You see, I was a personal trainer for over 16 years. Many clients asked my advice about the best beer to drink. They wanted a beer that tasted great but didn't compromise their physical training or their healthy eating habits.

I became disillusioned with light beer due to the non-organic ingredients which they refer to as adjuncts such as GMO Corn, GMO Rice, and GMO High Fructose Corn Syrup. The same ingredients found in fast food. I actually refer to adjunct light beers as "fast food beer." I looked everywhere, but could not find a great tasting, light, organic beer. There simply were none. So I decided to make my own.
