

Ken Carper is a retired music educator and director whose teaching experience spans preschool through graduate-level courses. He is grateful for the outstanding mentors who guided him while earning his bachelor's degree from Berklee College of Music, master's degree from the Eastman School of Music, and PhD from the University of Hawai'i.

Before retiring in 2024, he served for twenty years as music director of the Naples, Florida, New Horizons Band. He remains active in southwest Florida as a trumpet player and occasional director.

Ken is the author of World Music Cultures: An Introduction to Sounds, Instruments, and Musicians from the World's Cultures, published by Kendall Hunt.
