Approved by the SAA Board of Directors (February 2022) – REVIEWED May 2023

CHILD ABUSE PROTOCOL

The Child and Family Services Act (Section 12, Subsection 1 and 4) states that every person who has reasonable suspicion to believe that a child may be in need of protection shall report the information to a child protection worker, Ministry of Social Services, First Nations Child and Family Services Agency or Police Officer.

Further information regarding the Saskatchewan Child Abuse Protocol or Child Protection Services can be found at the Saskatchewan Social Services Website.
