

A Della Waters Archival Mystery

THE TRAVELING ARCHIVIST

Eastern Oregon

Mary B. Hansen is a writer and archivist who understands the power of stories and information to transform lives, including her own. As a writer, Mary uses story to facilitate change and deepen emotion. As an archivist, she sees information, archival and current, as a tool for finding our place in the larger world. Mary is a Certified Archivist with a Master's in Library and Information Science. She is currently focused on writing about archives rather than working in them. She lives and writes in Portland, Oregon with her partner, 2 cats and a very smart Australian Shepherd.

MARY B. HANSEN

mbh@marybhansen.com

www.marybhansen.com

Substack newsletter:

marybhansen.substack.com

Social media: @marybhansen.bsky.social

Book Clubs - Available via Zoom and in person in the Pacific Northwest.

Contact Mary directly at mbh@marybhansen.com

“This clever and inspiring debut is set against the backdrop of the small-town West, where the ghosts of settler colonialism cast long shadows. Della Waters is tenacious and full of heart--an unexpected hero who reminds us how the past speaks to the present through stories and how the truth will always find a way.” —Megan Kruse, author of Call Me Home

Purchase online at Bookshop.org, directly via my website or where ever books are sold.