

Gaia/Earth's Imminent Transformation

Earth's Imminent Transformation

Most planets, like Earth, have a sentient Being at their inner core. Planets are the physical vessels through which the different races of Planetary Beings of the Universe are able to incarnate into the physical realm. Their spiritual journeys are far more complex than ours and often span billions of years. Gaia, the sentient Being of planet Earth, is in the process of taking her next step of spiritual evolution, which involves a transition of the entire planet into the 5th dimension. Normally, a planet as old as Earth (4.54 billion years) would have already lost its ability to support Life and would be barren like Mars. And so, this kind of transition event would normally be uneventful in regards to how Planetary Beings spiritually evolve. But, Earth's situation is extremely rare because not only is abundant Life still here, there is also sentient Beings like us who occasionally have been known to exhibit higher levels of consciousness. This poses a concern for Gaia on how she can protect all of us during her spiritual transformation. This was foreseen billions of years ago. Gaia's intention all along has been to take the sentient beings, who were ready and willing, along with her on the next step of her spiritual journey. Such a noble and loving undertaking by a Planetary Being has never happened before. All of the Cosmos has been watching in anticipation of this grand and beautiful "Event" that is about to unfold. Right now, Earth is a focal point of the Universe.

Unfortunately, however, many people on our planet are not ready for "The Event," also called "The Wave," or "Rapture" (Bible). For these people, the transition will not go well. Their spirit and bodies cannot harbor the huge amount of light and love that are about to be flooded upon Earth. Gaia has already postponed her transition several times to give us the opportunity to get ready, but many of us are still not ready, and she can no longer wait because it's harming her own spiritual growth.

A clarion call for help had already been sent out into the Cosmos. Billions of souls from around the Universe have answered, especially lately. I estimate that 75% of the souls here on Earth are not from Earth. That is about 5.25 billion people, many of whom are Starseeds. Many of these souls are either here to help or simply to observe "The Event" and catch a ride on the wave to 5th dimensional reality. Just the presence of so many Starseeds here on Earth has already raised mankind's vibrational level, and in doing so, it is assisting Gaia in her transformation. Earth is an exciting place to be right now and there are billions of souls from different star systems looking for an opportunity to be here.

Are you a Starseed?

I don't think anyone who is whole heartedly following a spiritual path has much to worry about with this upcoming transition event. After all, you probably already have some familiarity with the 5th dimensional realm. Right? Accessing the Akashic records, communicating with Angels or your Higher Self, using your inherent psychic abilities, and meditation, are all facets of the fifth dimension. I also know that for such people, the transition to the fifth dimensional realm will be easier than remaining here and trying to escape all the physical changes that may happen to Earth's third dimensional ghost left behind, which may include global-wide catastrophes.

Regarding the time frame for Earth's transition event, this is difficult to predict because it is constantly changing. Mankind may take a step backwards, delaying "The Event," but then, turns around and takes two steps forward, accelerating the whole transition process. I'm predicting the year 2026. However, things have already changed in a good way and it is no longer necessary for Earth to undergo the degree of cataclysmic changes like that which was first envisioned for Earth if her transformation had happened in the early-1970s.

Seraphim Blueprint

History

God has always been aware of Gaia's upcoming transition "Event" and the difficulties that lie ahead for Mankind. So, about thirteen thousand years ago, God sent thirteen Seraphim Angels to oversee and smooth out Earth's transition "Event." In service, one of their most important accomplishments was to create and place into the ethers that surround Earth a cosmological system of Seraphic energies for mankind that would help us through Earth's transformation and promote our well-being and spiritual growth.

Atlantean priests were the first to cognize and teach this Seraphic system of energies. Then, early Hebrews re-cognized these energies and created the Kabbalah. In modern times, the energies resurfaced in 1994 when one of the original Seraphim contacted Ruth Rendely, a meditation instructor. Today, this cosmological system of Seraphic energies is known as the Seraphim Blueprint.

Are you and your family ready for Earth's imminent transformation?

The Seraphim Blueprint is a series of energetic downloads (Angelic software) that are received into the body, then they either work in the background to heal you, or are actively invoked through our intention to switch them on. The energies are given to individuals in simple, relaxed, day-long workshops and are extremely easy to use. They form a sequence, organized into six Levels (I - VI), that build upon each other to expand and develop our bodies and our consciousness as we progress through the system.

The Seraphic energies are safe and intelligent because they automatically are tailored to each person's unique life situation and physiology. They work on all levels of our physical, emotional, and mental bodies to promote our spiritual growth.

In my opinion, the Seraphim Blueprint is one of the most important spiritual practices that you can undertake. It provides the spiritual tools we need in preparing for Earth's imminent transformation and helping us thrive in our ever increasingly complex civilization.

The Seraphim Blueprint was created to promote our well-being and spiritual growth.
