Satan will go to Gehenna after Satan's delayed deception date. Huh? In short, God and the East defeated the US and much of the West in the One Hour War (Jan 7th, 2026, Greg; Dec 25th, 2025 Julian); but i-Satan, with his AI arsenal, is out to make the world believe the US is and the West are fine, strong as ever –until Satan's big media AI deception war. My best guesses about the delayed deception date are: (1) May 3rd, 2026 (Greg); (2) May 3rd, 2026 (Julian); (3) July 1st, 2026 (Greg); (4) July 1st, 2026 (Julian). Thus, Satan will boast he changed God's prophesy –after God gave him power to exist online and do millions of simultaneous functions.
