EXECUTIVE OVERVIEW

Executive Overview

Red Zorix operates as a commercial trading house within the United Arab Emirates' commodity trading sector, purchasing, selling, sourcing, and supplying commodities across international markets on behalf of its own trading book and in coordination with qualified commercial counterparties.

The company's activity centres on the disciplined execution of commodity transactions — identifying commercial opportunity, verifying counterparties, structuring transactions in line with accepted international trade instruments, and coordinating the documentary, logistical, and financial elements required to bring a transaction to completion. This approach reflects a transaction management model built around commercial integrity, transparency, and consistent process discipline.

Red Zorix maintains working relationships with counterparties across the GCC, Central Asia, and Asia-Pacific on the supply side, and with buyers across Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and Africa. These relationships are developed and maintained on the basis of responsiveness, clear communication, and adherence to the documentation standards expected in international commodity trade.

OPERATING PRINCIPLES

Commercial Integrity

Transactions are structured and represented accurately to all counterparties at every stage.

Transparent Practice

Clear terms, clear documentation, and clear communication throughout the trading cycle.

Long-Term Relationships

Counterparty relationships are approached as ongoing commercial partnerships, not single trades.

Red Zorix Oil Trading LLC acts as a principal in its trading activity — as buyer, seller, or supplier depending on the transaction — and does not claim ownership of refineries, oil fields, or production facilities, nor exclusive producer mandates.

PORTFOLIO APPROACH

Commodity selection is driven by market opportunity and counterparty requirement rather than a fixed product list. This allows Red Zorix to structure transactions around the specific grade, specification, and volume requirements presented by a buyer or supplier, subject to standard qualification and verification procedures.

Product specifications, quantities, and delivery terms are confirmed on a transaction basis and set out in the relevant commercial documentation (LOI / ICPO / FCO / SPA).

DOCUMENT	PURPOSE
LOI	Letter of Intent — a buyer's preliminary written expression of intent to purchase.
ICPO	Irrevocable Corporate Purchase Order — a formal, binding purchase order issued by the buyer.
FCO	Full Corporate Offer — a formal offer issued by the seller setting out product, price, and terms.
SPA	Sale and Purchase Agreement — the governing contract between buyer and seller.

Certificate of Origin	Document certifying the country in which the goods were produced.
Bill of Lading	The shipping document evidencing receipt of cargo and title to the goods.
SGS Inspection Documentation	Independent quantity and quality inspection reports issued by a recognised inspection agency.

The specific documentation required for a given transaction depends on the commodity, delivery terms, and the requirements of the counterparties and their respective banking institutions.

TRADE FINANCE

Trade Finance & Transaction Structure

Commodity transactions of the type Red Zorix engages in are structured around recognised documentary and bank-supported payment mechanisms, coordinated between the commercial terms agreed by the parties and the requirements of their respective banking institutions.

PAYMENT & INSTRUMENT STRUCTURES

- ◆ Letter of Credit structures — documentary credits issued and confirmed through the buyer's and seller's banks, structured against the shipping and inspection documentation specified in the contract.
- ◆ Documentary transactions — payment released against presentation of conforming trade documents rather than on open account.
- ◆ Bank-supported payment mechanisms — instruments such as SBLCs, DLCs, and other bank-issued undertakings used to secure performance and payment obligations.
- ◆ Coordination with financial institutions — direct liaison between Red Zorix, the counterparty, and the relevant banks to align instrument wording, timing, and documentary requirements.

ALIGNMENT OF REQUIREMENTS

A significant part of transaction structuring lies in aligning the buyer's payment instrument, the seller's delivery obligations, and each bank's documentary requirements before contract signature — reducing the risk of discrepancy at the documentary stage. Red Zorix coordinates this alignment as part of its standard transaction process, working alongside counterparties' banking relationships and, where relevant, its own.

DUE DILIGENCE

Due Diligence & Compliance

Red Zorix applies a consistent due diligence approach to its commercial relationships, reflecting the compliance expectations of international commodity trade and of the banking institutions involved in supporting transactions.

KYC Procedures

Counterparties are asked to provide standard know-your-customer documentation prior to entering into commercial discussions of substance.

Counterparty Verification

Counterparty identity and standing are checked against the documentation provided before commercial terms are finalised.

Corporate Documentation Review

Trade licences, certificates of incorporation, and authorised signatory documentation are reviewed as part of onboarding.

Commercial Validation

Proposed transactions are reviewed for commercial coherence — specification, quantity, pricing, and delivery terms — before proceeding to contract.

COMPLIANCE CONSIDERATIONS

Transactions are reviewed with regard to applicable sanctions, export control, and anti-money-laundering considerations relevant to the counterparties, commodities, and jurisdictions involved. Red Zorix expects the same standard of documentary transparency from its counterparties that it applies to its own dealings.

RESPONSIBLE BUSINESS PRACTICES

Due diligence is treated as a continuing part of the relationship rather than a one-time step at onboarding, with documentation reviewed and refreshed as transactions progress.

COUNTERPARTY VERIFICATION

Counterparty Verification

Before entering into a commercial commitment, Red Zorix undertakes a structured verification process for each counterparty, whether acting as buyer or supplier in the transaction.

1

Corporate Identity Confirmation

Trade licence, certificate of incorporation, and registration details are confirmed against the issuing authority.

2

Authorised Representative Verification

The signatory's authority to represent and bind the counterparty is confirmed.

3

Banking Reference Review

Banking details are reviewed to confirm the counterparty's financial standing is consistent with the proposed transaction.

4

Ongoing Monitoring

Verification is revisited where transaction size, structure, or counterparty circumstances change materially.

Counterparty verification is applied consistently across both supply-side and buyer-side relationships, and forms a precondition to contract execution.
