Don't Pay IRS Penalties

The IRS has over 148 different penalties they can hit you with. And the worst part is that the IRS can also charge interest and additional penalties on the original penalty.

Penalties can be such a high percentage of the total amount owed the IRS; it usually makes sense to consider requesting the IRS reduce the penalties to ZERO before you pay the IRS. But once you have already paid the bill, it cannot hurt to ask for a penalty abatement and refund.

IRS penalties can often be reduced to ZERO if you have a REASONABLE CAUSE. CAUSE, you ask? Well in our experience in negotiations with the IRS, anything may qualify if it is reasonable.

We have had the IRS abate penalties for medical reasons, bad accountants, ignorance of tax laws, ex-spouses, helping to provide care of a loved one, military call-ups, fires, floods, alcoholism, drug abuse, death and even for relying on IRS advice.

File All Legally Required Tax Returns on Time

Many people do not realize that the IRS charges a penalty of up to 25% just for filing your tax return late. That's right, you will get hit with an additional 25% of what you owe if you miss the deadline for filing tax returns. payroll tax returns or corporate tax returns.

We see so many people who could have saved THOUSANDS of dollars on penalties if they knew this one thing. So, in the future no matter what is going on in your life, file all tax returns on time even if you don't send in the money owed on the return.

Yes, of course you will get that ugly letter from the IRS for not sending in the money owed but, so what, you will have avoided a 25% penalty.

What many people do not know is that you can file ANY tax return on time and AVOID the 25% penalty even if you do not send in the money that is owed on the return..

You Don't Have to Talk to The IRS Auditor

As a matter of fact, going or talking to the IRS auditor is the worst thing you can do.

The taxpayer Bill of Rights allows you to be represented by a qualified practitioner who can answer questions for you and provide documentation to the IRS. Many taxpayers attempt to handle their own audit or hire the person who has prepared the tax return to handle it for them.

The reason this usually doesn't work out is because most tax return preparers do not handle with the IRS audits on a daily basis. The IRS can easily intimidate them, which usually results in an unfavorable outcome.

You Can Beat the Odds When Facing an IRS Audit

When it comes to tax audits, the IRS wins the game 80% of the time. Taxpayers are deemed guilty till proven innocent, which means the IRS can start an audit by disallowing every deduction you made on a return until each one is proven to be legitimate. If a taxing authority has decided to audit you, it is important that you do not let yourself be pushed around by the IRS. Additionally, if you do not file your taxes, the IRS may file them for you.

Legal representation for audits vastly improves your chances for successful tax resolution. As the proverb states, “he who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client.” Treat an IRS audit as seriously as you would a murder trial. Would you go to a court without a lawyer?

IRS Audits Can Be Solved Swiftly

The best way to end an IRS audit with a great outcome is to end it at the meeting.

Whenever our firm represents clients in IRS audits, we perform a trial audit in our office before we ever meet with the IRS. This allows us to know which areas need more documentation or answers. When we meet with the IRS (without our client), we can quickly answer the auditor’s questions, provide documentation and get to the bottom line. We always meet the IRS at their office or at ours, but NEVER the client’s.

And if you receive an IRS audit letter in the mail asking you to come in or to call for an appointment—keep in mind Tax Relief Secret #4: You Don’t Have to Talk to an IRS Auditor.

The IRS Cuts Deals

The IRS make deals on taxes owing, including all penalties and interests. Thee requirements are rigid, but if you qualify the results are incredible. To qualify for a deal with the IRS, I would suggest that you owe the IRS at least $20,000 and have very little in the way of equity in assets. Also, you must be using your monthly income to pay your living expenses and not have much or only a small amount left over to pay old taxes.

The IRS cuts these deals to get you back in the system, as a current taxpayer and to collect a few bucks on the old taxes owing. The fine print in these deals requires you to pay on time for the next 5 years If you don't, then the IRS revokes the deal and bills you for the original amount.

The IRS does not make deals on taxes owing, including all penalties and interest.
