FSN - An Overview

Family Support Newcastle (FSN) has operated since 1979 to assist families with children in their care.

The service operates within a philosophy of empowerment through participation in decision making. This philosophy informs all aspects of the service. Clients are represented on the Board of Management and are encouraged to participate in decision making about the service.

We strive to be open and accountable at all levels. We encourage families to ask questions about the running of the service and to contribute their ideas.

This philosophy also influences the process of decision-making and model of leadership. It involves consultation, honesty, vulnerability, openness and reciprocity between families and workers and between staff members.

We are strongly influenced by feminist thinking that recognises an imbalance of power between men and women. This has resulted from oppressive social structures that force men and women into particular roles. These roles result in men having the public and influential voice, and women the domestic voice. These positions are false and antagonistic. The objectification of women and gendered violence are two significant and harmful outcomes. Both men and women have much to gain from addressing this inequality.

We note that for Aboriginal men and women, this intersects with the impact of colonisation in separating Aboriginal people from their lore, language and culture. The cultural oppression has disempowered both men and women.

The organisation currently operates six projects from two locations in the Newcastle area. We receive approximately $1.8m in funding from Federal and State funding providers. Services that we provide include domestic violence services, specific services for fathers and as well as services for families with children.

Over the past 20 years we have actively worked to improve our ability to provide culturally appropriate and effective services to Aboriginal families. We recognise that we are still in the early stages of the journey.

Our Mission

Family Support Newcastle promotes healthy, resilient children and young people growing in flourishing families in just and strong communities.

We contribute by providing services which promote the well-being of children and their families, individuals, and communities. We particularly aim to reach those who experience ongoing hardship.

We provide services that include:

- Counselling and individual assistance either in the home or at a centre
- Support to families, with a child centred focus
- Therapeutic group programs with associated child development activities
- Supported playtime activities
- Support to women leaving domestic violence.

We aim to work in ways that are mutually beneficial to families, staff and the whole community and that encourage participation of families and staff in decision making. Our work is built on a strong social justice foundation.

Our Values

The safety and wellbeing of children and families are at the centre of everything we do

Integrity

Justice

Diversity

Generosity

Our commitment to Aboriginal People

We acknowledge the history of invasion and subsequent colonisation of this country and the impact this has had on its peoples.

We acknowledge that this is, always has been, and always will be Aboriginal land.

Our commitment is to:

- Provide a respectful, safe and welcoming environment for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.
- Provide services appropriate to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in consultation with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and Aboriginal agencies.
- Proudly and visibly support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander rights and openly challenge racism in ourselves and others.
- Develop Aboriginal cultural competence.
- Respectfully learn from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, recognising that this is a life long journey.

We have processes in place to regularly and openly measure and review our effectiveness in implementing this commitment.
