

The Lucifer Allowance and How the Pope's Man Jerome (via Predecessors etc. et al and so forth) inserted Lucifer into the text! Really it starts with the Septuagint, and the original Ptolemy Philadelphus, along with the "Seventy-Two", serving the Greek-speaking Egyptian Pharaoh (300 BC), thus creating the 70-LXX? But this is less about a history lesson, and more about why Lucifer doesn't belong in the text at all. There are a few more culprits in the chain of translation skipped here to get to the point. Side Note: Lucifer was really a Catholic Bishop of Cagliari in Sardinia in the 4th century.

There's lots of confusion about what Lucifer is. We are going to settle that today; mere text insertion of Isaiah 14:12 is this Lucero, Lucifer, and commonly feminine...certainly appropriate for Baphomet!

Lucifer is the false name given to the King of Babylon by the Catholic Holy Roman Empire (and preceding friends). I would submit though that the Holy-See's Seer (Chief Translator Jerome) could not see, because the word given for this King of Babylon in the Hebrew text is heylel. הֵיִלֵּל hēylêl, hay-lale

This is a clear modern translation insert (morning star is alternate), but the fallen one is not the morning star. This is a title reserved for Jesus Christ in Revelation 22:16 (2 Peter 1.19, making vs. 20 in this context ultra-ironic). Also the morning star is given early in Revelation 2:28 by Jesus to the Overcomer (nike-noun "THE VICTORY" of nikao-verb overcoming the world in Christ in 1 John 5:4).

Septuagint has הֵיִלֵּל heylel shachar as ἑωσφόρος πρωί ἑωσφόρος (Heōsphóros), from ἑως (Héōs, "dawn") + φέρω (phérō, "to bear, to carry")

Lucifer (not in the text)      πρωί proí, pro-ee'; at dawn
Morning Star the planet venus (not in the text)

Now it doesn't surprise that The Pope of Pagan Pageantry would attempt to change the King of Babylon's name from Heylel to Lucifer, just like the Egyptians and Sanhedrin, etc. What's surprising is apparently every Scholar under the Sun and all the Bible Teachers of Earth have not noticed two blatant sins in the translations. The first is an omission: there is a word that exists in the original manuscripts that does not make it to any of the translations which is How! and in its original Hebrew yalal.

Lucifer has mounted the congregation; how apropos, but the congregation is the MOW-ED Isaiah 14:13; starts in Genesis 1.26.

For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore, it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works. [yep ministers of Satan changed heylel to Lucifer, and King Jimmy was in on it too]

"How are you fallen from heaven! Howl in the morning! For you are fallen down to the ground, O reviler of the nations." (Isaiah 14:12, Lamsa O.T.)

It is quite possible that the Hebrew word "heylel" could indeed have been derived from the word that means "to howl"! Wouldn't that be interesting...?

Satan (really king of Babylon) is most incongruently named Lucifer.

(Isaiah 13:6; 14:31; 15:2-3; 16:7; 23:1, 6, 14; 65:14; Jeremiah 4:8; etc.) For example, Isaiah 65:14 shows people howling "for vexation of spirit". H3213 Howl is used extensively in Isaiah.

1/3rd of the Yalal uses are in Isaiah yet 14:12 is omitted.

Halal or Yalal as the root of Heylel are both plausible, and both apply.

If the word "heylel" derives from the word "halal", THEN the word "heylel" could theoretically have one of these two vastly contrary meanings: Positive or Negative! All based on context of surrounding text.

ProphecyMachine.com

"A Bright One, Worthy of Praise" or "An Arrogant Boaster, A Lunatic Fringe, One who is Mad".

However, the word "heylel" cannot possibly mean "day star", because neither the word "day" nor the word "star" heylel cannot possibly mean "Light-bringer" or "Lucifer", because neither potential root verb in any way implies "bringing" anything, or "carrying" anything!

Light Bringer or Light Bearer is Positive....so duh not right.

It is easy to understand foolishness of Greek Translators & Someone that works for the Pope, but all of Christianity? Gimme-a-break.

HALAL: And he changed his behavior before them, and feigned himself mad HALAL in their hands, and scrabbled on the doors of the gate, and let his spittle fall down upon his beard. 1 Sam 21:13

The Bible calls Jesus Christ "Light Bringer" in 2 Peter 1:19. Satan inspired his own people to insert the word "lucifer" as a name for Satan into Isaiah 14:12. On this matter Satan has deceived "the whole world" (see Revelation 12:9). Satan claimed a name that really belongs to Jesus Christ.

In Essence here would be a right interpretation of Light Bringer [and oh the private interpretation of MAN on Lucifer (Gerome)]

We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shines in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts:

2 Peter 1:20

Knowing this first that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation.

2 Corinthians 11:14

John 1:7 (John the Baptist Bears the Light that Comes)

John 3:19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

John 8:12 Then spoke Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that follows me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

John 9:5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

John 12:46 I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believes on me should not abide in darkness.

And it all goes back to LXX translation, which found six different Hebrew words for "phosphoros" and 15 different Hebrew words for "hypostasis", leading to the →nonsense← that Jesus Christ has a dual nature. Please see my teachings on the Nature of God to work this one out.

Isaiah 14:12 - How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!

In Hebrew:

naphal (to fall) shamayim (heaven)

Heylel* (only one use of this word in scripture - translated here as Lucifer (which is from Jerome...presenting a huge seemingly unnoticed abominable violation of translation to allow that which would bow to the Pope of Paganism Galore), from the primitive root with many meanings, including to shine, to praise, boast, be boastful, to make a fool of, to act madly)

ben (son) shachar (dawn, morning, day)**
ProphecyMachine.com

yalal (to howl, wail, make a howling) - in every reference used negatively in reference to destruction and sorrow, not one bible translation includes this word, even the Hebrew Names Version that is the only one that translates Heylel as Heylel.

gada (to cut, to cut down, to prune) erets (earth, land, ground) chalash (overthrow, decay, weaken)
gowy (nation, heathen, Gentiles, people)

*Bible translators have translated the name of this being in the following ways: "Lucifer, son of the morning",

"Shining star, son of the morning", "morning star, son of the dawn", "day star, son of dawn", "shining morning
